Woman, Girl Victims Are Identified

Husband, Baby Earlier Located Slain, Buried

BALTIMORE (AP)—The bodies of a young woman and a small girl found in a shallow grave near Annapolis Saturday night were identified as members of a missing Virginia family.

Dr. Russell S. Fisher, chief medical examiner of Maryland, said "there is no question" that the bodies were those of Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and her daughter Susan Ann Jackson, 4.

The bodies of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, and a daughter Janet, 1½, were found buried March 5 in a sawdust mound near Fredericksburg, Va. Jackson had been beaten and shot to death.

BOYS FIND GRAVE

The family disappeared Jan. 11 from their home in Louisa County, Va., about 30 miles west of Richmond, and had been the objective of an extensive search.

Jackson and his family disappeared as they drove home from a visit with relatives. Their abandoned car was found the next day, eight miles from their home.

Saturday, two boys, John Bolin, 14, and John Paddy, 13 of Gambrills, Md., came upon the shallow grave containing the mother and child about eight miles west of Annapolis.

The Baltimore City Morgue said the bodies were identified through clothing, rings, and other articles found on the bodies and in the grave.

A nylon stocking was tied around Mrs. Jackson's neck.

The exact cause of her death and that of the youngster was not immediately determined.

Two Fredericksburg men searching for sawdust in Spotsylvania County, Va., two miles west of Fredericksburg, uncovered the bodies of the father and the baby.

A Virginia State Police official said at the time it was possible Jackson was beaten and shot to death while cradling his youngest daughter in his bound arms, then pitched forward on the top of the child.

FATE OF LAMA UNKNOWN

300,000 Tibetan Tribesmen Battle Chinese In Revolt

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—Thousands of Tibetans were battling their Chinese Communist masters in the sacred city of Lhasa in the Himalayas Saturday, and the Chinese were using artillery and automatic weapons to try to smash this new "Hungary," reports reaching here said.

About 300,000 Tibetans were reported up in arms.

The fate of the Dalai Lama, god and king to the Tibetan people, was unknown. The revolt, fanned by tough Khamba tribesmen, apparently was touched off when the Chinese commander ordered the Dalai Lama to appear before him, without his bodyguards. Some reports said the Dalai Lama had been seized and flown to Peiping. Others said he was killed or kidnaped by the Reds.

The remoteness of the capital city on the "roof of the world" and the rugged mountains and primitive methods of communication shrouded details of the revolt.

Fighting began last week with the order for the Dalai Lama to appear before the Red Chinese leader. His mother at his Potala palace broke into tears and wailing. Loyal Tibetans, chafing under almost eight years of Red rule in the "autonomous region" leaped to the cause.

Rebel Khamba tribesmen, who have been battling the Reds with hit-run guerrilla tactics for two years, began marching on Lhasa for the showdown.

Fighting erupted in the streets as it did in 1958 in Budapest.

Reports said the battle raged

Spring Makes Debut; Cold, Snow Linger

Freeze Forecast In Many Areas Over Nation

By UPI

Spring stumbled in Saturday like a crazy, mixed-up kid.

The Equinox assured it a place on the calendar but zero temperatures in the northern plains, cold wave warnings in the eastern Great Lakes and the high-drifted remains of a near blizzard in the midlands gave it a doubtful welcome.

Scattered rains washed the South and the eastern seaboard and threatened floods in already-drenched Florida, the Sunshine State.

COLD ON WAY

New York City had its second day of summer-like weather with temperatures in the 60's. The first sightseeing boat of the season started around Manhattan Island and "recreational stargazing" was scheduled Saturday night at Jones Beach.

A cold wave with threat of snow flurries and locally heavy squalls was bearing down on western New York state and western Pennsylvania. It was ex-

During surgery the child's body temperature was lowered by a rubber "ice blanket" and functions of her heart and lungs were taken over by a mechanical device for 70 minutes. (AP Wirephoto)

Freeze Plan For Troops Is Discussed

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed Saturday on a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. They then discussed Britain's proposal to "freeze" Communist and Western forces along the iron curtain.

These were the highlights of the second day at the Camp David cold war strategy talks between Eisenhower and Macmillan.

The two free world leaders agreed to go to the summit with Khrushchev in July or August.

DISCUSS PLAN

The conference would be conditioned, however, on results of a preliminary foreign ministers meeting to be held in Geneva in May, aimed at solving the Berlin crisis. Khrushchev has agreed that Russia will attend this meeting.

After the Anglo-American summit accord was reached the British laid out their plan to clamp a ceiling on weapons and forces on both sides of the iron curtain. This would freeze East - West strength at about present levels. The British would like this plan carried to the May meeting of Big Four foreign ministers in Geneva, then later to the summit.

Spokesmen for Eisenhower declined to say how he received the British proposal.

Their afternoon meeting also touched on plans for Allied action should Russia precipitate actual fighting over the Berlin crisis.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and Macmillan's spokesman, Peter Hope of the British Foreign Office, said the British and Americans agree there should be no "radical thinning out" of Allied forces in Europe.

The "freeze" plan was one of Macmillan's pet projects which he brought to this country to commend to the President.

The leaders dined together in the President's aspen cottage at the White House retreat while these other developments were

PLANS ANNOUNCED

Holy Week Rites Scheduled Here

Churches in the Monroe-West Monroe area prepared to observe Holy Week — the days preceding Easter Sunday with services commemorating the Crucifixion and Resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Jewish Feast of the Passover, usually celebrated near the Christian Easter season, will fall upon April 23 this year because of leap year on the Jewish calendar, according to Rabbi Jacob Lantz of Temple B'Nai Israel.

There will be an interdenominational service for the downtown Monroe churches daily from 12:05-12:30 noon with the First Baptist Church serving as host. Rev. John O. Stewart, Dr. Ben Oliphint, Rev. V. H. Headrick, Dr. George Pomeroy and Dr. W. H. McFadden will deliver the sermons for the five-day period.

PRESBYTERIANS

Presbyterian churches of the area have scheduled services throughout the Easter week. At the First Presbyterian Church, Grammont at Catalpa in Monroe, "Jesus or Barabbas" will be the Legend

With Palm Sunday being observed today, the "Legend of the Dogwood" is not amiss when repeated.

This column has been asked to give this classic, the author of whom is unknown.

The Legend is as follows:

At the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood attained the size of the oak and other forest trees. So strong and firm was the wood it was chosen as timber for the cross.

To be thus used for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree. Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this in His gentle pity for all sorrow, and said to it: "Because of your regret and pity for My suffering, I make you this promise: Never again shall the Dogwood tree grown large enough to be used for a Cross. Henceforth it shall be in the form of a cross - two long and two short petals.

"And in the center of the outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints. And in the center of the flower, brown

Shopping Center Contract To Be Signed Monday

Contracts will be signed Monday at 1:30 p.m. for the construction of Gus Primos Shopping Center on Louisville Avenue, according to Gus Primos.

The 96,000 square feet in the shopping center will accomodate a variety of business operations including large super market, ten cent store, drug store, cafeteria, ready to wear store, and a service station, all of which have signed contracts already.

It is expected that construction will began shortly after the contract is signed Monday.

Fall Claims Life Of R. Prichard

R. L. (Dick) Prichard, 66-year-old retired superintendent of the Tensas Basin Levee District, was found dead early yesterday at his home here.

Ouachita Parish Coroner Dr. John P. Burton said Prichard had apparently been in bad health and attributed death to a fall.

The Harrisonburg native veteran of World War I and a member of the local masonic lodge.

Rites will be at 10 a.m. Monday from Mulhearn Funeral Chapel conducte by Dr. Ernest Holloway. Burial will be in the Old City Cemetery with graveside masonic services.

Slain Baby Girl Found In Ditch

KOLINE, La. (AP) — Children playing in a ditch Saturday found the body of a slain baby girl wrapped in a blanket where it apparently was thrown three days earlier.

Dr. Walter Murrel, Rapides Parish coroner, said the white infant died of a fractured skull.

He termed it a "senseless, cruel, inhumane murder — one of the worst crimes we have had in a long time."

Legless Vet Is Trapped 24 Hours

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP) —A 28-year-old Marshalltown man who lost use of both legs in the Korean War spent 24 harrowing hours in his specially equipped car before he was rescued late Saturday from a snowbank in Marshalltown's Riverside Cemetery.

Willis (Bud) Edel, a paraplegic, took a ride Friday afternoon and drove into a road along the north end of the cemetery to look down on the Iowa River which was swollen with snow runoff from recent storms.

"I guess I was looking down and not ahead," he said.

His car slid into a three-foot snowbank and became hopelessly mired.

Only a block away traffic moved on busy Highway 14, but no one saw Edel's plight.

Edel tried everything he could to maneuver the car out of the snow but couldn't budge it.

He thought of lifting his wheel chair out in the snow so he could get out of the car but was afraid he would fall over the cliff

Edel yelled for help and kept on yelling. In the stillness of the cemetery and the noise of the highway traffic no one answered.

Darkness came. Edel kept turning his car lights on and off to attract attention. No one saw him.

The temperature dropped to about 20 degrees. Edel was low on gas and turned the engine on and off to keep warm. He tried to sleep intermittently.

Morning came but no help came with it.

Colder Weather Expected Here

Colder weather is expected in the Twin Cities area today as Spring officially enters the second day. Clear skies are forecast.

Yesterday's readings were 62-50, compared with Friday's high and low of 68-56.

Ocean Search For Missile Cone Pressed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—A snub-nosed Thor roared off on a 1,600 mile flight Saturday night while a recovery force prepared to resume searching for a futuristic nose cone shot three times that distance earlier in the day.

The intermediate range Thor, the same rocket used to hurl the "bottle - neck" nose cone 5,000 miles down range before dawn Saturday, was fired at 7:58 p.m. EST.

No attempt to pick up the Thor's warhead protector was planned. The Air Force already has solved the problem of shielding from atmospheric friction nose cones fired on intermediate range hops.

SEARCH READY

But it was learned that recovery ships were ready to begin scouring the ocean near Ascension Island Sunday for the Thor-Able cone fired at 1:19 a.m. EST Saturday.

The little cone, shaped like the neck and shoulders of a soft-drink bottle was fired in a test aimed at developing lightweight warhead protectors for ICBM's of the future.

Informed sources said the search force received no signals from the cone's recovery package.

These sources said the searchers hoped to spot the bright orange balloon which was supposed to inflate and suspend the nose 15 feet below the ocean's surface.

It appeared possible, however, that the balloon did not inflate and that the cone sank to the ocean floor.

Negro Man Dies Of Stab Wound

An arguement between a Negro couple early Saturday morning was abruptly ended with a nine and a half inch knife blade through the heart of Willie James Bowden, 30, 806 South 17 St. He died shortly after the stabbing at Charity hospital.

Police Chief James C. Kelly Jr. said Claudene Smith, 20, 113 Short Coleman, West Monroe, who allegedly stabbed Bowden, was charged with his murder and placed in the parish jail.

According to Kelly, Bowden was at the driver's seat of a car with the Smith woman sitting at his right at about 12:30 a.m. yesterday on the Winnsboro Road near Berg Jones Lane.

The pair were arguing, Kelly said, and suddenly the woman reportedly rammed the knife through the left side of Bowden's chest.

Dr. John P. Burton, parish coronor, stated the Negro died of a knife wound in the heart. A Ruston funeral home will handle burial arrangements.

Appeal Planned In Duncan Case

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) — Counsel for Elizabeth Duncan, sentenced to death for hiring two men to kill her pregnant daughter-in-law, was determined Saturday to take "miscarriage of justice" to the highest court in the land.

S. Ward Sullivan, defender of the much-married 54-year-old matron, said after a jury decreed the death penalty Friday night: "This is the clearest case of miscarriage of justice that I have ever tried in more than 30 years as a lawyer. There are more glaring errors in this case than in any case I have ever tried."

For the state, Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson was satisfied.

"I think it's a proper verdict . . . a just verdict," said the prosecutor who got a first-degree murder conviction from the same jury of eight women and four men which set the penalty at death in California's lethal gas chamber at San Quentin.

SON CRITICAL

Frank Duncan, 30-year-old attorney-son of Mrs. Duncan, said, "it was horribly unfair. There is no question that political ambition was involved in this. He (Gustafson) intends to climb to a higher position over the body of my mother."

Attorneys for both sides stipulated, for the moment, that there would be no third trial before the jury on the question of Mrs. Duncan's mental state—as provided

Scots Angrily Vow Loch Ness Monster Real

INVERNESS, Scotland (AP) — Scotland clutched the Loch Ness monster to its bosom Saturday and snapped back at an Italian newsman who said he invented the thing 26 years ago.

Highlanders were as indignant as if Francesco Gas parini had claimed he had invented Scotch whisky.

"The man is talking rot," exploded John MacGillivray, 83, a pro-monster man from way back. "The monster was in the Loch before I was born."

The protests echoed over the hills and glens around the somber stretch of water

'Golf Ball' Hail Falls In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A severe thunderstorm with hail the size of golf balls hit nearby Leeds late Saturday, the U. S. Weather Bureau here reported.

The bureau said the hail fell to a depth of 2-3 inches at Leeds, while smaller hail was reported at suburban Homewood south of here. No damage was reported, the bureau said, other than a few power lines knocked down apparently by lightning in Birmingham.

Monroe-Tulane Conference On Schedule Today

Over 100 residents of the Monroe area are expected to attend the fifth annual Monroe-Tulane University Community Conferences scheduled for noon today at the Frances Hotel, according to Dr. J. Claude Earnest, conference chairman.

Outstanding Monroe business and civic leaders will join with Tulane faculty and staff members at a luncheon and six panel sessions which begin at 2:30 p.m.

"Hypnosis in Medicine," the first of three panels scheduled for the afternoon series, will be moderated by Dr. Stanley R. Mintz, Monroe physician. Speakers for this panel will be Drs. Mayo Emory and George Sustendal of the Tulane school of medicine. Both doctors have had several years experience using hypnosis as a means of relieving pain during operations and childbirth and as a remedy for certain forms of emotional disorders.

Dr. George T. Walker, president of Northeast Louisiana State College, will direct a discussion on the current Tulane-National Georgraphic Society expedition being conducted in Yucatan. Dr. Robert L. IN NEW ORLEANS

Probers Discover 'Lone Wolf' Racket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators have run across a group of do-it-yourself gangsters who were tough enough to take over juke box operations without help from labor racketeers.

Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy told newsmen Saturday the Senate rackets committee discovered this rare example of underworld "lone wolfmanship" in New Orleans.

He said the committee would explore into the matter Monday when it resumes its long-playing juke box investigation with tales from three cities — New Orleans, Los Angeles and Miami.

In previous hearings on juke box racketeering in New York and Chicago, the committee developed a pattern in which mobsters worked in cahoots with union officials and trade associations to control coin machine operations.

But in New Orleans, Kennedy said, the mob used a different approach, by - passing unions and operators alike to muscle in on the business.

He said the new hearings, expected to last three days, would show how the underworld has penetrated "in depth" into the juke box, pinball and vending machine business in every section of the country.

One of the chief New Orleans witnesses will be Carlos Marcello, identified by the old Senate Crime Committee as the southern anchor man of a nationwide gambling syndicate headed by New York's Frank Costello.

IN PLUSH DALLAS HOME

Ired Man Destroys $50,000 Antiques

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Police said Saturday that antiques worth $50,000 were left in a shambles Friday night in a plush Dallas mansion.

They filed charges of malicious destruction of private property against Virgil Stamps Putnam, 38. The destruction occurred at the residence of his estranged wife, Edith Knight Putnam. The man was jailed.

Detective T. J. Taylor said the lower floor of the 13-room mansion was a shambles. Valuable furnishings destroyed included several expensive paintings.

Mrs. Putnam said she owned the home and all its furnishings before she married her husband. She said her estranged husband had called and wanted to pick up the little girl. She refused, and took the child to a nursing home which she owns.

Expensive items ruined included a painting valued at $6,000, a 300 - year - old portrait of the Countess of Sunderland; a $1,200 set of china; a $750 floor lamp; and a set of wine glasses worth $35 per glass. The estimates were made by officers.

Mrs. Putnam said divorce proceedings had been under way since before Christmas.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Harold Edward Stassen has lowered his sights somewhat a nd comes up now as a Republican candidaet for mayor of Philadelphia.

Stassen was governor of his native Minnesota 20 years ago and thereafter three times a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Politics, like truth, is stranger than fiction. Stassen proves that. He will be 52 years of age on April 13, a youngish man still but old politically before his time.

If Stassen fails this time in his move for the mayoralty, your correspondent and others would not be astonished if he tried to seize a lower rung of the political ladder, county attorney maybe, municipal judge or councilman.

Firmly fixed in Stassen's big, blond head is the idea that he will, one day, be nominated and elected president of the United States. Others have had that idea before him and failed. Few, however, have pursued the rainbow with greater enthusiasm. Three times elected governor of Minnesota, Stassen resigned with most of a third term still to serve.

He resigned for naval service, 1943-45 in World War II. Stassen's service was distinguished administratively and in combat.

The young governor has identified himself with the maverick, unbranded elements of the Republican Party in 1940 when he floor-managed the national convention forces which licked the party regulars and made the late Wendell L. Willkie the Republican presidential nominee.

In 1944, aged 37, Stassen was a candidate for the nomination himself and again in 1948 and 1952. His great decision, however, was that which shifted his voting residence from Minnesota to the East where in 1948 he became president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania is a big, industral state, a power in the Republican Party which Minnesota is not. Stassen's purpose in making Pennsylvania his base of political operations was clear, reasonable and hazardous. The hazard was that the Pennsylvania regulars would not accept him and they did not.

Satssen did not figure much in the Republican politics of 1951-52 which was centered largely on draft-Ike, stop-Taft maneuvers. Appointive office in and about the White House and the State Department after 1952 failed to provide Stassen with the political springboard and identity which he craved and needed.

He achieved that identity in 1955-56, however, by heading up the public operation designed to prevent Vice President Richard M. Nixon from succeeding President Eisenhower in the White House or of being renominated if Eisenhower ran again. Stassen took a bruising beating on that one.

Last year Stassen bid for Pennsylvania's gubernatorial nomination. Pennsylvania's party leaders cut him down; chose, instead, a political unknown named Arthur T. McGonigle. The Democrats all but ran the Republicans out of the state on election day. That was Stassen's good luck. If he can now be elected mayor of Philadelphia, the man from Minnesota will be on his away again and the party leaders will be tipping their hats.

Court Rules Out Closing Of Firm With Cash Loss

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A Milwaukee judge has ruled that Mrs. Flora Ellinger, 96, a millionairess and an inventor, can continue to operate her tool and die-making firm despite the fact that it is losing money.

Counsel for Mrs. Ellinger appeared with Mrs. Ellinger before County Judge Roy R. Stauff to oppose a move by a Milwaukee bank, named the woman's conservator, to have the business discontinued because it has been operating at a loss.

The attorney, Edward H. Borgelt, told the judge that Mrs. Ellinger's business is her only remaining tie with the past and that she always has had a shop in which to create. She has 32 patents on inventions, mostly on household goods, and still goes frequently to the shop despite the fact that she is in a wheel chair.

Judge Stauff ruled that Mrs. Ellinger could continue to operate the business, contending that it is her money that is being lost.

HUSBANDS GET BREAK

Maxim's To Open School For Brides

NEW YORK (UPI)—Just-married husbands no longer need fear the traditional "bride's biscuits." Now a girl can whip up "bisquit de savoie" with the best of French gourmets.

She can, that is, if she has the money and time to attend Maxim's academy.

The famous restaurant plans to open an international school for brides June 22. The course, available for three or five weeks, will include art appreciation and the arts of cooking (in Maxim's kitchens), grooming, choosing wines (complete with taste tests), and entertaining (from making conversation to avoiding a faux pas).

"It will be a digest of Paris, a key to the city's true spirit. A girl will have the feeling she's lived in Paris for years," said Maggie Vaudable, pert and pretty wife of Maxim's owner, Louis Vaudable.

Matrons and college girls as well as brides will be admitted to the sessions, which will be held year-round except in August and from Christmas to March 1.

"Nobody is in Paris then," Mrs. Vaudable explained during a trip to the United States.

About 25 students will be admitted per session. Registration from the United States will be limited to about 15 persons.

The five-week course will cost $800 for tuition, lunch, and all transportation and expenses incurred during classes. It will not cover transportations to Paris or accommodations. But Mrs. Vaudable has lined up French families who will board students for $160 a month, including breakfast. The three-week session costs $600, with lodgings and proportionately reduced.

During the course, students will do the normal round of sight-seeing and visit antique shops, museums, Versailles, including apartments not open to the general public, the champagne caves of Rheims and "THE couturier of the season, depending on his success."

"The professors" will be leading socialite hostesses of Paris, such as the Comtesse de Toulouse Lautrec, Madame Gisele d'Assailly and the Baronne Monique de Nervo.

Did the idea spring from any culinary failures in her newlywed days?

Mrs. Vaudable, a wife of nearly 18 years, looked aghast.

"I don't know how to cook. Before I was married, I had servants. Now I have Maxim's," she said.

AT WHITE HOUSE

Goodby, Harold Goodby, 'Ike'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

It will be "goodby, Harold" and "Goodby, Mr. President" when British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan takes his leave of President Eisenhower today or Tuesday.

Eisenhower always calls his old friend by his first name. But when anyone else is within earshot, the British leader always addresses the President by his formal title.

Essentially, this is because Eisenhower is a head of state; Macmillan a head of government. In the world of international protocol the President outranks the prime minister because Macmillan's theoretical boss is the Queen.

It could be that when the two are alone, Macmillan calls the Catoctin Mountains may lead to eavesdropping, there's no sure way of telling.

Some here believe the Eisenhower-Macmillan weekend meeting at Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Motunains may lead to some extensive traveling by the West's Big Two.

They feel that both might wisely spend some of their carefully rationed time visiting in far off places with their friendly Allies. It frequently is brought home with some impact that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev never hesitates to go zooming about the vast area of Soviet influence to win friends and influence people.

Camp David is staffed and operated by naval personnel for the White House. Most of the security guards are young, well-trained Marines, so well-trained, indeed, that they won't let a single scrap of information slip to any visitor without known official status.

WASHINGTON (AP) — History may show President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to the presidency was his restraint in time of danger and critical stress. Apparently, it has just paid off again.

In a week's time there has been a definite relaxing of tension over Berlin.

Eisenhower has shown restraint a number of times when, through emotionalism or aggressiveness, he could have precipitated unpredictable events, including war.

When the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt in 1956—and the Soviet Union threatened retaliation that would have meant world war — Eisenhower cracked down on the Allies to stop and get out. They did.

The Red Chinese—bent on destroying Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa—at various times have bombarded the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Eisenhower could have resorted to extreme steps.

He could have ordered American planes to bombard the Chinese mainland.

This would have been a good bet to bring on a war with Red China's ally, the U.S.S.R. Instead, Eisenhower used less drastic means to bolster the defense of the islands and sweat out the Red attacks until the Communists quieted down.

The same was true in Indochina when North Viet Nam was falling to rebel forces of Communist Ho Chi-minh and the French colonial masters of Indochina were disintegrating.

Eisenhower could have sent in American planes to bail out the French and smash the Communists. This could have meant war with Red China. Eisenhower didn't.

True, half of Viet Nam was lost to the Reds. But the rest of the country, freed of the French, began for the first time to have a democratic government of its own.

It can be argued that Eisenhower's restraints were a series of negative actions. But Eisenhower, responsible for the leadership not only of this country but of the Western world, used restraint to avoid catastrophes.

There have been other instances, most recently the Berlin crisis created by Premier Nikita Khrushchev who demanded last Nov. 27 that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin. He appeared to be setting a six-months' deadline for it.

The West assumed he meant by May 27. The West stood firm in refusing to get out, although the Allies eyed each other carefully, wondering if any of them might weaken.

Since November Khrushchev has made puzzling statements, some belligerent, such as warning the West it faced war with the Soviet Union if the Allies, refusing to pull out their troops, attempted to force supplies through Communist East Germany to their Berlin garrisons.

At a couple of news conferences Eisenhower sounded a little heated when talking of Khrushchev and his Berlin demands. He even indicated that any Soviet attempt to throw out the Allies might mean nuclear war.

And he poked hard at Khrushchev, who kept insisting on a summit conference to settle things, that such a conference was useless until the Soviet leader began showing more signs of willingness to negotiate.

Whether or not Khrushchev took this as a real nudge, only he knows. But at least in recent weeks he has talked less belligerently, put more stress on the value of negotiations, and repeatedly said he wasn't setting a deadline or laying down an ultimatum.

Then last Monday night, as if responding to increasing reasonableness from Khrushchev, Eisenhower in his nationwide broadcast carefully avoided any sign of belligerency or irritation.

He went further than he ever had before, although laying down some conditions, in suggesting not only that a summit conference was possible but that it could be held this summer.

Thursday Khrushchev called a giant news conference. He too sounded reasonable and praised Eisenhower for his reasonableness.

Mothers Collect Cripple Children Funds Sunday

Ouachita Parish Society for Crippled Children and Adults opens a "mothers march" from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday. Money collected will go to help crippled children and adults to receive treatment, therapy, braces, crutches, wheel chairs and all medical needs.

Money collected will be used only in the Ouachita Parish program.

Jury Pondering Fate Of Slayer

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A jury started deliberating late Friday whether convicted murderess Elizabeth Duncan shall be executed or sent to prison for life.

The same jury last Monday convicted Mrs. Duncan, 54, of hiring two men for $6,000 to kill Olga Duncan, 30, her pregnant daughter-in-law.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson urged the gas chamber, declaring that life imprisonment "would be a relatively light slap on the wrist" for her.

Defense Atty. S. Ward Sullivan told the jury the death penalty would be appropriate "only if she is viewed through the eyes of hate."

Before the attorneys made their closing statements a second psychiatrist testified that Mrs. Duncan is legally sane. Dr. Brunon Bielinski added, though, that he believes her, mentally ill.

He testified as a defense witness.

'Bright Young Men'

A swing away from the theory that "promising young men" can be accurately sorted out of a group by running them through a grading process, in much the same way that eggs or peas or oranges are sorted, is becoming evident.

When the boss singles out the "bright boys" to train for management ranks in his company, the results are often disappointing.

At the 31st institute on industrial relations sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, it was pointed out that the boss is often wrong and the bosses attending the N.A.M. sessions are the first to admit it.

"Experience shows how wrong these arbitrary 'crown prince' theories can be," Moorhead Wright, operating manager of the General Electric Management Institute, told the seminar group which is digging into ways and means of developing management skills.

Citing the experience of one company which dug up the "promising young man" list of 10 years ago, Mr. Wright said: "You just can't pick a few bright men and ignore the rest. There were 143 names on the company's list. Only 37 of them had achieved the success predicted for them."

There are historic warnings against basing management development just on the "bright young man" theory. Abraham Lincoln, who became one of the nation's greatest presidents, was a consistent failure in his early life. He certainly would not have been on anyone's "promising" list. There are many such outstanding examples in history, showing that the most capable men cannot be picked with any great accuracy by running them through sorting machines, generally known as aptitude and personality tests.

Some concerns which specialize in management development have virtually claimed they could hand over to any corporation, for a good price, any number of model management executives.

The experience of the head men in the National Association of Manufacturers has shown that while men of better than ordinary brain power can be picked to some extent by tests, there is no proof that they will make good executives.

Mr. Wright urged that everybody be given a chance to get ahead. "There can be no choice between 'promising young men' who will be developed and 'unpromising young men' who will be ignored," he said. "Opportunity must be available for everyone who is motivated to accept it and to work toward it. Then there is room for happy surprises — dark horses, poor starters and strong finishers." The N.A.M. conference leader told the institute there is no such thing as a standard 'personality pattern' for management people.

"How do we account for the fact that among good managers some are tough and rugged personalities, others are quiet and thoughtful, and still others are aggressive salesmen types — and yet all are good managers?

"We have to take men as they are, with the traits that they have, and try to bring about development from basis. Rating sheets based on personality traits have generally failed in actual application. Time and again men who rate poorly turn out to be good managers and vice versa."

Urging that the boss turn aside from the individual personality factor and focus on work, Mr. Wright said:

"Work can be seen, identified, analyzed, measured. It is specific, tangible and basic. That is why people take jobs — to do work in return for money and personal fulfillment. In our search for managerial talent we should not seek men with certain personality traits but men who indicate or demonstrate an ability to do managerial work."

To many of us it is comforting to know that a personality slide rule is no longer considered the only way to judge the value of a man. It is good to know that what he does counts too.

Ike Jars Liberals

One of the regrets of the radical-liberals in congress is that President Eisenhower, in his second term, is showing a lot more vigor than they had expected and that he is jolting their plans for carrying the government as far to the left as it is possible to go.

Congressional liberals accused the president of "pulling the rug" from under the drive for a new so-called civil rights law with "guts." They were aroused by the administration's withdrawal of support for a proposal to allow the attorney general to seek federal injunctions to prevent denials of any civil rights. This was title III section of the administration's 1957 bill but congress rejected it then.

The real purpose of that bill and of the proposals now sponsored by the radical-liberals was to provide for federal control over the administration of the schools and over voting in the states. Title III was called the "teeth" in the 1957 civil rights bill, but it might better have been called the "dagger," as it was designed primarily to deal a death blow to states' rights and individual rights.

Apparently President Eisenhower has been torn all along between his fundamental belief in the rights of the states to administer their affairs and the pressure placed upon him to put voting and schools under federal control. There seems to be little doubt that the president was swayed in his position on the 1957 civil rights bill by the pressure put on him by his own department of justice. His withdrawal now of support for the proposal to allow the attorney general to seek injunctions in civil rights cases seems to indicate, along with several other things, that he is depending more on his own thinking.

The attack on President Eisenhower came as Sen. J. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) appeared before the senate constitutional rights subcommittee and opened the south's formal drive against any new civil rights legislation. He condemned bills offered both by radical-liberals and by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), who is seeking senate approval of a compromise proposal.

Sen. Thurmond said Sen. Johnson's proposal "is the most superfluous, the most totally unnecessary agency anyone could think of." He branded as "viciously anti-southern . . . a conquered province bill" by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.). Among other things, the Douglas proposal would offer federal aid to schools which desegregate. Sen. Thurmond said this proposal apparently was "based on the belief that bribery will accomplish what force and bayonets failed to secure." It is certain the Douglas measure seeks to dominate the states by the unfair use of federal money.

If President Eisenhower sticks to his present position, it seems unlikely that any legislation more damaging than that now in force will be enacted.

The radical-liberals undoubtedly would face a difficult position in trying to override the president, the threat of a southern filibuster and the sentiment against federal control that is found in a good many of the northern states.

The Centuries Record a Warning

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAY'S

Tax Outlook Is Better On Inflation Figuring

At the end of the depression, the United States had a national income of about $80 billion; today, we talk about something like $400 billion. In a hearing before a Senate committee, the following colloquy took place between Senator George Malone, of Nevada, an engineer who could read statistics, and W. Randolph Burgess, under secretary of the treasury:

Senator Malone—We are very fond of saying that the appropriations we asked for, say, $72 billion, is only a certain per cent of our national income. And at $100 billion, it would be a less percentage of the national income than maybe a much smaller amount would have been 25 years ago.

"As a matter of fact, when we brag about a $450 billion income and a continual increase, is not the increase mostly due to the inflation of the currency?

Mr. Bcgess—Exactly. I think we said that in our report, Senator. That is the trouble with it.

Senator Malone—In other words, if you reduced a dollar 52 per cent on the basis of — is it the 1947 dollar, or what is the basis that you use for that 47.48 per cent in 1939?

Mr. Burgess—That was 1939.

Senator Malone—Well, on the basis there, that would only be about $200 billion income; would it not?

Mr. Burgess—That is right; just about; a little more than that.

Senator Malone—Could you not cheapen the dollar another 25 cents and double the income?

Mr. Burgess—Well, that is the process which has been followed in a great many countries.

In other words, by depreciating the dollar, it is possible to make the national income look mighty big and base taxes on that. That would affect national taxes. It is this fraud which is wrecking the economy of the country. Senator Malone brought it out very clearly in this way:

Mr. Burgess—Four per cent.

Senator Malone— . . . Then, we could take that 4 per cent off. If we go 4 per cent a year for 24 years again, our annual income would be nearly a trillion dollars with no real increase.

Mr. Burgess—That is right.

It must be said that Burgess tried to say that despite all this queer economics, we were doing wonderful things such as building roads and schoolhouses; nevertheless in 1959, we find ourselves with a surprising number of unemployed. The greatest social menace to this country is unemployment. It can do more harm than war. Government agencies boast of their great achievements, but when the facts show a high unemployment figure, a high tax rate, increased cost of relief and a depreciating currency, our economy is not doing well and the people had better have a look at it.

Labor is outpricing itself, so that smaller business cannot exist. But labor does not outprice itself whimsically. The take-home pay must be a minimum total of household costs plus taxes. The life insurance company pension systems are a peril to our social stability because as a result, firms will not employ those over 40, for whom they have to pay higher rates. In fact, they prefer employes in their 20s to their 30s.

Let us analyze that a moment: The firms seek engineers, preferring MAs to BAs or BSs. That means at least five and a half or six years' of university, plus three years of military service, particularly if the fellow was decent enough to join the ROTC. So the young man has spent about nine years getting ready and serving his country and by all averages, he should be about 27 years old when he begins to look for a job. Business prefers them to be younger. Employment policies seem not to be coordinated with what is best national policy. Lots of topnotch brains and training are not being properly employed because of these policies.

Finally, increased imports from abroad of American-financed, government-subsidized, low-taxed, lower-waged goods are beginning to have an unfavorable effect on employment in the United States.

The increase of unemployment cannot be ignored because the man who is out of work does not care about statistics and what gimmick is used to establish that the country is wonderfully well off. The fact is that he is unemployed and his family is worried. Nobody eats statistics.

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

Washington Is Confused City

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Washington is a confused city, but probably nowhere does greater confusion exist than in the way the federal government handles its money, raised by taxation and dedicated to public use. Public money it has seemed in the last quarter century is more available to the smart and convincing than to those who simply follow the provisions of the Constitution providing that Congress alone shall make appropriations

World War II, the New Deal and various real or fancied emergencies have been productive of ways to circumvent Congress. The idea that money is appropriated directly out of the Treasury and then spent in the year for which appropriated is OK for political science classrooms, but any veteran congressman could tell the students a number of other ways in which that 70 billion dollar budget, and many other billions besides, are spent.

The Bureau of the Budget was set up in 1921 under Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, later Vice President of the United States, and the cynics say that ever since, sharpers have been figuring ways to get around the strict accounting system over expenditures which Dawes established.

Though Democratic administration have seen more evasions of the rule that federal money must be appropriated by Congress, two of the ranking members of that party, Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the House Apropriation Committee and Rep Howard W. Smith of Virginia, chairman of the House Rules Committee, have denounced all the established short cuts, but which some 150 billion dollars has been spent over and above congressional appropriations.

How much of that 150 billion is included in the outstanding federal debt of 280 billion dollars cannot be accurately reported because no one in the treasury or the General Accounting Office seems to know. The general expansion is that some is, and some isn't, which doesn't seem like a very efficient way to run a business as big as the federal government.

The government lending programs opened the back doors to Treasury vaults early in the depression, but the Reconstruction Finance Corporation first to be given authority to borrow directly from the federal Treasury, paid back the 50 billion it had received and had loaned under Chairman Jesse H. Jones. In World War II, however, it had borrowed another 26 billions and made loans to eager borrowers, of which an estimated 12.8 billions turned "sour" and will never be repaid. But that was after Mr. Jones had left.

Farm price support loans, made through the Commodity Credit Corporation, will result in a loss estimated between four and seven billion dollars. Other federal agencies owe the Treasury 20 billions more and still have authority to borrow another 25 billion.

Rep. Smith has used the power of the Rules committee to turn back a flood of proposals for back door financing to the regular appropriation channels, including sums for housing, aid to education depressed areas and small business loans. But sponsors of those measures have become so accustomed to the short cuts that they are fighting for their continuance.

On the side of Rep. Cannon on the Appropriations Committee are Reps. Michael Kirwan (Dem.-O.) and George Mahon (Dem-Tex.) John Taber (Rep.-N.Y.) and Gerald R. Ford Jr. (Rep-Mich.) who are supporting the demand that all government spending programs be reviewed by Appropriation committees of Congress.

Other committee chairmen fret about the slowness of the Appropriations group in giving its approval, since the expenditures covered have invariably been previously authorized by some regular legislative committee. But the second check by the Appropriation committee on the actual expenditure pleases the Treasury, which does not like to shovel money out the back door, any better than do Reps. Cannon and Smith.

Just how much indebtedness has had to be written off under the borrowing program from the Treasury has never been made public but estimates of 20 billion are considered low.

Views Of Our Readers

Ruston, La.

To The Editor:

Ordinarily, I would not care to engage in a verbal joust via newspaper channels, but the recent publication of an "Editorial" and a letter in your "Views of Our Readers" columns has caused some of my views to be held up for public inspection. Although I am not sure that too much can be solved by the process of writing letters, those articles have prompted this reply to both at once.

The editorial, entitled "Schools, Welfare," dealt at length with certain statements which I made in Lafayette at the Southwestern Economics Forum. To the everlasting credit of the profession of journalism, I was quoted correctly in all respects. I actually said the things attributed to me, and I am still glad that I said them! Some things have been written in terms of interpretation of my speech that do not entirely represent my own viewpoints, but a careful examination of my entire discussion will reveal that what I said remains even today practically unchallenged by any authoritative source!

I was a discussant on the program in Lafayette. A panel of "experts" dealt with the general area of the "Economics of Public Education in Louisiana." The panel consisted of Miss Celine Ganel and Edward Steimel (of the Public Affairs Research Council) and F. F. Wimberly and Dr. L. L. Fulmer (past presidents of the Louisiana Teachers Association). Dr. B. F. Sliger, of L. S. U., and I were the Economics professors who had been asked to be discussants after the "stars" of the program had performed.

In a sense, I suppose some might say that it was unfortunate that the newspaper accounts of this fine program gave top billing and front page headlines to the statements which I, as a discussant, had made. All four of the main speakers had made excellent presentations of their viewpoints before a good audience, which had come to hear them instead of going to the Southwestern - Louisiana Tech basketball game or to hear the Boston Pops Symphony on the same campus that night!

My own comments were additions to the discussions of the main speakers, because no discussant wants merely to restate the positions of the experts to an intelligent audience. It was my feeling that others might not say what I actually felt in terms of the wasteful expenditures of money in the field of public welfare in Louisiana. I felt that adequate consideration should be given to the saving of moneys in that field so that more moneys can be spent on education on all levels — elementary, secondary and collegiate. I still feel that way now, and I am sure that there are hundreds of thousands of people in Louisiana who agree with me on this point today.

The editorial, in great measure, was a compliment to me, because it quoted me quite extensive and correctly. It agreed in great part with most of what I had said, and gently chided me for being perhaps too closely enmeshed in classroom activities to comprehend the immensity of the business world off - campus! Those who know me probably would attest to the fact that I do not lead such a cloistered and monastic life, and that I do indeed meet and face squarely the problems of the business world on a day to day basis. It has been my privilege and pleasure in the twelve years I have been at Louisiana Tech to deliver more than 1,000 speeches in Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and elsewhere. Most of these speeches have been given to audiences consisting of businessmen from all walks of life. It has been my feeling that there should be a greater bond of understanding between the American businessmen and the college professor. I have tried to do my part in fostering such a type of understanding and feeling of cooperation.

In one respect, the editorial seemed to indicate that I might possibly be wrong in my appraisal of spending for education in Louisiana. In answer to the editorial comments, I would like to ask pertinent questions:

(1) When it was determined that Louisiana educational statistics revealed that the state was considerably below the national average, did it not necessitate spending above the average to bring us upward toward the average or even above it?

(2) What is wrong with the idea of wanting our Louisiana educational system to be above the average? This is the era of the "Uncommon Man," who must stand head and shoulders above the people who are satisfied with mediocrity. It is not enough to say that we are average between New York or California and Arkansas or Mississippi! If that be true, then we shall continue to be more related to the lower states than to the higher ones, if we never move above the average!

In regard to the letter from Walter Bentrup, let me say that he did a good job in his own way of stating his case as he sees it. Actually, there are wide areas in his own statement in which he has done a fine job of proving my own arguments! He agrees with me that there are families on our welfare rolls with ten or more illegitimate children, but says that there are "only eight" He does not attempt to paint the true picture of the total problem, however, and the things he did not say are really more important to a real understanding of the present situation.

He did not go ahead to say how many families there are with two or more illegitimate children. He failed to mention the fact that the Aid for Dependent Children section of the Louisiana Public Welfare Department expended sufficient funds last year to care for 20,547 such children, of whom 19,347 were Negroes. He did not say that the total ADC program last year cost the taxpayers of Louisiana the sum of more than $26,000,000. He did not state that the total costs of our "Welfare Tree" in the state last year exceeded $149,000,000. He did not say that the costs of administration alone were more than $13,500,000, almost ten percent of the total bill! Costs for this year were estimated by Edward Steimel of the PARC to run to the total amount of about $157,000,000, although I am unable to confirm this exact figure except to say that he must have been substantially correct. If it is to be that high during this current year, then it will compare with only $150,000,000 spent on total education in Louisiana on the elementary and secondary level! All of us should really question the necessity of spending $7,000,000 more per year on public welfare than on total education through the high school levels!

Mr. Bentrup refers to the "drop in the bucket" concept of supporting education by stopping payments in some areas of welfare. He should realize that drops of water fill the bucket, many buckets fill a tank, and many tanks might cause a flood that becomes disastrous. The flood of welfare in Louisiana has become a reality when we spend more in that area than we do for elementary and secondary education. An apologist for welfare spending said in Lafayette that we should remember that $85,000,000 of welfare money came from the Federal government, without realizing and adding that these funds, too, are tax moneys, which come from the pockets and purses of American taxpayers before being distributed by welfare agencies. Consider, if you will, the fact that Louisiana taxpayers contribute their share of the $85,000,000, as well as the amount of $65,000,000 within the state. Then, too, it cost the sum of $8,291,718.55 to administer the amount of $56,381,091.05 in state funds. If it costs one dollar to administer seven dollars, then the administrative costs amount to about 14 per cent, which may reflect the proliferation of obs in the welfare department

If we cannot raise sufficient needed funds for Louisiana education through proper local and state tax systems, then surely we must turn to the necessity of cutting down and even eliminating excessive and wasteful programs of expenditures in other areas. I have been bold enough to suggest that the public welfare area, in an era of great prosperity, is one in which such funds might be saved. I would rather see another "drop in the bucket" devoted to the educational system than to see even one penny go down a "rat hole of wastefulness" and economic and social immorality.

The fact that all of the "drops in the bucket" of public welfare have in recent years resulted in a great flood is important to all of us. Louisiana is referred to in many circles as the "Welfare State" of the nation, even more so than Michigan, which is in the throes of great financial difficulties. No one who has taught Economics and who has studied the problem, as I have done, is unaware of the program of welfare in this state. Many phases of it are commendable, as I indicated in Lafayette. But there are, as Mr. Bentrup himself admits, those instances in which public support is continued for profligate women who continue to bring children into the world in great numbers. Such aid should be stopped completely after the birth of a second chill, let us say, and not continued year after year to the number of eight, ten or fifteen. That economic and moral stupidity should stop, and the officials of the welfare department should see to it that it is stopped!

Every student who has ever been in my classes in high school or in college has been told many times that he must work for a living. This is the correct economic road of productivity and abundance that leads to permament prosperity and a better standard of living. The other road, the false illusion, is the road of scarcity in production, high prices, and dependence on the handouts of the state, which take a larger share of the taxpayer's dollar for public welfare. Surely the commonsense approach in Economics is to accept the correctness of the philosophy of abundance, cutting drastically the funds going into welfare programs and forcing many of the present recipients to be economically productive in their own right, especially in a period of prosperty such as we have enoyed in Louisiana since 1940 or thereabouts.

I assure you that this is no personal vendetta aganst your editorial or against Mr. Bentrup, but the people of Louisiana are entitled to know the truth!

Sincerely yours,

Paul T. Hendershot, Head
Department of Economics

IN EVENT OF EUROPE WAR

Solons Are Told In Secrecy About Military Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense secretary Neil H. McElroy has told the House Foreign Affairs Committee the United States would fight with everything it has, including ground troops, if war broke out in Europe.

Reliable sources said this was the gist of secret testimony McElroy gave last week when the House unit unexpectedly went behind closed doors in the midst of hearings on President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

McElroy's statement was in answer to demands from Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) that the administration explain a news conference statement by the President that this country had no intention of fighting a ground war in Europe.

Eisenhower told reporters on March 11 that Allied ground forces in Europe would be hopelessly outnumbered by "masses" of Soviet and Communist troops in a ground war. It was estimated that about 21 NATO divisions would be opposed by 175 Communist divisions on the continent.

The President refused to rule out the possibility of using nuclear weapons in case hostilities resulted from the Berlin crisis. But he warned that nuclear arms could not keep West Berlin free and might be self-defeating because of their vast destructive powers.

On the basis of Eisenhower's statement, Hays had questioned the need of pouring millions of dollars worth of U. S. military aid into efforts to strengthen NATO ground forces.

Hays also wanted to know why this country had spent so much money in the past for the same purpose if the main defense of U. S. forces in Europe was going to be missles and nuclear weapons.

He said Eisenhower himself had recommended the aid when he was NATO commander.

Hays, who said the American people were "confused," demanded McElroy answer the questions in open hearings but the committee went into closed session despite the Ohio Congressman's protests.

Afterward, chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) and Hays told reporters that McElroy had made a "convincing and reassuring reply." But they said the defense secretary's testimony would have to be checked for security before being released.

A committee spokesman said Saturday the "edited" testimony probably would be released next week, possibly Wednesday.

More fireworks are likely Tuesday when the committee resumes hearings on Eisenhower's $3,930,000,000 foreign aid request.

Hays has promised to question undersecretary of state C. Douglas Dillon closely on why the United States was sending so much military aid to "dictators, especially in the Caribbean."

The Congressman said he thought it was 'silly" to send such aid when possible trouble was brewing between Cuba and its two Caribbean neighbors, Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Hays said the three Latin American countries might use American military equipment to wage war against each other.

"Let 'em fight with coconuts," he said.

Slayer Who Confessed In 1949 Nabbed

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A 35-year-old Negro who confessed to the 1949 decapitation of a white woman in Mississippi was arrested on a city street Saturday nine years after he fled from a mental hospital.

FBI agents identified him as Robert Sanders of Darlove in Washington County, Miss. They said he worked as a pulpwood cutter in the Mobile area for some time.

Newspaper files show Sanders was charged with murder in the Oct. 24, 1949 attempted rape and slaying of Mrs. Irma Franklin, 26-year-old divorcee.

Her body was found on the bank of the Sunflower River near the J. C. Cade plantation home where both Sanders and the woman were employed.

Her head was nearly severed from her body and the area showed signs of a violent struggle.

Sanders, arrested two days later, told officers he killed the woman with a three-bladed pocket knife.

He was committed to Mississippi State (mental) Hospital at Whitfield and escaped the wallless institution June 30, 1950.

MANY EXAMPLES

Music Friendships Serenely Enduring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Forty-five years ago, George Szell and Rudolf Serkin were boys and music students together. Here they are in 1959 still making music together, Szell conducting his Cleveland Orchestra and Serkin playing the piano in the Brahms' D Minor Concerto.

Forty-seven years ago, Pierre Monteux, one of the leading conductors of that day, conducted the very first performance of a new composition by Maurice Ravel, a leading composer of the day. And here in 1959 is Monteux conducting the New York Philharmonic through the very same Ravelian music.

The point has been made often because so many examples are always around — music-making also makes for serenely enduring friendships and for serene and active longevity. Why, look at Bruno Walter! He's 82 and has been a top-flight conductor for well over 50 years, and next Friday and Sunday he'll be conducting Verdi's Requiem Mass at the Metropolitan Opera.

You see the young ones beginning this enviable way of life that is music-making. Christian Ferras, for instance. He's only 25 and he played the frighteningly difficult Brahms' Violin Concerto, with the Boston Symphony, Charles Munch conducting.

He's been holding concerts for some eight years in Europe and South America, and this season America is having its first look at him. There's serenity in his bearing and deportment, and when you hear him play you know he has all the answers. They're musical answers but they serve as answers to all the things which rough up non-musicians in their living and shorten their lives.

Serkin was Szell's soloist at the last of the Cleveland Orchestra's three concerts in Carnegie Hall this season. All three were sell-outs, and the audiences joined the critics in their rhapsodies over the Clevelanders. This means that hereafter this orchestra will share the New York patronage with the Boston Symphony and the Philadelphia Orchestra, which have been firmly entrenched here for years, as well as with New York's own orchestra, the Philharmonic.

Monteux was guest conductor for one of the Philharmonic's series of concerts devoted to French music. He's rather slow and deliberate as he mounts a podium, but it seems to come from a native dignity rather than the fact that he'll be 84 years old on April 4. Once he has baton in hand and the orchestral choirs begin rising around him, he's ageless and the only manifestation of time is the beat he gives the music.

Young Ferras is headed for the front rank of performing musicians, beyond question. It's not only his broad and polished technique which makes you feel so certain about this. (There are many musicians of wondrous techniques who excite you not at all.) It's Ferras' musicality which makes you certain.

No one can say precisely what that is, but whatever it is, everything musical sounds inevitable and right when the performer who has it is playing the music.

Fireman Races To Farm House, Fined In Court

CHARLOTTE, Mich. AP — "Where do you think you're going — to a fire?" asked the policeman who stopped Phillip Snyder.

"Yes," replied the 35-year-old Charlotte volunteer fireman, "I'm on my way to a house fire."

However the right answer to the classic question didn't do any good. Snyder was fined $24.30 in Municipal Court Friday and also was suspended from the Fire Department.

Police Chief Bart Howe said Snyder had skidded 44 feet through a red light and almost hit a car before he was stopped.

"Snyder's violation was way out of line," Howe added.

Education Group Holding Confab In Local Hotel

The organization, an international honorary society for women educators, began its confab yesterday. Sessions are being held at the Virginia Hotel.

Miss Lessie Moore of Pineville presided over the executive board meeting which opened the convention yesterday morning.

The general session later in the day was highlighted by her report on the growth and history of the society since 1934.

From 12 members 25 years ago, the group has grown to 1,500 members today, she said.

Miss Mary Thornton of Alexandria, state executive secretary and publicity chairman, presented her report, emphasizing the outlook for the coming years.

The meetings will end today.

Rep. Forand Turns Down House Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R. I.) said Saturday he has refused to serve as chairman of a House Ways and Means subcommittee because it was barred from recommending improvements in the social security program.

Forand, No. 2 Democrat on the full committee, told a reporter that not only had he turned down chairman Wilbur D. Mills' offer to head the subcommittee but declined to be a member of the panel.

He is the only member of the 25-man tax - writing committee not assigned to any subcommittee.

The incident apparently was the opening shot in what may be a bitter battle over organized labor's drive to provide health benefits for persons on social security rolls. The bill, sponsored by Forand, would in effect give most people over 65 paid - up hospital and surgical insurance for life.

The measure, rated virtually a "must" by the AFL - CIO, is bitterly opposed by the American Medical Asn. as a step toward socialized medicine.

Forand began pressing Mills last year to set up a subcommittee empowered to hold hearings on it and to make recommendations to the full committee.

Instead, Mills split the committee into three subcommittees, with power only to "study and investigate" the administration of social security, internal revenue and foreign trade laws by executive departments and agencies.

The Arkansas Democrat's action was endorsed by an overwhelming margin in a closed - door meeting of the committee several weeks ago, it was learned.

"I refuse to serve on a subcommittee that has no power," Forand told United Press International.

He said all the subcommittees can do is investigate the agencies and report facts to the full committee. They can't consider legislation and can't even make any recommendations, Forand complained.

Forand said that as sponsor of the health benefits plan "my hands would have been tied" had he accepted Mills' offer.

He said that in his 16 years on the committee he couldn't recall a time when similar procedures have been followed. He said he still has hopes the full committee will hold hearings on the bill.

Group Votes To Continue Duck Project

BATON ROUGE (UPI) —Ducks, Unlimited, a conservation organization for waterfowl, appropriated $550,000 at its annual board of trustees meeting here Friday to continue restoration and building of duck breeding grounds in Canada.

The appropriation marks the fourth successive year the wildfowl has allocated more than one-half million dollars or more for development of breeding grounds in the Canadian prairie provinces.

The funds are contributed by U. S. sportsmen. The Ducks Unlimited organization has spent more than $6.5 million in Canada since 1938 for building and restoring more than 500 lakes and ponds used as breeding grounds for the continent's migratory waterfowl.

The Ducks Unlimited organization was organized because federal law prohibits the use of duck stamp funds for improving breeding grounds outside the territorial borders of the U. S. However, 65 per cent of the North American continent's waterfowls raise their young in Canada.

Carsten E. Tiedman of Grosse Point Farms, Mich., was elected president of Ducks Unlimited to succeed H. Bliss Rucker of San Francisco. The outgoing president was elected chairman of the board of trustees.

Vice presidents re-elected include: Albert B. McKee Jr., Los Angeles, Pacific region; George T. Hansen, Salt Lake City, Utah, West Central region; John R. Suman, Houston, Tex., South Central region; A. C. Glassell, Shreveport, La., Gulf region; J. Roger Crowe, Stuttgart, Ark., Mississippi region; Norman H. Ott, Milwaukee, Great Lakes region; Philip C. Barney, Hartford, Conn., North Atlantic region, and Edward E. Chandlee, Philadelphia, Middle Atlantic region.

LITTLE THEATRE

There happens to be one item of utmost importance concerning the recent production of "Pajama Game" which we have not commented on as yet. Perhaps we were saving the best until last. We're talking about the unsung heroes — the backstage crew who worked so faithfully, without applause, but merely because of their love for the theatre throughout all technical and dress rehearsals and throughout the long three - weeks run of the show.

These people may be unsung as far as audiences are concerned, but their praises have been sung loud and long by directors and cast members alike who know how hard they've worked — how willingly and how efficiently. Sometimes in the rush of performance — being on time for entrances, swiftly changing costumes, dabbing on fresh make - up, listening to or giving last minute criticism — sometimes these people were taken a bit for granted, since they did their work so smoothly, seemingly so effortessly. But this was only a momentary thing, for had it not been for the excellent crew, "Pajama Game" would never have been the successful show it was.

Heading the crew for this production was Dr. Val Ringo as stage manager. He did a wonderful job of coordinating all the backstage activities and being responsible for every scene change, all furniture, props, timing, initial light cues — just everything! He had a very capable crew to whom he delegated these responsibilities: Sue Turner, Linda Landers, Jerry Heckert, Phil Corder, Mike Hackett, John Hogan, Sara Smith, Jane Brown, and Betty Slakter (these last two on wardrobe), and of course — Ray Magruder — who did so many, many things and without whom there would have been no "Pajama Game."

In charge of working lights for this show was that loyal standby, that ever - faithful Dot Elmendorf. And working all sound effects, another person we've come to depend on so much at the playhouse: Marie Dell Horuff. Something we over heard a board member say after one performance somewhat summed up our own thoughts about these two people: "I always feel so secure about a producton when I know Dot and Marie Dell are working backstage."

And one other person who worked so hard backstage was Walter Speed, who, as you know, designed and executed all the coiffures of feminine cast members. We've said so much about Walter in past columns that you must know by now how we feel about him and his talented work.

How is it possible to thank people like these we've just mentioned for all they've done? What can you say — except "thank you" — a million times?

There was a large, enthusiastic group of actors and actresses at the playhouse Monday evening to read for "Detective Story." Saw Chuck Morgan, Clyde Culpepper, Roger Klam, Kay McClure, Jean Hamilton, Patsy Pickett was there, along with Mary Jo Strausser, Joanne Genung and Board Members Judy Evans, Bid Causey and Roz Haas. There were many others whom we didn't have an opportunity of meeting.

Director Uttal gave a short resume of the plot along with a few notes about each character. And then try - outs began in earnest. Some fine talent was there, too. Casting this show — in spite of its tremendous cast — should be fairly easy.

"Detective Story" was written by Sidney Kingsley, who has given us a number of good plays, and it opened in New York ten years ago this month at the Hudson Theatre. Produced by Lindsay and Crouse, it boasted a brilliant cast, among them: Robert Strauss, Lee Grant, Ralph Bellamy, Meg Mundy and Jean Adair.

This promises to be one of L. T.'s most successful shows. We'll fill you in on progress as it occurs.

Honest Renter Pays Bill Owed For 26 Years

Palmer received a letter, in which $2 was enclosed, from a man who identified himself as E. Coburn, of Sioux City, Iowa. The letter said:

"For room rent due since Sept. 18, 1933 $2, paid."

Palmer was the owner of the Whitehouse hotel here, which went out of business in 1937.

"I remember a lot of people who couldn't pay their bills in 1933, when the depression was still on," Palmer said. "I sure intend to answer this man's letter. Anybody that honest deserves some sort of reply."

Pedestrian, 87, Is Killed By Car

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Police said an 87-year-old man was killed Saturday when he stepped into the path of an automobile. His body was found almost 90 feet from the apparent point of contact.

Officers said Henry B. Thompson was trying to cross a highway here in north Baton Rouge when he was hit by a car.

Dr. Robert C. Whittemore, educational television lecturer and a member of the Tulane department of philosophy will discuss "New Light on Jesus and the Origins of Christianity" at a panel session on recent discoveries in the Middle East and their significance to Christian antiquities. Dr. Ben Oliphint, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, will be the moderator.

A second series of panel discussions begins at 4:00 p.m. Dr. Gaither McConnell, head of the department of education at Newcomb College in New Orleans, will discuss life in the Soviet Union at a panel entitled "As I Saw Russia." Dr. McConnell has recently returned from a visit to Russia as a representative of the Comparative Educational Society of America. George Snellings, Monroe attorney, will moderate.

"You and Your Money," a discussion of investment policies and procedures, will be the title of a talk to be given by Dr. Donald M. Halley of the Tulane school of business administration. Fred Fudickar, Jr., Monroe attorney, will conduct the discussion.

The concluding panel, "Beethoven - Iconoclast and Traditionalist," will be a piano concert-lecture presentation by Lucille Snyder Soule, professor of music at Newcomb College. Mrs. H. G. McDonald, past president of the Musical Coterie in Monroe, will be the moderator.

Luncheon speaker for the conference will be Dr. Fred Cagle, chairman of the department of zoology and coordinator of research at Tulane University. Dr. Cagle has recently returned from a government - sponsored tour of science and education facilities in the Soviet Union. He will show a series of colored films taken during this trip.

The Monroe-Tulane Conferences are part of a series of meetings on higher education held each year in eight major southern cities in the states of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas. All panels and the noon luncheon are open to the public. Registration begins at 12:00 noon in the lobby of the Frances Hotel.

Tribesmen Battle Chinese In Revolt

around the spacious enclosure of the Indian diplomatic mission and spread behind the Turquoise Bridge, the main gateway to Lhasa.

The Indian government said the Indian consul general was safe.

Semi-official sources i New Delhi said the Communists were bringing artillery into action and were flying in automatic weapons.

Khamba tribesmen have been known to be buying American-made rifles for as much as $200 apiece whenever they could lay hands on them.

Border reports reaching New Delhi said the resistance forces were under the command of Antuk Gounpo-Tashi, a commander from Litang in the rugged eastern part of Tibet.

Another force of 25,000 Buddhists was reported being led in a separate anti-Communist offensive by General Pangatsang, a man.

Backbone of the attack is the Khamba tribe from Kham Province. They have been fighting under a "master plan" to smash the grip the Reds took on Tibet in 1950 and consolidated in 1951.

The first part of their plan, as a Khamba chief told a UPI correspondent on the border in January, was to stir up all Tibet. Part two was to intensify the hit-run guerrilla campaign in the mountain passes.

The Khambas claimed 50 Chinese convoys destroyed last year. The ambush operation as described was classic. Boulders were rolled down on winding roads to smash the trucks. Then the rebels attacked.

A Khamba spokesman boasted the Chinese were no match for the fierce tribesmen in hand to hand fighting.

In recent months, the fighting has intensified. Some 65,000 people have been reported killed—50,000 Chinese and 15,000 Tibetans.

The fighting in Lhasa was expected to swell the toll.

The Khamba tribesmen were reported determined to make this a do-or-die offensive.

They had been marching toward the sacred capital for the last several days, according to Indian dispatches. The timing of the uprising in the city appeared perfect for their purposes.

The Reds had been reported bringing in reinforcements.

The country itself is hard and wild, some 1,300,000 people, most of them loyal believers in the sacredness of the Dalai Lama, his "assistant" is the Panchen Lama, whose power is only temporal. He is reported to have been handpicked by the Communists.

Tibet is bounded to the north by four Chinese provinces, and is shut off to the Western world by the high Himalayas.

by a California law passed last year.

Court - appointed psychiatrists who already have stated they believe Mrs. Duncan is legally sane will present their findings to trial Judge Charles F. Blackstock Tuesday at 11 a.m.

Should a motion for new trial be granted on appeal, then, the attorneys agreed, a jury trial on the sanity issue could be held.

Appeal to the state Supreme Court is automatic in such capital cases and Sullivan indicated he would take the case even higher if necessary.

A possible off-shoot of the murder case was indicated by Gustafson who told newsmen out of court he planned to bring Frank Duncan's role to the attention of the state bar "with a view to the initiation of disciplinary proceedings."

He did not eleborate but observers agreed that this was a reference to testimony indicating Frank Duncan may have known, before it was revealed to authorities, of his mother's attempt to get an annulment of his marriage to Olga Duncan by having an itinerant laborer pose as her son.

While Mrs. Duncan's case goes on appeal, the two men she was convicted of hiring to slay the 30-year-old Canadian-born nurse will have sanity hearings.

Both Augustine Baldonado, 25, and Luis Moya, 22, ex-convicts who confessed they beat and choked Olga Duncan and left her to die in a roadside grave, have pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

CAREFUL, WHAT YOU SIGN

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — George Guckenberger, who hasn't been to New York for many years, recently received a summons from the city's Magistrate's Court ordering him to appear within 10 days on a speeding charge, mail a check for $20 or face revocation of his driver's license.

Guckenberger had a ready explanation, though. As registrar of motor vehicles for Hamilton County, Ohio, his name appears on all licenses issued in the county. A resident apparently received a speeding ticket in New York and the policeman simply wrote it out to George Gumkenberger.

Wave H. McFadden will deliver the sermons with music furnished by the church choirs.

Covenant Presbyterian Church will join with St. Paul's Methodist Church for special services Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and Friday from noon until 3 p.m. This year the combined services will be held at the Covenant Presbyterian Church. The Good Friday services will consist of 20-minute periods of meditation and prayer. Both churches will hold Easter services at the regular worship periods in their respective sanctuaries with the Rev. Wayne Gray of the Covenant Church and Dr. Ben Oliphint of St. Paul's delivering the sermons.

Dr. Hugh Bradshaw of the Memorial Presbyterian Church in West Monroe has announced a series of six messages dealing with the joys and sorrows of the first Easter to be held each evening at 7:30 throughout Holy Week. The pastor, Rev. Robert Shepperson of Fairbanks, Rev. Robert Newman of Bastrop, Rev. J. Clyde of Delhi and Rev. Finley Patton of Winnsboro will deliver the sermons during each evening of the week. The pastor will preach at a special Communion service scheduled for Friday at 7:30 p.m.

CATHOLIC

Msgr. John C. Marsh of St. Matthews Catholic Church pointed out Holy Saturday is a regular fast day of lent binding until midnight before Easter Sunday. Masses at the church were scheduled for Monday, 6, 6:30 and 7 a.m.; Tuesday, 6, 7, and 8:20 a.m.; Wednesday, 6 and 7 a.m. and 6 p.m.; Holy Thursday, 5 p.m. (Low Mass and Communion) 6 p.m. (High Mass and Communion); Good Friday, 12:30 p.m. Way of the Cross, 2:30 p.m. Veneration of the Cross, 7:30 p.m. Way of the Cross; Holy Saturday, 11:00 p.m. ceremonies begin prior to Easter Vigil Midnight Mass and Communion.

Holy Thursday services will begin at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with Holy Mass at 7 p.m. followed by a sermon on the topic "The Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist; The Way of the Cross and Veneration of the Cross will be held at 12 noon until 3 p.m. on Good Friday with Holy Communion at 2:45 p.m. and there will be an evening service at 7 p.m. with the Station of the Cross; midnight services on Holy Saturday will commence at 11:00 p.m. with a Mass of the Resurrection scheduled immediately following. The Easter Sunday Masses were scheduled for 8:30 and 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., according to the Rev. Michael Hanon, pastor at St. Joseph's.

Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church and the Church of Jesus the Good Shepherd have also planned special services for Holy Week, according to the Rev. George Martinez and Rev. Dave Dabria, pastors.

CHRISTIAN

Beginning Palm Sunday, today, special pre - Easter evangelistic services will be held each evening at 7:30 at the First Christian Church. St. John at Oak Street in Monroe. The church pastor, John O. Stewart will deliver the sermons and song services will be led by Charles Faires, a seminary student at Texas Christian University of Fort Worth, Texas. There will be a Communion service Thursday evening and two Easter Sunday services — at 9 and 11 a.m. — were scheduled for that day, according to the pastor.

BAPTIST

Special music was planned at most of the Monroe - West Monroe Baptist churches with the First Baptist Church of Monroe adult choir presenting the cantata, "Calvary." The church will also serve as host for the downtown interdenominational services at 12:05 noon daily throughout the week before Easter.

The First Baptist Church of West Monroe will feature a cantata by the carillon choir (young girls) Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. and the cantata, "No Greater Love," by John W. Peterson at 7:45 p.m. Easter Sunday.

METHODIST

The Rev. W. M. Allen, pastor of the Gordon Avenue Methodist will speak on the subject "The Triumphal Entry" at the morning service today at 10:50. There will be special services at the church each evening at 7:30 with different speakers filling the pulpit. There will be a Communion service at the church Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Special services were scheduled at the First Methodist Church of Monroe at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Good Friday with a Communion service at the Thursday service. The church choir under the direction of Eloy Fominaya will perform the cantata, "The Redeemer," by Martin Shaw at the evening service on Easter Sunday.

EPISCOPAL

Grace Episcopal Church has scheduled special Palm Sunday services today with Holy Communion at 7:30, 9, and 10 a.m. and Evening Prayer at 5:30 p.m. Throughout the week, Morning Prayer and Holy Communion are scheduled at 8:45 and 9 a.m. with evening prayer and Holy Communion scheduled at 5:30 and 6 p.m. Holy Tenebrae will be observed Wednesday at 8 p.m. and The Way of the Cross from noon to 3 p.m. Good Friday.

There will be a midnight vigil and Holy Communion at 11 p.m. on Holy Saturday.

St. Alban's St. Thomas and St. Patrick's Episcopal churches have also scheduled special services throughout Holy Week.

CHURCH OF GOD

Rev. and Mrs. Ron W. Howland of Houston will open a week's evangelistic service at the Cypress Street Church of God in West Monroe during Holy Week, the Rev. T. E. Miller, pastor, announced.

Easter Sunday, the church will observe a homecoming day with an anniversary service scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Soviet Chief For Neutral Meeting Site

LONDON (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khruschev wants the East-West summit meeting expected this summer to be held in some such neutral city as Geneva or Vienna, Soviet diplomats said Saturday. Khruschev was reported to be definitely opposed to a Washington meeting.

The reports indicated a change of mind by the Kremlin, which pressed last year for a meeting in the United States.

Khrushchev, who tried in vain to get an official invitation from the United States, apparently had hoped that he could get in through the backdoor of a top-level diplomatic conference.

He had agreed to attend a summit meeting at the United Nations in New York last summer, only to back down at virtually the last moment. Some reports said pressure from Communist China, which is not a U. N. member, forced Khrushchev to change his plans.

Man Is Arrested On Theft Charge

Edward H. Walton, 38, 2406 Lee Ave., was placed in jail under a $1,000 peace warrant.

On charges of driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, disturbing the peace and hit and run, Isaac H. Grant, 64, 311 Linderman, West Monroe, was arrested and released after posting a $500 bond.

Also picked up on a drunken driving charge was Bert D. Coley, 54, New Orleans. He posted a $437.50 bond and was released.

Two men were taken into custody on charges of disturbing the peace. They were Robert B. Johnson, 52, 4104 Wiley St., and Sammie Cook Merritt, 55, Meridian, Miss. Both were in jail last night in lieu of posting a $150 bond each.

Spring Makes Debut; Cold, Snow Linger

pected to carry the mercury down to 15 to 20 degrees by Sunday morning and spread cooler weather along most of the seaboard from Maine to the North Carolina mountains.

Skies cleared in the snow-weary southern plains, where a near-blizzard Friday left up to 10 inches of snow and drifts seven feet deep.

U. S. Highways 87 and 54 still were closed in eastern New Mexico but highway workers hoped to have them open by Saturday night. Bus travel, halted by the drifts, was expected to resume shortly.

Agricultural authorities sought to determine extent of livestock loss from the storm, which was similar to one which struck northeastern New Mexico on the first day of spring two years ago. That storm inflicted heavy livestock loss.

Residents of Fraser, Colo., in the high Rockies, greeted the first day of spring in 22-below-zero temperatures. The Fraser reading was the lowest in the United States except for 31 below at Fairbanks, Alaska.

However, winter also loitered in the upper midwest. The mercury dipped to zero at Duluth, Minn., and 1 above at Fargo, N.D., and 5 below zero readings were expected Saturday night in upper Michigan.

until Saturday afternoon when members of the Marshalltown Elks Lodge, who had gone to the cemetery for a burial service, heard him yelling.

Edel's car was so mired in the snow that a heavy duty wrecker had to be used to pull him out.

Edel had had nothing to eat since Friday. The only water he had was from melted snow that he scooped up by leaning out the car window.

At his home where his mother and stepfather live with him Edel said: "I felt no ill effects except from a case of hoarseness. I surely got hoarse yelling for help."

Scots Angrily Vow Loch Ness Monster Real

For many Scots, however, Gasparini's interventions was welcome, especially with the tourist season coming on.

Gasparini, writing in a Milan magazine, claimed he had drummed up the story for lack of something better to do while working in London in 1933. He said the yarn snowballed to such proportions that he just played along with it from then on.

Local historians said mention of a monster first popped up in the writings of a monk 500 years ago and has been swirling into print fairly regularly ever since.

Lady Maud Baillie, a sister-in-law of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, was among dozens of Scots who consider Gasparini's claim monstrous. She says she saw the beastie in April 1950.

Freeze Plan For Troops Is Discussed

reported from this afternoon sessions:

William A. Rountree, assistant secretary of state for Middle East Affairs, will come to Camp David Sunday for talks with a separate working group headed by acting secretary of state Christian A. Herter and British Foreign secretary Selwyn A. Lloyd.

Eisenhower and Macmillan expect to end their camp meeting Sunday afternoon and motor back to Washington.

Chairman John A. McCone of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and Dr. James Killian, special science adviser to the President, joined counterpart British experts in an afternoon session with Eisenhower and Macmillan on suspension of nuclear testing.

Terms for the summit conference were spelled out in a proposed allied note to the Kremlin which was agreed upon by Eisenhower and Macmillan in the second day of their secret Camp David, Md., strategy talks.

The draft was sent immediately to other allied European governments to get their views.

No specific details were given. But there was a strong impression here that Eisenhower did not lay down hard proposals for time and place of the summit session which might hold the key to future peace.

London dispatches said Khrushchev wants the crucial meeting held in some such neutral city such as Geneva or Vienna.

Officials here said that Eisenhower and MacMillan were "in complete agreement" on the question of the summit. They ironed out minor differences in a spirit of compromise.

Officials said Eisenhower and Macmillan kept in mind the views of French President Charles De Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in drafting the note.

AMERICANS FLOCKING TO RUSSIA

Cultural Exchanges May Speed Iron Curtain Lift

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cold war grows hotter, but Americans and Soviets are seeing more of each other.

Through tourists, cultural exchanges, movies and magazines, the acquaintance is growing.

Flicking to the Soviet Union these days are Americans by the thousands. And Soviets—in smaller numbers — are visiting the United States.

Before the year is over, 10 American movies will have flashed on screens around the Soviet Union — the first up-to-date U.S. films allowed into the Soviet Union since the 1930s.

This summer the first major American exhibit in the Soviet Union will open in Moscow. The Soviets will stage a show of their own in New York.

These widening chinks in the Iron Curtain are still small. But they are raising hopes among high officials here that this greater contact with the West will promote the understanding and friendliness of the Soviet people. And this, they reason, will lessenn popular support for campaings against the Free World.

President Eisenhower said at a recent news conference:

"Better understanding of each other . . . is going to be brought about, not by glaring across an Iron Curtain at each other, but by getting together, our news, our ideas."

Like the President, U.S. Ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn Thompson and George V. Allen, head of the U.S. Information Agency, count visits by Soviets here, and vice versa, as most important in promoting contact.

In 1958 the stream of Americans on the intercontinental trek to the Soviet Union swelled to an estimated 5,000. The U.S. visitors ranged from high school students to such notables as Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), two - time democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson and pianist Van Cliburn. Some toured at taxpayers' expense while others paid their own way.

There was a sizeable but smaller flow the other way, too. Soviet dancers, fencers and scientists made the trip along with professors and students. Soviet tourists also showed up, the first in America since World War II.

Twenty-two American graduate students signed up for courses at Moscow and Leningrad universities. Seventeen Soviet students enrolled at five universities in this country.

For the millions of Soviets who won't be coming to America, there's going to be a chance for second hand sightseeing through the first contemporary U.S. movies allowed into the Soviet Union since before the war.

Under a recently concluded agreement, the Soviets are buying 10 American-produced features for showing at home. Among others they have picked "Marty," "Oklahoma" and "The Old Man And The Sea."

U.S. firms in turn will take in seven Soviet pictures, such as "The Idiot," "The Captain's Daughter" and "Swan Lake."

The year 1959 will see a new event, too, with the opening of the first major U.S. government exhibit in the Soviet Union this summer.

American products and entertainment will strut their stuff in Sokolniki Park 15 minutes by subway from downtown Moscow. The Soviets have leased two floors of the New York Coliseum for their exhibit.

As for the Soviet ballet, the world famous Bolshoi company arrives in the United States next month.

A long-range venture which already seems well established is the sale of the U.S. propaganda magazine, America Illustrated, to readers in the Soviet Union.

The United States loses money on the deal. It costs $1.10 to $1.25 per copy to produce and distribute 52,000 copies of the magazine each month. Soviets buy the magazine openly for the equivalent of about 30 cents. The sales prices of five rubles is one ruble below the Communist party's price for its official propaganda magazine.

But Washington gets flattering reports about how America Illustrated passes from the hands of one avid Soviet reader to another until the magazine winds up in tatters. As many as 100 Soviets are said to read a single copy.

The magazine features articles about America. The U.S. embassy in Moscow is reported to have received 600 letters about the magazine in the last two years, a sizeable count considering Soviets are hardly encouraged to be pen pals with the Americans. Soviet women have been asking for more fashion stories. Men want more about U.S. automobiles and sports.

The Soviets in turn sent 52,000 copies a month to this country of their english-language publication, USSR. They say their magazine is a smash sellout, too. An American can buy a copy for 20 cents, if he can find one at his newsstand.

USIA plans to start building soon a 27-million-dollar superpower station in North Carolina. It also wants to beef up transmitting power overseas for relaying signals from the United States.

Allen figures the Communists don't believe they will convert Americans to communism through the exchanges, but do believe they will gain by "showing the people of the United States how advanced their technology, production and economy is."

Maid Hits It Lucky, To Get $7,000 Yearly

NEW YORK AP — A Park Avenue maid gets $25,00 to purchase a home, an income of at least $7,000 a year for life and $5,000 in cash, jewelry and furniture under the will of her late employer.

The beneficiary is Ilona Berkey, 50, who was employed as combination maid, companion and secretary for 21 years by Gertrude Corbitt who died Feb. 26 at Santa Monica, Calif. Mrs. Corbitt's husband, William, a corporation lawyer, died about 20 years ago. They had no children.

Mrs. Corbitt's will, offered for probate Friday, sets up a $250,000 trust fund for Miss Berkey whereby she receives an annual income.

Seven Employes Sue City Over Powers Of Boss

LAFAYETTE, La. (UPI) — The city of Lafayette is being sued by seven of its employes who feel their boss has been given too much power.

The seven workers, all employed by the city utility system, charged in court here Friday that they lost their Civil Service rights under a recently enacted program designed to streamline the organizational structure of the utility system.

They maintain too much power and authority had been given to Donald Gasse, manager of the utility system.

The city maintained that the resolution adopted by the city board of trustees does not affect the salaries and duties of the complaintants.

FLUSTRATED

Indians On The Way Back Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frustrated at every turn, a band of unhappy Indians is returning home after a colorful but unsuccessful attempt to arrest the U.S. Indian affairs commissioner.

The commissioner, Glenn L. Emmons, sat in his office behind closed doors and refused to come out Friday when 18 costumed Indian leaders arrived with plans of making a citizen's arrest.

three days here complaining of alleged injustices and land seizures, accused Emmons of being "anti-Indian."

They charged that he permitted crimes against North American Indians and said they wanted to arrest him on charges of malfeasance and nonfeasance in office—in other words of misconduct and not doing what he should.

The trip to Emmons' office came a day after their entire visiting group of 100 Indians marched in front of the White House. When they couldn't get to see President Eisenhower to air their complaints they sought help from the law. That didn't work either.

So the Indians, representing the once-powerful Iroquois Confederacy and several Western tribes, hit on the citizen's arrest plan under which a citizen who observes a crime has the right to arrest the offender.

Emmons, however, got advance word and was in conference when the Indians arrived. His secretary refused to let them pass.

Former Crossett Resident Fatally Injured In Wreck

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — A former Crossett resident was killed Saturday in an auto crash near Lufkin, Tex., and her husband was critically injured.

Mrs. Arthur Winborn, 32-year-ol Little Rock, Ark., resident, died at a Lufkin hospital shortly after the accidnet.

She was the former Miss Lucille Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Daniels of Crossett.

Luxury Passengers Get All The Frills

NEW YORK (UPI) — The great battle of the sandwich has ended, but the international war for air travelers rages on.

Now that the last crust has been cleared from the battlefield, transatlantic airlines are skirmishing on new fronts in their competition for the American tourist trade.

The airlines dropped sandwiches like so many hot potatoes as soon as international aviation authorities ruled recently that cold plate lunches could be served instead to economy class passengers. It was a victory for the foreign lines, which opposed sandwiches in the first place.

The carriers are now firing away on the low-cost fare level with cold lunches prepared by the finest chefs at home and abroad, with baby sitting services and by simply lending a helping hand to overburdened travelers.

Sabena, the Belgian airline, goes so far as to give packing lessons to women travelers before they even leave home.

The airlines are bidding also for the free-spending luxury trade with services ranging from photos and soft music in flight to steam baths in Denmark—and plenty of caviar and champagne between.

Under international rules, the economy class passenger, who pays $453.60 for a round - trip New York-London flight, is allowed no such frills. The sky is the limit, however, when it comes to the first class passenger, paying $783, and the deluxe traveler, whose ticket costs an additional $90.

Often the luxury and economy class travelers ride on the same airplane, with a wall dividing them. The economy seats are narrower and closer together than those in the luxury section, and there are fewer washroom facilities.

In seating arrangements, the airlines outdo one another in offering frills, gadgets and gimmicks to the high-priced travelers, classed as VIPs (Very Important Persons). IPs (Important Persons), expense account customers and well-to-do tourists.

Luxury passengers on all overseas airlines are provided with flight bags in which to carry the things they buy in Europe or items they need en route. Economy class passengers may buy the bags for $1.25 or $1.50.

KLM, the Royal Dutch Airline, presents luxury travelers with bottles of brandy or liqueur in the shape of Dutch houses or windmills. Trans World Airlines gives women on some flights orchids or perfume, and provides children with games, story books and flight certificaets.

Sabena caters especially to women, who make up 70 per cent of all Americans going abroad. The lady Sabena Club provides lounges and sometimes showers in cities served by the airline.

Women traveling first class on Sabena receive cosmetic kits. The men are given toilet kits. Both get chocolate and gift bottles of liqueur. For the children, there is a surprise package of candy and crackers.

British Overseas Airways Corp. has a junior jet club for children who fly on the new jet planes.

Swissair provides special meals for persons on almost any kind of diet, from low calory to meatless, as long as advance notice is given. osher meals are served to Orthodox Jews.

Scandinavian Airlines System passengers with waits between flights in Copenhagen are taken on tours or to a steam bath. Baby sitters are engaged for as little as 25 to 50 cents an hour, and a children's hotel accommodates youngsters up to 12 for $2.50 a day, while their parents see Europe.

NEW 'HUNGARY' FOR COMMUNISTS

Red China Faces Prestige Loss Due To Tibet Revolt

(EDITOR'S NOTE: United Press International vice president and general manager for Asia Earnest Hoberecht, who has toured nine Asian capitals in the last four months, reports in the following dispatch the increasing woes of China's communist masters.

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press International

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — The anti-Communist revolt in Tibet is the latest in a multiplying number of troubles for Red China, Asian and Western observers agreed Saturday.

In miniature, the revolt has given the Communist world another Hungary on its hands. Whatever the outcome, Red China will have suffered a loss of prestige in Asia.

What the Peiping rulers are facing now is reaction from the masses who are becoming less and less willing to trade basic human rights for distant promises of overdue rewards.

According to the Asian and Western observers, the Chinese Communists appear to have been running on the momentum of the mainland victory over Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist forces.

Until recently, the people were riding with a winner and were content with promises of a rosy future. But in many cases, life got worse instead of better. The population became restless.

In outside areas such as occupied Tibet, it has been more difficult for Peiping to maintain rigid control. There has been a steady flow of refugees from Communist border areas to freedom.

There have been several revolts, such as the one last winter at Lappa Island, across the river from the Portuguese colony of Macao. These have been put down with force.

The Reds ran into strong opposition when they launched the commune system of herding people together like ants in semi-military labor colonies. The communes also backfired by losing the Reds many supporters among overseas Chinese in other Asian countries.

Another headache for Peiping has been the failure and the repercussions of Communist Party leader Mao Tse-Tung's program of free criticism. The criticism became a wave of protest. Intellectuals began to question Communist aims. There was opposition to the breakdown of the traditional Chinese culture with its reliance on family ties. The poor food situation remained unsolved.

The Reds last year admitted small-scale rebellions in northern provinces. They also admitted the failure of Mao's relaxation of the iron rules against criticism.

Now comes open fighting in Lhasa, capital of Tibet on the mountainous "roof" of the world. It has a population of one million people, and is perched at an altitude of 16,000 feet above sea level.

Reports reaching here said the Tibetan rebels were under the command of Antuk-Gounpo-Tashi, from Litang Eastern Tibet. It is the eastern areas of the country that most opposition to Red rule has occurred.

Buddhist tribesmen from Kham Province were fighting also and were said to be under the command of Gen. Pangatsang.

Dispatches to New Delhi said he had 25,000 men under him.

This is no isolated village up in arms. Last year, Nationalist China reported that two villages on the coast of the mainland had revolted and were smashed under hails of machine gun fire. But this came from the Nationalists and did not necessarily make much impression on neutralist Asians.

Tibet is something else again. It had been a free country until the Reds seized it in 1950. The revolt will not help Peiping's prestige.

As more and more Asians heard of conditions in Red China they lost their initial enthusiasm for the "great experiment." Even in the so-called neutral nations there has been growing coolness to the Chinese Communists.

Sale Of House Poses Problem On Tax Return

Area taxpayers are finding the sale of a house a tough problem when they start filling out their federal income tax returns.

John Tolar, local administration officer with the Internal Revenue Service, says that when a person sells a house, he must pay tax on the profit, with one exception.

The exception, he explains, is if a house was sold during 1958 for a higher price than for which it was bought and improved, and if the person buys another house within a year and pays as much or more for the new residence.

WOULD INCLUDE ITALY

Senator Proposes Western 'Big Five'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) urged Saturday that President Eisenhower strengthen the Western alliance by including Italy in the impending foreign ministers conference and all future "Big Five" meetings.

The assistant Senate Democratic leader also recommended in an interview that Eisenhower invite French President Charles De Gaulle to Washington in advance of the foreign ministers conference.

Mansfield, a foreign relations committeman, said such U. S. recognition of France and De Gaulle in the wake of the current meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would go far toward cementing Western unity.

And he said Italy should be invited to the foreign ministers meeting as a "full-fledged participant" rather than as just an observing power.

Present arrangements call for a "Big Four" conference of the U.S., Britain, France and Russia on May 11 at a site still to be chosen.

"In our reply to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev we have said we would welcome East and West Germany as observers at the foreign ministers conference," Mansfield told United Press International.

"Now I hope Italy will be invited as a full - fledged participant. Once there is a settlement of the Berlin question, West Germany also could become a full - fledged conference member. I think Italy can make a great contribution.

"I believe we have been negligent in not bringing Italy, already a member of NATO, into such talks before this time."

Mansfield pointed out that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, still hospitalized with cancer, has been in continuing contact with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer over recent years.

Aside from adding to Western strength, Mansfield said, Italy's participation would enable that country to have a more direct voice in such big power problems as the Middle East. Italy, he said, is vitally concerned about Mideast oil and the eastern Mediterranean.

Mansfield said he did not know why the "Big Four" had not been expanded to include Italy.

"But I do know this would be an additional source of strength for the West," he said. "Furthermore, it is only right and proper that President Eisenhower should invite General De Gaulle to Washington in advance of the ministers' meeting.

Taxi Drivers In New York Wail At Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—New York taxi drivers aren't cursing the traffic these days. They're cursing a proposed 10-cent-a-ride tax.

A passenger hardly has time to slam the door and give his direction before his driver bellows about the tax—one of several approved by the Legislature to help the city balance its bulget:

"It will ruin my business," a driver wails.

"Tips will be nothing," another asserts.

Taxi owners are equally vehement. One company spokesman says the industry will "fight this unfair levy all the way."

Sarcastically, another owner inquired: "What are we going to do, put a tin cup under the meter so that the extra dime can be dropped in for the city?"

The tax probably will be collected by adjusting the meters on the city's 12,000 cabs so that the amount registered as the flag is dropped will be 35 cents for the first fifth of a mile. The meters now start at 25 cents.

This means all the meters will have to be recalibrated and approved by the Hack Bureau of the Police Department.

J. B. Snell, 75, Claimed By Death

MINDEN (Special) — J. B. Snell, 75, president and manager of the Minden Cotton Oil and Ice Co., died unexpectedly Friday at his home here. He was active in business and civic affairs and alson on the board of directors of the Minden Building and Loan Association.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete Saturday pending the arrival of a son from France but will be directed by Green-Kleinefer Funeral Home.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Ada Jack Carver Snell, and a son, David, Paris, France.

Wilt Control Demonstration Set At Crossett

CROSSETT (Special) — Two soil fumigation demonstrations have been scheduled for Ashley County on Monday, according to Homer A. Hefner A. Hefner, Associate County Agent.

The demonstrations will be held on the Bob Fisher farm at Portland and Leslie Tullos farm at Wilmot. The Dow Chemical Company, of Greenville, Miss., will furnish and apply the soil fumigating materials. The chemical is used to control the nematode wilt complex in cotton which has caused heavy damage in Ashley County in the past few years. Work on these demonstrations will begin at 10 a.m., on the Bob Fisher farm, one mile east of Portland; and at 1:30 p.m. on the Leslie Tullos farm, five miles east of Wilmot.

Anyone interested in the work may attend and watch the material being applied to the soil.

Newspaper 123 Years Old Found

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Workmen renovating the old capitol building here came across a 123-year-old newsparer in the northeast cornerstone of the building Friday.

The paper was the April 12, 1836 edition of the States Rights Banner, a Mississippi newspaper that sold "at $5 if paid in advance and $6 if not paid until the expiration of the year."

VODKA SALES CURBED

Russians Turning To 'Bathtub Booze'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's edicts limiting sales of demon vodka seemed to be having an effect Saturday. Production of bathtub booze was reported increasing.

The home-brewers are taking advantage of a legal loophole, noted the newspaper Literature and Life. As long as they don't use stills they aren't breaking any Soviet law.

Vodka, or variations of it, may be made without mechanical equipment. It is not very smooth but it packs a wallop. Sugar or yeast as fermenting agents will do the trick.

Water is needed, of course, and a bathtub will help. In the town of Savin, the paper reported, two characters with big ideas based their operations in the communal bath-house.

Literature and Life joined Trud, the Soviet trade union organ, in demanding new laws banning private enterprise of any kind in the vodka field.

The do - it - yourself movement among the bibbers was seen as a reaction to measures against excessive drinking sponsored by Khrushchev early this year. Thus, when Alexander Ptichkin, fire marshal of the town of Kineshm, was nailed by the militia while working a still, his excuses as reported by Literature and Life were: "My relatively small salary and the increase in the price of vodka."

Others might add: The new law rationing vodka to 3½ ounces per customer in a restaurant. The idea, as Khrushchev explained publicly, is that the consumer must go to another restaurant to get more, and the fresh air will sober him up.

Ptichkin, the paper reported, is agitating for release from jail.

He has written the "Ministry of Fire Brigades" complaining that he is being picked on — that Polikarp Turin, a local textile union official, also brews his own.

The ex-marshal is not likely to get far with his appeal. For one thing, there is no Ministry of Fire Brigades in Russia. Whether any official visits have been paid on Turin, the paper did not say. But it did report that in January alone, 35 illegal stills were uncovered by the militia in the Ivanovsky Oblast (locality).

This state of affairs "cannot be tolerated," Trud declared. The paper lit into trade union committees and other social organizations for behaving like "bystanders" instead of waging a "merciless struggle" against the illegal stills.

Both papers called for a mass educational movement on the evils of home brew. They also demanded stiffer punishments.

Present Soviet law, according to the Grand Soviet Encyclopedia, calls for terms of six to seven years in prison or corrective camp for illegal production of spirits for sales purposes. Those who brew the stuff illegally for their own use risk terms of one to two years.

Gripe About Weather Is Costly To Wife

DALY CITY, Calif. AP — Alexander Galbraith's wife complained about the weather so much that he cut her out of his will.

"She sits at the window and broods and growls about it being cold or hot, whichever is her mood," said the native Scot's will which was filed for probate Friday. He died March 3 at 75.

Galbraith, a retired carpenter, willed his $10,000 estate to three sisters in Scotland and said his widow. Annie, should get "only what the law will allow." He wrote that if his widow's daughter, M. Cassidy, filed a claim, "she is to receive $1."

Man Is Overcome By Smoke In WM Apartment Blaze

A middle-aged West Monroe man was overcome by smoke late last night when fire swept through an apartment house at 505 Mill Street around 11:30 o'clock.

Firemen who answered the call to the two-story frame apartment house, identified the victim as J. W. Call. They said that he was overcome by smoke, but was rescued from the flaming structure by firemen.

Oxygen was administered to the victim and he was revived before being taken to St. Francis Hospital in a Kilpatrick Funeral Home ambulance. No further report on his condition was available.

Fire department officials were unable to determine the cause of the fire which extensively damaged the structure. Also, it was not known if there were any other persons in the building at the time of the fire.

Shortly after midnight firemen were continuing to wet down the structure and fight out fire which flared sporadically throughout the building.

West Monroe fire department trucks 6, 3, 8 and 7 answered the alarm, and a Hall funeral home ambulance was summoned to stand by at the scene.

Common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange paid cash dividends totaling $8,711,482,860 in 1958, one per cent less than in 1957 for the first such decline in 12 years.

The first paper money to be issued by the American colonists was put out on Feb. 3, 1690, by a provincial bank in Massachusetts.

DIRECTOR QUITS POST

U.S. To Continue War On Racketeers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department will not declare an armistice in its war against major crime leaders even though its battle-tested commander is leaving, officials said Saturday.

Malcolm Anderson, who directed the opening stages of the campaign against the nation's 100 top racketeers, is quitting as asst. attorney general to return to private law practice by April 1.

Department officials said the first skirmishes with gangland overlords have resulted in a series of indictments, several convictions and new deportation proceedings.

The list of crime chiefs the department is gunning for has never been made public. But those who attended the notorious "crime convention" at Apalachin, N. Y., in November, 1957, are obviously high on it.

The aim is to put the rackets bosses behind bars on federal charges — such as income tax evasion and narcotics peddling— or to give them a one-way ticket out of the country by deportation proceedings.

Last week, the ailing apalachin host of the gangland conclave, Joseph Barbara Sr., was indicted on income tax evasion charges. Dominic D'Agostino of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who attended the gathering, was indicted on the same charges earlier this month.

Another guest, Dominic J. Alaimo, an official of the United Mine Workers, was charged with taking kick-backs from the Knox Coal Co. of Scranton, Pa.

Vito Genovese, an underworld bigwig sometimes described as chief of the Mafia in the United States, was indicted on narcotics charges and is now on trial in New York.

Russell Bufalino of New York, another Apalachin delegate, has been ordered deported. Deportation proceedings are underway against Joe Profaci, a delegate linked to Brooklyn rackets.

Anderson aides also claim credit for revocation of gambler Frank Costello's American citizenship and conviction of Paul (the waiter) Ricca, one-time right hand man for Al Capone, for income tax evasion. Ricca has been ordered to leave the country.

Peter Licavoli, head of the notorious "Purple Gang" in Detroit also was convicted of cheating on his taxes.

When the long-range campaign was announced, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said it would be non-sensational and aimed at infiltration of racketeers into legitimate businesses.

Department officials said the crime syndicates have burrowed into trucking, garment manufacturing, exporting and importing, restaurants, construction, insurance of real estate and other legitimate businesses.

CAST PREVENTS PANIC

Storm Winds Add To Showboat Drama

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UPI) — Poor Nell and the mustachioed villain tried hard Saturday night, but they couldn't come up with anything half so melodramatic as Friday night's third act of "Gold In The Hills" performed by the Little Theater here.

The villain had just given the honest farmer until morning to meet the mortgage on his farm when the lights blinked out in the makeshift theater aboard the "Sprague," once the greatest stern-wheel towboat on the Mississippi River.

A flashlight was spotlighted on the stage where Little Nell was at last coming home from the wicked city and the play continued although it soon became apparent that high winds were tearing the steamer from its moorings where it had been secure since 1949.

Somebody said something about swimming ashore and one woman quickly yanked off her girdle in preparation for a swim.

The audience of 500 became restless. Soon there was too much noise for the players' lines to be heard and the cast asked everyone to join in singing. The crowd nervously rendered selections ranging from "Daisy" to "Dixie."

Outside, Little Theater Manager Bernard Freutel helplessly watched eight of nine large steel cables and four spars bigger than telephone poles snap, one by one, causing a booming echo on the steel superstructure of the vessel.

But one cable held and the steamer began pivoting around in the Yazoo Canal a short distance from the Mississippi River. Freutel mounted the stage and calmly explained the situation to the audience. On Freutel's quiet assurance the cast resumed the third act with Little Nell realizing her love for the country boy hero and the vile villain suffering final defeat.

After the climax, the hero told the audience: "We're not going to charge you one cent extra for all this."

The vessel had come to a stop after the one remaining line was stretched to its full length of 100 yards. A few men got into boats tied to the side of the Sprague and went for help. Two rescue boats returned the audience, 75 at a time, to the Vicksburg landing.

A ramp and several boats of the local yacht club which were moored to the Sprague were splintered.

But the Sprague, "The Big Mama of the Mississippi," was not hurt and it will keep an appointment in Pittsburgh later this month. The vessel will be towed up the river for a part in Pittsburgh's bi-centennial celebration.

The vessel is the biggest and most powerful steamboat ever to ply the Mississippi.

Air Routes Are Granted In Louisiana

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board granted four new routes to Trans Texas Airways and one to Southern Airways Friday.

Winding up its south central area proceeding, embracing a five-state zone bounded by Little Rock, Memphis, New Orleans and Houston, the CAB granted Southern five-year authority to operate between Memphis and New Orleans by way of Oxford-University City, Greenwood and Jackson, Miss., and Bogalusa, La.

These routes went to Trans Texas:

For five years — Houston to Memphis by way of Beaumont-Port Arthur, Tex.; Lake Charles, Alexandria and Monroe, La., and El Dorado, Pine Bluff and Little Rock, Ark.

Permanently—Shreveport, La., to New Orleans by way of De Ridder, Lake Charles, Lafayette and Morgan City, La.

For five years—Little Rock to New Orleans by way of El Dorado, Ark., and Alexandria and Lafayette.

For five years — Houston to Jackson, by way of Beaumont-Port Arthur, Lake Charles and Alexandria, and Natchez, Miss.

The decision brings scheduled air service to four points now lacking these flights: De Ridder, Oxford-University City, Bogalusa and Morgan City.

The CAB also suspended service by Delta Air Lines at Greenwood, Miss., so long as Southern serves Greenwood.

The new routes will become effective May 19.

The board said its decision was guided by the "use it or lose it" policy announced last December. That principal allows communities to demonstrate whether they can support scheduled air service by making sufficient use of it over an 18-month trial period.

La. Sheriffs Form Bureau Of Narcotics

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — The Louisiana Sheriff's Association has formed a statewide narcotics bureau to aid in combatting drug traffic in the state.

Sheriff W. E. Waggonner of Bossier parish said Friday the executive committee of the sheriff's group had appointed a five-man narcotics board to assemble and distribute to all sheriffs in the state any information received pertaining to narcotics users, pushers, suspects or cases in general.

The five appointed to the narcotics board include: Sheriffs A. P. Prejean of Terrebonne parish, chairman; Bailey Grant of Ouachita parish; G. H. Wattigny, Iberia parish; and chief criminal deputies J. B. Kling Jr., East Baton Rouge parish and Samuel C. Mazilly of Calcasieu parish.

Waggonner said the board would act as a clearing house of information relative to narcotics in any form. He said state police superintendent John Nick Brown has pledged the support of his department and personnel in the program and emphasized that state police facilities were available to any sheriff in the state.

Sweetheart Of Sigma Chi Fraternity Is Chosen

Last evening the 1959 Sweetheart of Sigma Chi Fraternity, Miss Sarah Jane Eisele, was presented. Miss Eisele, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma from Bethesda, Maryland, was selected by popular vote of the Gamma Iota chapter at LSU. Members of the court were Miss Sally Hinkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hinkle of Monroe, and member of Pi Beta Phi; Miss Eleanor Keller, Kappa Kappa Gamma from New Orleans; and Miss Becky Speer, Pi Beta Phi from Vivian. The new sweetheart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eisele, was presented a bouquet of white roses, the fraternity flower, by last year's sweetheart, Miss Mertie Kate Barnes. A jeweled white cross, emblem of the fraternity, was given to the new Sweetheart by Pierre Livaudais, president of the LSU chapter.

A cloud of white mist filled the Caribbean Room of the Bellemont at the hour of the presentation. Large pink and white double doors formed the center of the setting flanked by white Grecian columns being complemented by a background of midnight blue. Small trees, denoting the first day of Spring, were placed in the setting bearing pink blossoms.

The Sigma Chi Serenaders sang the traditional Fraternity song before the elaborate presentation. As the members of the court were announced by Jake Fly, chairman of the ball, Bill Alford and Mack Vick opened the doors of the set for each girl. Descending from a platform behind the doors, the entrance was formed by steps covered in marble - designed pink foil. As each girl made her entrance and stood in the Court Circle, the doors were closed behind her. After the Ladies of the Court were presented, the Serenaders provided a soft background of "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" as the master of ceremonies announced the 1959 sweetheart. She wore a long white ball gown of slipper satin. From the Serenaders, Ed Lessard stepped forward to honor the new Sweetheart by singing "Dream Girl" as Pierre Livaudais presented Sarah with a jeweled pin. Immediately following the presentation, the guests were invited to join the Sweetheart and her court in the Sweetheart dance.

Students Present Program At Lida Benton PTA

The Lida Benton P. T. A. met Thursday at 7:00 p.m. There was a thirty minute visitation period, during which time refreshments were served. The meeting was called to order and the invocation given by Mrs. Lee Baxter, president. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Connie Ward, program chairman.

Mrs. Ward had planned a very interesting program, centered on our children's talent entitled "Arts and Music in our Community," with the following pupils participating: Master Lennie Guice, announcer, Miss Janey Deville, piano solo 'Sherzo No. 1; Mrs. T. L. Washam's second grade, a skit, "Chubby Bear's Easter"; Miss Linda Pittman, piano solo "Chapel Chimes"; Master Scottie Irby, piano solo "The Southern Show"; Miss Dianne Marchand, tap dance; Miss Mary Louise Guyton, piano solo "Butterfly Chase"; Miss Dot Rambin, piano solo "Brahm's Lullaby"; Master Thomas Pogue and Miss Mary Jane Willey, clarinet duet "The Take Off March"; Mrs. Cecil Adams' third grade, group song "Children's Marching Song"; Miss Anna Agnew, piano solo, "Fog Bell"; Mrs. W. C. Buchanan and Mrs. Connie Ward's fifth grades, choruses of "Our Country"; "Three Cheers"; "Battle Hymn"; "Dixie"; "You're A Grand Old Flag"; "God Bless America."

Mrs. Thelma Bordelon, art teacher gave a short talk on "Art Appreciation", and showed several interesting pictures drawn by children explaining in detail the talent of each child.

After the program the meeting was turned back over to Mrs. Baxter. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Jack Pogue, and the minutes of the last stated meeting were read and approved by Mrs. George Robertson.

The nomination committee submitted and passed on the following names for officers for the year 1959-60, Mrs. E. O. Williams, president; Mrs. C. H. Standard, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Pogue, second vice president; Mrs. W. P. Marine, secretary, and Mrs. W. O. Fisher, treasurer.

The room count was won by Mrs. Connie Ward's fifth grade, and Mrs. Cecil Adams' third grade, after which the meeting adjourned.

PBX Club Makes Plans For Convention

The March meeting for the PBX Club of Monroe and West Monroe, was held in the Cameo room of the Virginia Hotel.

Meeting was called to order by the president, Audrey Trout. Minutes of last meeting were read by Esther Bolton, secretary, with treasurer's report by Novie Gillum.

Plans are being made to attend the State Convention in New Orleans, and International PBX Convention in Tampa, Florida July 9, 10 and 11th. Everyone was urged to work in the Community Club Awards contest as the time is getting near for the end of the contest.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Dorothy Worley, Selma Roark and Zell Dunnigan of Columbian Carbon.

Number Of Parties Fete Miss Lyons

Parties continue for popular bride - elect, Miss Neva Lyons, whose marriage to Harper McKay will be an event of April third.

Miss Martha Williams was hostess in her home to a linen shower. Pink camellias were used throughout the spacious reception room. The service table was covered in pink and held a pink unbrella arrangement of camellias. Assisting the hostess here was Mrs. Leroy Williams.

The honored guest was pretty for the occasion in a beige suit with a shoulder corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Sharing the affair were Mrs. E. H. Lyons, Miss Dolores Nolan, Miss Betty Shirley, Miss Kaki Walker, Miss Shirley Crow, Miss Beth McKay, Mrs. Polly Petty, Mrs. Alice Bradley, Mrs. Marilynn Burney, Mrs. Shirley Cooper, Mrs. Carole Webb, Mrs. Leroy Williams and Miss Martha Williams.

LUNCHEON

Mrs. E. H. Lyons Jr., was hostess to a luncheon in honor of Miss Lyons, Jr. at the Highland Park Country Club.

DeLoach-Boyett Marriage Set For April 18

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. DeLoach of Benton announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Miss Betty Margaret DeLoach to Lt. Billy Ray Boyett, of Barksdale AFB, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boyett of the Tannehill community.

The wedding will be solemnized in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church in Shreveport, with the Rev. J. V. Middleton officiating in the evening at seven o'clock April 18.

Miss DeLoach has chosen as her maid of honor Miss Patricia Aucoin of Eunice and as her maids Miss Johnette Gothard, of Bossier City, Miss Maxine Troxler, of Epps and Miss Evelyn Gibson of Harrisonburg.

Robert Earl Boyett will serve as his brother's best man, and usher - groomsmen will be Johnny Reeder, Chester Bailey and Yuz Morita.

The bride - elect is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clanton of Shreveport, and Mrs. J. DeLoach Adkins of Benton and the late Dr. C. T. DeLoach of Sarepta. She received her education from Bossier City High School and Louisiana Tech.

The prospective bridegroom's grandparents are W. T. Collins and the late Mrs. Collins, and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Boyett all of Winnfield. He is a graduate of the Winnfield High School and Louisiana Tech and is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The couple will make their home in Shreveport.

Mesdames H. McGuire, L. Corley To Represent DAR Chap. In Washington

The March meeting of Chief Tusquahoma chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held in the home of Mrs. Earl Cox. The guests were seated in the family room where arrangements of camellias were used effectively. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. A. L. Griffing, Mrs. Roy Brooks and Mrs. Cox.

The regent, Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, presided. The meeting was opened with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. J. L. Norris, and this was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the American's Creed led by Mrs. H. C. Ervin with Mrs. Warren McGee directing the National Anthem.

After the treasurer's report by Mrs. Gordie Roy, Mrs. J. B. Landreaux brought a brief message on national defense — the topic being "Text Book Study." The corresponding secretary, Miss Katherine Averett, read several letters to the Daughters. An invitation was received to attend the open house of the Ouachita Parish Public Library on April 12th. The Daughters will recognize National Library Week, the slogan being "Wake Up and Read."

MRS. CORLEY

Mrs. Lester Corley, delegate to the 50th annual state conference, gave a brief resume of the conference and resolutions passed. Mrs. Reynolds announced the chapter had received the honor roll ribbon, also won first place at the conference on genealogical records. Mrs. Otto Miller presented the award to Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt whose untiring efforts made the award possible. Mrs. Rainbolt in turn, presented it to the chapter treasurer, Mrs. Gordie Roy.

Mrs. Otto Miller gave a brief report on the J. A. C. Clubs at Crosley School, sponsored by the chapter.

Mrs. Francis Ortis, program chairman, gave the president general's message for March, and in keeping with the program, introduced Miss Frances Flanders, national vice - chairman of conservation, who told the D. A. R. story published in the National Geographic Magazine of November, 1951. The organization started with four founders — Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, wife of the president of the United States was the first president general of the D. A. R. The first building was built in 1890 in Washington, D.C. The largest library in the world is the D. A. R. library which started out with 126 books and today has 39,000 bound volumes, with other historical letters, indexed records, Bible and cemetery records. Only D. A. R. members are allowed to use the library during the national congress held each year in the month of April. Each state in the union has furnished a room in the D. A. R. museum.

It was announced that Mrs. Herman M. McGuire and Mrs. Lester Corley would attend the national congress held next month in Washington, D. C. They will represent the chapter.

Elected to serve on the nominating committee were Mrs. Otto Miller, Mrs. Lester Corley, Mrs. Ruth Hundley, Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt and Mrs. James McGuire.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and little Mary Beth Cox, to the following members present: Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt, Mrs. Warren McGee, Miss Katherine Averett, Miss Mary Louise Ellis, Mrs. J. M. Norris, Mrs. Roy E. Lee, Mrs. A. Dickerson, Mrs. Gordie Roy, Mrs. F. J. Ortis, Mrs. H. C. Ervin, Mrs. Otto Miller, Mrs. W. L. Corley, Mrs. Herman M. McGuire, Mrs. I. H. Hamilton, Mrs. J. B. Landreaux, Mrs. Ruth Hundley, Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, Mrs. James L. McGuire, Mrs. A. L. Griffing, Mrs. Earl Cox, Mrs. R. C. Brooks, and Miss Frances Flanders.

DOWN WITH SIGNS

ROME (UPI) — Italy, whose highways are lined with mazes of signboards, is going to give the landscape back to the motorist.

Under a proposed new road code, the Public Works Ministry will set a minimum distance between signs for each road, and in areas of artistic or natural beauty the Education Ministry will have to be consulted. Also no commercial posters will be allowed less than 820 feet before or 328 feet after a traffic sign.

BAKED APPLESAUCE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baked applesauce with cider topping is a good cold weather dessert. Place (2-1-pound cans) applesauce in 1½ - quart casserole. Combine ½ cup each sifted flour and sugar, cut in ¼ cup butter, sprinkle over applesauce and bake in 450-degree oven 20 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Serve warm or chilled, toppd with cider - whipped nonfat dry milk. Combine ½ cup each instant nonfat dry milk crystals and well-chilled apple cider. Whip 3 to 4 minutes, or until soft peaks form. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and continue beating about 3 to 4 minutes or until stiff peaks form.

The bidding:

Today's disaster was brought about by contributing negligence.

South opened with one spade and North made the jump shift response of three clubs. South chose to rebid three spades, which was his contribution to the eventual misfortune.

There was some merit to North's position; nevertheless, a better choice on his part would have been seven no trump. If he believes that five spade tricks are available, then he is in position to count 13 top card tricks: five spades, two hearts (in the absence of a singleton ace in the South hand), three diamonds, and three clubs.

In other words, if seven spades can be made, then seven no trump can be made just as easily. The great advantage of the seven no trump call is that if spades prove not to be solid by reason of a bad break, the partnership has the additional chance that the club suit might produce five tricks.

South's proper rebid in our view is three no trump. The repetition of spades tends to describe a good suit, and South's trump holding is not considered very good. It is well to bear in mind that a fifth card does not in itself render a suit rebiddable. It was South's duty on the second round to describe a minimum hand of the balanced type. This he could have accomplished by bidding three no trump. Lack of a diamond stopper should not bar such action when partner has announced a 19 point hand.

After the spade rebid, North reasonably embarked upon a Blackwood campaign and when he ascertained that South had two aces and a king, he contracted for seven spades. But when spades broke unfavorably he had to submit to a one trick set. North contended that in view of South's rebid of spades he was justified in counting on five tricks in the suit.

To remove peach, pear, cherry or plum stains, sponge the stain with cool water, then work in glycerine or a soapless shampoo. Let stand several hours, then apply a few drops of vinegar for a minute or so, and rinse thoroughly in water.

Can you ever remember a year when the redbud has been more glorious? The trees on Lee avenue have really bloomed their heart out . . . and the other flowering trees, such as the crabapple in the STEVE POWELL yard on Marie place . . . and the best is yet to come. . . . The dogwood is just reaching its height . . . the one at the corner of North Third and Arkansas is worth a thirty mile drive.

The trip out Riverside is most rewarding, particularly now that the azaleas are beginning to bloom. The A. G. M'HENRY yard will be breathtaking for the next several weeks. . . .Suggested Spring resolution: Get out in the car and cruise out streets. 'Twill make you feel quite lucky to be a Southerner — particularly if you've been reading about the snowstorms in less favored parts of the country.

And the things that can be done with these beauties indoors! Consider the flowers used at the coffee honoring ROSEMARY HUNT Tuesday. Hostesses for this affair were JOAN BANCROFT, NANCY DAVIS, and ELEANOR BROWN, who entertained at the home of Joan's mother, NORMA SNELLING. . . .In the entrance hall where the honoree and her hostesses greeted the guests was placed a large mass grouping of cherry blossoms. . . . Blue Dutch iris and blue hyacinths were used in the blue living room. . .On the sun porch, bottle drinks were bedded in ice in a silver punch bowl banked with camellias. . .A silver epergne filled with peach blossoms, white camellias and stock centered the dining table, and the same flowers were used in a silver tureen on the buffet.

Among the gay-as-spring-time guests we saw MARY WEBSTER in a yellow printed silk shirtwaist, worn with a scalloped-brim yellow straw. . BILLIE SALLEY in navy with a white hat. . . and BESS COURTMAN in a spring blue suit with a straw cloche of the exact same shade. . . .ANN BELL accented a navy dress with a hat of a deep peach shade. . . FRANCES FISCHER, here visiting from New Orleans, wore a beige embroidered linen. . . .About two hundred friends called between ten and twelve.

The ED. SEYMOURS, JR., and the STANLEY BAGWELLS honored Rosemary and John Hunt at an evening party at the Seymour home Friday. Here, too, the flowers were something special—yellow jonquils and white hyacinths against the brick-and-panelled walls of the den. . . . flowering peach used with camellias in the dining room. About twenty-four guests attended this party.

The Revelers dance club held an "Easter Parade" for their spring dance. The party was held in the Crystal ballroom of the Virginia hotel. At the entrance to the ballroom was placed a standing arrangement of tall redbud brances, with narcissus and jonquils used at the base. By the bandstand was a white tree hung with vari-colored Easter eggs. Nests of camellias and cellophane "grass" held Easter eggs on tables all around the room.

Lady Revelers wore their spring dancing dresses and hilarious hats. During the evening they "Easter paraded" by three judges for the selection of the outstanding bonnet JEANNE MYATT's hat was a pink confection. Eggs of various pastel colors were attached to the pink streamers which fell down her back. . . .TEEDEE DIXON wore a pink Easter basket filled with dyed eggs. . . .A single rabbit attached to a bandeau was ANN WESTROM's "hat". . . . Prize-winning chapeau was the three-foot cartwheel worn by VIRGINIA HARGROVE. It was trimmed with rabbits and nests of eggs. . . .Dresses noted were ADELE RANSOM's blue print on white. . . . JEAN HAMILTON'S electric blue chiffon over a printed sheath. . .and JUANITA WILSON's beige lace with the flouced lace skirt shading darker and darker into deep brown for the last ruffle. . . .The Redmen played for dancing between the hours of nine and one.

Leaving Tuesday for a week in New Orleans will be JOEL JOHNSTON. She is taking the children, BEN, CALVIN, CYNTHIA, and WALTER, for a visit with their grandparents. . . .The JACK TERZIAS and the LEO TERZIAS, JR., returned Friday from New Orleans, where they spent four days this week.

Natchez always attracts Monroyans during the month of the Pilgrimage. Members of the Patio Garden club and their guests chartered a bus for an all-day trip Wednesday. They packed box lunches for the noon meal, and ate dinner at the old Carriage House. They went shopping for antiques and stayed over late enough to attend the Confederate Pageant that evening. Twenty-eight ladies made the trip, including young miss PAM CLAY, for whom the trip was an eleventh birthday party.

The WALTER ERNSTS spent last weekend in Natchez. They attended the pageant Saturday night, and stayed at Staunton Hall.

The JACK MASURS were at home to friends last Saturday night. They received in the entrance hall, which was decorated with a vertical arrangment of white gladiolas. Dot was wearing a coat dress of red organza over a red silk sheath. . .In the living room were tall red gladiolas, while yellow glads were used on the buffet in the dining room. Pink camellias centered the dining table. . . Exciting much comment was the molded lobster mousse. Chafing dishes held Swedish meat balls and tiny hot wieners. Party sandwiches and dips completed the buffet menu. . . Around one hundred guests called between eight and ten.

Arriving Thursday for a visit with the THOMAS LEIGHS in their home on South Grand will be a group of six children from New Orleans. Expected are SUSAN NORMANN, ANN BREMERMANN, MIKE NORMANN, ROBBIE FAUST, RHODA FAUST and MARIE DUFOUR. The young visitors will be here through Easter Sunday.

CARROLL HUSTED celebrated her tenth brithday with a cook-out Saturday. Twenty-five girls gathered for a yard party and played ball and badminton. Hamburgers cooked outside were served for lunch, along with ice cream and birthday cake.

JUDY WORTHEN and daughter LESLIE ANN left Thursday by train for St. Louis. There they met Judy's parents, DR. and MRS. WILLIAM BETTISON of Grand Rapids, Michigan. The four are returning to Monroe today, and the Bettisons will be here through Easter Sunday. A number of informal parties are planned in their honor during the coming week.

Spring officially began yesterday morning at 3:55. For those of us with spring fever, here is Dorothy Parker's "Symptom Recital":

I do not like my state of mind.
I'm bitter, querulous, unkind.
I hate my legs, I hate my hands,
I do not yearn for lovelier lands.
I dread the dawn's recurrent light;
I hate to go to bed at night.
I snoot at simple, earnest folk.
I cannot take the gentlest joke.
I find no peace in paint or type.
My world is but a lot ot tripe.
I'm disillusioned, empty-breasted.
For what I think, I'd be arrested.
I am not sick, I am not well.
My quondam dreams are shot to hell.
My soul is crushed, my spirit sore;
I do not like me any more.
I cavil, quarrel, grumble, grouse.
I ponder on the narrow house.
I shudder at the thought of men. ..
I'm due to fall in love again.

General Hodes Says Farewell Dog Left Behind

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. H. I. Hodes, retiring commander in chief of the U.S. Army, Europe, today said farewell to his troops in West Berlin. But he left something with them.

More than 2,000 American combat troops paraded past the general to say good-by, and Axel was among them.

The boxer was Hodes' pet. To show his fondness for the infantrymen who guard this Communist-encircled city, the general ordered Axel to remain with the 3rd Battle Group as a mascot.

East Carroll Garden Club Elects Officers

Election of officers took place at the March meeting of the East Carroll Garden Club. Those elected to fill the 1959 - 60 term of office were: Mrs. J. Carmen Purdy, Jr., President; Mrs. W. P. Rushing, First Vice-President; Mrs. H. P. Dubois, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. F. A. Babb, Secretary; Mrs. C. R. Brown, Treasurer; and Mrs. C. A. Rose, Parliamentarian all to be installed at next monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. Carmen Purdy, Jr. who welcomed the guests and requested that the minutes be read and the treasurer's report be given, which followed.

Mrs. W. Y. Bell, program chairman, reminded the group of the workshop under the direction of Mrs. M. B. Latham to be held April 9th. At this time tickets were sold for the event. The pilgrimage to the bulb gardens of Mrs. U. B. Evans at Ferriday in March, was also discussed and several expressed their desire to go.

Mrs. C. R. Brown, Flower Show Chairman announced the chairmen and their committees who would assist in the flower show to be held April 23rd at the American Legion Home with five garden clubs of Lake Providence participating.

Mrs. Bell introduced John O. Nelson who was in charge of the showing of the movie "Tournament of Roses Parade" filmed at Pasadena, California.

The president declared the meeting adjourned, and the cohostesses, Mesdames F. A. Babb, J. D. White and J. P. Davis served refreshments to members: Mesdames W. Y. Bell, Richard Hamilton, H. T. Auxiliary To Ouachita Medical Society Makes Plans For Doctors Day

The Auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical Society has made plans for honoring their husbands, the physicians of Fifth District, on Doctors' Day. The Day will be officially celebrated on the date set by the Woman's Auxiliary to Southern Medical Association, March 30, by dedicating the search to select the high school senior to receive a two hundred and fifty dollar nursing scholarship. The committee also decides to send a large donation to the American Medical Education Foundation honoring the doctors instead of sending each doctor the traditional red carnations.

For a social gathering, an informal party and buffet has been planned on the Sunday evening following Doctors Day. A song from Little Theatre production of "Pajama Game" was the inspiration for the type of party. The invitation invites the doctors and their wives to "Hernando's Hideaway" on Sunday April fifth, at six-thirty in the evening.

The committee members are Mrs. Burchall Liles, Mrs. DeWitt Milam, Mrs. D. R. Hamilton, Mrs. C. B. Flinn, Mrs. F. W. Sartor, Mrs. D. I. Hirsch, Mrs R. Firnberg, Mrs. Charles Whittaker, Mrs. A. Altenberg, Mrs. Henry Guerriero, Dr. Katherine Foster and Mrs. Dewey Anderson.

Annual Spring Party Held By OPJH School

Ouachita Junior High School held its annual spring party Friday night, March 20, at the school gymnasium. Approximately three hundred boys and girls attended.

The gymnasium was decorated around a covered - wagon theme. On the walls were large brands and silhouettes of square dancers. At intervals throughout the room were hay stacks and corn shucks. The refreshment table was centered with a chuck wagon on a red and white checked cloth. Upstairs the game room was done in a similar manner.

Miss Tonore Complimented At Luncheon

One of the many pre-nuptial courtesies extended Miss Carole Anne Tonore, bride-elect of Lt. James Allan Greenlaw, was a luncheon given at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Faheam Cannon.

The luncheon table was handsome with an arrangement of pink carnations placed in a stemmed crystal bowl from which hung garlands of camelias shaded from pink to rose. Placecards of silver bells marked the place of each guest.

The honoree was lovely greeting the guests in a navy dress styled along the empire line, accented by a lace collar. At her shoulder was a corsage of pink carnations, a gift of the hostess.

Seated were Miss Gaye Tonore, Mrs. Ronald Stratton, Miss Maria Maggio, Mrs. Lyle Dorsey, Miss Kaki Walker, Miss Barbara Cannon, Mrs. Owen Moses and Mrs. George Tonore.

Parties Honor Bride-Elect, Miss Williamson

A coffee hour in the home of Mr. C. C. Nelson in Winnsboro was complimentary to Miss Eleanor Williamson whose marriage will be an event of April.

Spring flowers in yellow and white were used on the mantle and the dining room table was attractive with a round arrangement of camellias.

The guests, included Miss Williamson, and her mother, Mrs. Thomas A. Williamson, Miss Nell Percy, Mrs. Kate Young, Miss Rowena Ramage, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Sr., Mrs. C. R. Adams, Jr., Mrs. Harold Simmons, Mrs. Walter Woods, Mrs. Albert Greenwald, Mrs. Phillip Poole, Mrs. Charles Hatfield, Mrs. Vernon Baldwin, Mrs. T. W. Stodghill, Jr., and Mrs. James McGraw.

Miss Williamson, bride elect of Walter Thomas Rose, Jr., was honored Tuesday at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Don K. Mayer. Mrs. Hollis T. Rogers was cohostess with Mrs. Mayer.

A white cloth was used on the table which was centered with white flowers in keeping with the bridal theme. Spring bouquets also decorated the living room and dining room.

Miss Williamson was lovely wearing a pretty pink and white silk model. She and Mrs. Thomas Williamson, her mother, were presented corsages by the hostesses. They also gave her a gift of china in her chosen pattern.

Those invited to share the occasion with the honoree were Mrs. Williamson, Miss Rowena Ramage, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Jr., Mrs. T. W. Stoghill, Jr., Mrs. Bruce Landis, III, Mrs. Vernon Baldwin, Mrs. Charles Ray Martin, Mrs. Huey Stein, and Mrs. James McGraw.

SHOWER

One of the most enjoyable entertainments planned for Miss Williamson was the kitchen shower on Thursday in the home of Mrs. J. H. Colvin. Mrs. M. S. Mayer was co - hostess with Mrs. Colvin.

Miss Williamson was wearing an attractive green two piece cotton shirt waist model and a camellia corsage which was a gift of the hostesses.

Guests embroidered their names on tea towels which were presented to Miss Williamson. They also brought recipes which were put in a recipe file and given to the honoree.

A frozen fruit salad plate, coffee or cokes were served to the following guests invited to share the occasion with the honoree: Mrs. Thomas A. Williamson, her mother, Mrs. T. W. Stodghill, Jr., Mrs. James McGraw, Mrs. Bruce Landis, III, Mrs. Charles Ray Martin, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Jr., Mrs. E. H. Benoit, Mrs. Tillie Woolerson Smith, Miss Harriet Haley, and Mrs. J. E. Sturdivant.

Black Stocking Critics See Red In London

Do those thick black stockings so fashionable in the United States and Britain have "socks appeal?"

No, rages most of London, appalled that the tweedy lasses of Merrie Old England look like French Apache dancers.

But women from ship girls to such film queens as Kay Kendall are pulling on the long, black wool stockings like ones Paris cellar dancers and Great - Grandma used to wear.

The stockings are reported to have started in both Rome and the left bank of Paris. Last year, the Greenwich Village set in New York took up the craze. This season, the fashion was stolen from the artsy - craftsy set by London's females who don't want to brave the winter in the usual few threads of sheer nylon.

"I fell delicious in thick black stockings," said Miss Kendall. "They make you feel so young. Rex (Harrison, her husband) adores them. And they're so warm!"

Girls who cover their underpinnings in bright red, blue or green stockings are "delightful and uninhibited," said designer - photographer Cecil Beaton, who did sets and costumes for "My Fair Lady." "Colored stockings are so much gayer than pale, laddered (full of runs) nylons," he added.

But other Londoners are aghast. The quiet, correct London Times took time out from world affairs to editorialize that the new leg makes a girl look like "a cheerleader in the peasants' revolt or a water - logged sygnet who never made 'Swan Lake'."

"While I realize that under every innocent English schoolgirl there lurks an Apache dancer in form - fitting black stockings and high heels, I am constantly surprised to see them walking down the street inside out," the paper commented.

The tabloid Sunday Pictorial cried that black stockings "distort" the lovely line between ankle and knee, and thicken the ankles. If it is warmth the girls are after, that is all they get. They are kidding themselves when they talk about (the stockings) being attractive and smart, the paper continued.

Dress designer Victor Stiebel said the fad "won't last any time at all."

Swartz School Hosts Ouachita Parish Council

Swartz School was host to the Ouachita Parish Council of the Louisiana Parent - Teacher Association.

The Rev. H. M. Roach opened the meeting with the invocation. Mr. J. S. Davis, principal and Mr. Sam Hixon, president of the P-T.A. unit gave welcoming addresses. The Swartz School Chorus, directed by Mr. John Parker entertained the group with several songs.

Mrs. Julius Cathey, president of the Council introduced Dr. Carroll Summer, Director of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit. Dr. Summer explained the five (5) propositions to be voted on at the April 7th elections. He told how the passing of these propositions would aid in securing a new Health Center. He urged every property owner to vote for these propositions.

Mr. S. W. Jackson, Director of the Vocational School spoke on "Educational Opportunities for Adults." Mr. Jackson stressed the point that Vocational Training and Academic Education are inseparable for every adult holding a job of any kind.

Mrs. Harold Chilton, P-T.A. Magazine Chairman of the Council, was the moderator for a panel of P-T.A. Magazine chairmen from different local units. The panel was composed of Mrs. Don Elliott, Millsaps — Mrs. Cordtlandt McCoy, Mitchell — Mrs. Thomas Cochram, Crosley — Mrs. L. E. Epp, Swartz — and Mrs. Wilbur Rodger, Fairbanks. All of them stressed the fact that personal contact was the best way to advertise the magazine and get subscriptions. Each one told the advantages of all parents subscribing and reading the P-T.A. Magazine.

Mrs. Earl Brimberry, chairman of the nominating committee read the names of the new officers for the next year. They are as follows: Mrs. Julius Cathey, president, Mrs. Aubrey Wallace, Vice-president, Mrs. Keith Kolb, secretary, and Mr. Gene Hardin, treasurer.

Mrs. Cathey appointed an Auditing Committee composed of the following — Mrs. W. T. Silmon, chairman, Mrs. Maida Thompson, and Mr. H. C. McCullin.

Mrs. Aubrey Wallace was nominated as a delegate to represent the Council at the State Convention in April in New Orleans.

Mrs. V. O. Wilson, Membership Chairman read a report on each schools membership and urged each unit to try and increase their membership before the end of the year.

Mrs. C. McCoy, Fifth District Director, urged all units and everyone individually to support the Juvenile Detention Home.

Mrs. Cathey announced the next meeting will be held at Shady Grove School on April 8th.

Sun And Sand Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Sun and Sand Garden Club held its regular meeting in the Committee Room of the First National Bank in West Monroe. Hostess for this occasion was Mrs. Alton Calhoun and Co-hostesses were Mrs. K. L. Lindsay and Mrs. H. A. Malone.

Mrs. L .R. Richardson presided over the business session and after all Committee Reports were given, definite plans were made for the spring flower shop to be held April 9 at the public library in West Monroe.

Two new members were welcomed, namely, Mrs. Atley Donald and Mrs. H. A. Brownlee, Jr.

Mrs. H. A. Malone was the speaker for the evening. She lectured on design and depth in flower arrangements. Several beautiful arrangements were made by Mrs. Malone and were given to members of the club.

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Rose Wagner designs gold-plated bathrooms for the famous, but for her own home, she considers even "his" and "hers" towels too flashy.

All the best homes, from Princess Grace's palace in Monaco to Blair House, the official United States guest house, sport the Wagners' fixtures. They come in 24-karat gold, silver, brass, copper, crystal and gold, or pewter and gold. Faucets, soap dishes, even tooth brush holders are shaped like swans, cherubs, dolphins, and shells.

But not one of their designs appears in the Wagners' Manhattan apartment.

"I wouldn't even hang a monogramed towel. Our apartment is our only escape from the business," said Mrs. Wagner in an interview.

The couple started in a business 15 years ago. Sherle Wagner was a furniture designer with a background in engineering and architecture. His wife designed closets. They set up shop making built-in closets and today coordinate interiors for bathrooms, bedrooms, dressing rooms and closets.

They also make washable wall paper for every room, plus custom-made clothes hangers and shoe trees. But most of their business is done in bathroom fixtures, which cost from $129.50 up.

The Wagners have distributors in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Miami and Chicago, and ship their work to South America, the West Indies, Africa, Europe and New Zealand.

Cusotmers include Hop Along Cassidy, New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller and former Governor Averell Harriman, Ali Khan, Joan Crawford, and Oscar Holcolb, the mayor of Houston.

A Texas oil millionaire bought swimming pool fixtures, Ernie Kovacs gave a dressing room to his wife, Edie Adams, as a surprise Christmas gift, and a New York restaurant, The Forum of Twelve Caesars, bought faucets shaped like Caesar's head for the men's room.

"We have a running order for those—they keep disappearing for souvenirs," said Mrs. Wagner.

Then there was the woman who bought a free-form marble bathtub that extended beyond a thermopane wall and became a fish pond in her garden. "She had to give her gardener a time schedule," Mrs. Wagner said.

BUYS PAPER FIRM

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI)—Fort Wayne Corrugated Paper Co. is negotiating for the sale of all of its assets to Continental Can Co. in exchange for stock of the big can producer, it was announced Friday.

FOR AFTERNOONS . . . Make it with short sleeves or sleeveless, the cape collar is becoming. Here, made in an orlon and rayon fabric, crisp and with a stay-fresh quality. The little girl's frock is made of a waffle weave dacron and cotton. Both these are drip-dry-ers and need little or no smoothing with the iron.

Wash-Wear Clothes Can Be Drycleaned

Wash-wear clothes can be drycleaned. You don't have to wash them at home and leave them dripping in the bathroom.

A principal maker of wash-wear fibers, has issued a special news release reassuring users of wash-wear clothing that the drycleaner can clean it and refresh it to their complete satisfaction.

DuPont became concerned when a nation - wide consumer survey showed that almost half the respondents did not know wash-wear clothes could be drycleaned.

The Clothing Manufacturers of America, comprising 90 per cent of the makers of men's suit, voted recently to label wash-wear suits "Can be drycleaned". They feel that men won't buy suits if they suspect they will have to wash them at home.

A major department store in Washington, D. C., where wash-wear promotion has been active, reports its sales people have noted no great interest by customers in whether outerwear clothes could be washed at home. Sales people said they get few questions on this point.

Spokesmen attribute much of the popularity of wash - wear garments to their crease-holding ability and light weight rather than to washability factors. It is incongrouous, they say, to burden the housewife with a home washing chore she never had before and call this "ease of care".

Avoid over - cooking fish. It is done when the protein has coagulated and the small amount of connective tissue has been broken down. Use a low heat and cook slowly to prevent a dry, chewy, texture.

Texans Never Do Things Small Scale

By GAY PAULEY

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Texans, never the type to do things small scale, have endorsed both the shirtwaist and the patio dress in a big way for summer.

It is a tossup which style leads in clothes the Dallas manufacturers' fashion center previewed this week for visiting fashion reporters.

Shirtwaists, classics in feminine wardrobes, are thicker than oil derricks in this part of the country. They (dresses, not derricks) come in dozens of wash-wear fabrics, both of treated cotton and synthetics, in slim and full skirts, in daytime casuals and after-five clothes.

When manufacturers aren't showing the shirtwaist, they are bringing on the "patio", which is the 1959 version of a style Indians of the Southwest have had around for a long time — the squaw dress.

In most versions, the patio frock is for casual wear, with its full tiered skirt. Originally, as the squaw dress, its colors indicated the tribe to which the wearer belonged. Now the colors are whites and pastels.

Dallas manufacturers, whose wares go to some 25,000 stores across the nation and abroad, say what we females are to do, if we don't own a patio. Presumably, the style is just as fitting for penthouse or back yard.

Closets will be easier to clean if you plan storage space so that nothing sits on the floors. Use pull-out trays or shelves for underwear, sweaters and other clothing that should lie flat.

Spring Hats Run Gamut Of Fashions

In the spring a woman's fancy turns to thoughts of Easter hats—that is, if she's normal, in her right mind and between the ages of seven and 70.

There's something about a hat that can do more for the feminine morale than a whole bottle of vitamins. Some women buy a hat like a cocktail — for a quick pick-up when life seems blue. Some women use a hat as a weapon — to best an adversary. And some merely buy a hat on impulse, because it looks gay and frivolous, a harbinger of spring, like a robin.

This spring women hat - fanciers should be happy, for there's a style for every type. Generally hats are lighter, gayer, younger-looking than in recent seasons.

"I don't pretend to dictate fashion. The American woman is the best dictator I know. Her taste is superb. She's the critic I listen to. So I have done a variety of hats for spring, with just one basic idea—to make women look pretty."

Sally feels that the hat should be the focal point of spring costumes because, as she puts it—"you never know what's going to happen to dresses."

Lilly Dache says hairdos are just as important as hats — one can't do without the other. As to which is the most important . . .

"Well, which came first — the chicken or the egg? The hairdo is basic, like the correct foundation for a dress. A hat can look right with a messy hairdo. And a smart hairdo needs the right hat."

Like most other New York milliners, both designers are showing spring collections which include tailored and feminine styles, shiny straw sailors and romantic flower hats — something for everybody, they agree cheerfully.

"Twilight Vow" Poem Read At Okaloosa HDC

The Okaloosa Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Newsom Coon. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. K. Brooks, and the usual order of business followed.

Mrs. Newsom Coon reported to the club that, "The Silver Coffee Service" had been received. The Silver Coffee Service was awarded to the Okaloosa Home Demonstration Club for having the best record, out of twenty-three clubs, in Ouachita parish, in 1958. Mrs. Newsom Coon was president of the club in 1958 and there were seventeen active members.

Mrs. Dorothy Fuller, program chairman read a poem: "Twilight Vow."

Mrs. Audry H. Dawson made a very instructive demonstration on, "Altering Patterns to Fit Your Figure."

Mrs. C. P. Holloway was in charge of the recreation hour and Mrs. Newsom Coon won the "Slenderette Contest," and was awarded the prize given by Mrs. Fred Miller.

The hostess and co-hostess Mrs. C. K. Brooks served refreshments to: Mrs. Kenneth Saulsbry and Mrs. C. L. Saulsbry of the Eros H. D. Club, Mrs. Ida Wood of Cadeville Club, Mrs. Audry Dawson, Mrs. Gloria Williamson, Mrs. Carrie Burns, Mrs. Elzie Cummings, Mrs. Johnnie Mills, Mrs. Gretchen Lewis, Mrs. Samuel Crowell, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. C. P. Holloway, Mrs. P. W. Chambers, Mrs. C. K. Brooks, Mrs. Edna Bush, Mrs. Dorothy Fuller, Mrs. Dora Bonnette, Mrs. Newsom Coon, Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Coon, Mr. Fred Miller and five children.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Gretchen Lewis, in April.

Stow The Iron For The Summer

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—You can just about stow the iron for the summer.

Dallas fashion manufacturers claim you won't need it for their cottons or synthetics—unless you are so determinedly neat you want to touch up collar or seams.

The manufacturers, previewing their summer dresses, suits and sportswear this week, bragged about their "drip - drys" and "wash-n-wears" the way the rest of the state boasts about its oil wells.

One firm participating in the Dallas fashion center's shows for visiting reporters showed a blue and white polka dot cotton which had just come from a spin dryer. It looked as smooth as if the model had been slaving over a hot ironing board for an hour.

The secret of the no - wrinkle cottons lies in the finish. The National Cotton Council estimated recently that each year some two billion yards of the chemically treated fabric are produced.

The easy-care fabrics include a variety of synthetics, or blends of cotton with dacron, arnel, or orlon. One manufacturer showed a short formal in drip-dry white nylon chiffon.

The dress firms haven't eliminated the natural fabrics by any means — many silks and linens were included in summer collections. Presumably, these go to the cleaner.

Making Belts Topic Of Talk At HDC Meeting

Mrs. Pat Walker, president, welcomed two new members, Mrs. D. Goodling and Mrs. Winifred Carter. A demonstration on making belts was given by Mrs. J. Taylor.

Other members present were Mrs. E. Calhoun, Mrs. Eunice Griggs, Mrs. E. Aulds, Mrs. V. Purdy, Mrs. Jimmie Kilpatrick, Mrs. Gay Surford, Mrs. Cecile Brooks and Mrs. L. Foster.

Bayou DeSiard Garden Club Installs Officers At Annual Luncheon

The private dining room of the Holiday Inn was the setting for the annual luncheon of the Bayou DeSiard Garden Club Wednesday. The T shaped table was festive with arrangements of Golden Harvest Daffodils and flowering peach. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Johnnie Usrey and Mrs. E. R. Osburn.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Alfred Ware, the vice president was in the chair. The luncheon was opened with the Gardeners Prayer, followed by brief summary of the years activities by Mrs. Barney Pate. Mrs. Pate also gave a glimpse into next years plans, naming committees, and chairmen.

Following a delicious meal the officers for the year 1959-1960 were officially installed. A beautiful and inspired story was told by the installing officer, Mrs. Marcus Mapp, after which each member of the executive board was briefed on her duties and challenged in the language of flowers and gardeners.

Those officers installed were: President, Mrs. Barney Pate; vice president, Mrs. E. R. Osburn; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Dan Cox; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. A. H. Smith; Treasurer, Mrs. Johnnie Usrey; Historian-Reporter, Mrs. J. A. Neill; and Parliamentarian, Mrs. Alfred Ware.

Guests for the luncheon were Mrs. Goerge Thomas Walker, Mrs. Rabun Wroten, and Mrs. Jennings H. Wilkins.

Music Program Presented To Plum Street PTA

The Plum Street Grammer School P.T.A. held it's March Meeting with a musical program. Mrs. Madell Doughty's first graders sang medley of Spring Songs with illustrated posters admid a fore ground of lovely Spring flowers.

Mrs. James Brooks introduced the evenings speaker, Dr. Wilford Smith of North East State College, who spoke on "Music in the Home." He stated that one of the best means of helping the child in the home to love and understand music was through the medium of the record player. Dr. Smith concluded his program with the thought that if music is just around a child will absorb it.

Plum Street School Activities were announced for the coming weeks: The City Council of P.T.A. to be held at Plum Street with the Room Mothers acting as hostess on March 25. The Annual Plum Street Science Fair is scheduled for April 7th through the 10th and will be the theme for the April meeting of the P.T.A. Summer Round Up is slated for April 15th.

A Report was heard by Mrs. Vernon Meers of the Nominating Committee presenting the following slate of Officers for the year 1959-1960. Mrs. James Eppinette, President, 1st Vice Pres. Mrs. Russel Sampognaro, 2nd Vice Pres. Mrs. Ernest Hammnos, 3rd Vice Pres. Mrs. A. J. Varnado, Secretary, Mrs. Ted Brode. Treasurer, Mr. L. Pete Smith. Palimentarian, Mrs. Ione Hill. Historian, Mrs. E. McPherson.

Room count awards were given to Mrs. Madell Doughty's first grade and Mrs. Montez Smith's fourth grade.

Two Hostesses To College Heights Club

The March meeting of College Heights Garden Club met at the lovely country home of Mrs. M. W. Williams. She was assisted by Mrs. John Tolar.

After a brief social hour the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Tolar. At this time Mrs. M. L. Johnson announced that at the April 9th meeting of the club the guest speaker would be Mr. Kirby Cockerham, entomologist from L. S. U.

Mrs. E. M. Baber and Mrs. M. L. Johnson were the club's delegates to the State Flower Show in Hammond. Mrs. Baber described College Height's assignment. It was called "Star of Creation," an arrangement suitable for a church to be displayed in a niche behind blue cellophane. Mrs. John Tolar and Mrs. Wayne Warren were to accompany the delegates.

Mrs. Tolar told of the organization of a new garden club in the Twin Cities named the Twilight Garden Club, which is being sponsored by the College Heights Club. This club hopes to become federated in about a year.

The program for the day was on birds by Mrs. John Reitzell with emphasis on birds likely to be seen in our own gardens. She quoted several things from Mr. George Lowery's book "Louisiana Birds" and highly recommended this book to the members of the club. Mrs. Reitzell played a record containing twenty - four bird calls. She named these birds giving a brief resume of their habits.

Members enjoying this most interesting and informative program were Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. Owen Moses, Mrs. Jesse Gilstrap, Mrs. H. W. Morton, Mrs. Leo Montgomery, Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., Mrs. John Keller, Jr., Mrs. B. F. Maxwell, and Mrs. E. C. Rowan.

Amo Club Holds March Meeting In Schmidt Home

Mrs. Dorthe Schmidt entertained the Amo Club for its March meeting in her home on Fifth Street. Serving as co-hostesses were Mrs. Myrra Hessick and Mrs. Lillian Keller.

The mantel was decorated in shades of pink to lavender. These were arranged very artistically and drew much comment. Camellias and other spring flowers were used throughout the rest of the house.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Lillie Mae Shepard. Roll call and minutes were by Mrs. Myrra Hessick, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Mae Lucky gave her report. Various matters of business were discussed and passed on.

Carrying out the St. Patrick theme of green refreshments were served the following present: Mrs. Bessie Nixon, Mrs. Floy Ham, Mrs. Lillie Mae Shepard, Mrs. Myrra Hessick, Mrs. Manell Nield, Mrs. Lillian Keller, Mrs. Callie McMullen, Mrs. Wilma Morris, Mrs. Lottie Wooten, Miss Geneve Castles, Mrs. Hazel Petit, Mrs. Pat White, Mrs. Daisy Rasberry, Mrs. Mae Lucky, Mrs. Sally Zufall, Mrs. Irene Goza, Mrs. Hazel DeWees, Mrs. Mildred Henderson, Mrs. Nina Evans, Mrs. Dorothe Schmidt and Miss Blendia Schmidt.

A Review Of Fine Arts In The Community

"Our Child and His Future"—a review of fine arts in our community — was the subject of a panel discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Highland Elementary School P.-T. A. held in the school cafetorium Wednesday afternoon.

Panel members were: Mrs. John Lewis, reading; Mrs. Earl Cox, music, and Mrs. Durwood Griffin, drama. An informative discourse was given by the panel members on their respective subjects, setting forth the educational factors to be derived from each art. Mrs. Henry Camp led the discussion and introduced the speakers.

In the absence of the P.-T. A. president and vice - president. Mrs. Porter Barton, secretary, was elected president pro tem and conducted the meeting.

After the P.-T. A. prayer by Mrs. W. C. Bell, a report on the spring district meeting was given by Mrs. Alvin Arledge, who stated that three safety posters from Highland School won recognition at the meeting. The posters were made by Lester Owens whose work earned a superior rating, and Betsy Einharn and Billy Nelson, who received an excellent rating for their efforts.

Mrs. Arledge also said that the Highland P.-T. A. publicity book received a superior rating at the district meeting. The group voiced its appreciation to Mrs. Charles DeLand, chairman, and her committee for their work on this project.

Mrs. Bill Downey, civil defense chairman, presented awards to twelve persons who completed the home nursing course in connection with the P.-T. A.'s civil defense program.

Sixty - one children were registered at the school round-up for entrance into Highland next September, according to Mrs. Archie Carroll, health round-up chairman.

Semi-Monthly Meeting Of Literary Club

The Monroe Literary Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting in the lovely home of Mrs. W. C. Hines, Jr., 3708 Grammont.

The Club Collect was read by Mrs. Barney Pate. Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst was welcomed as a guest by the president, Mrs. W .L. Howard.

Mrs. Harry Dixon, Jr. called the roll and read the minutes from the previous meeting. Cookies will be made for the Red Cross to be sent to the Veterans Hospital in Alexandria.

Mrs. J. D. Kelly introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Marcus Mapp, who gave a brief resume' of the life of Jean Kerr and then reviewed "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" which is a most delightful and hilarious book about Mrs. Kerr's experiences as a mother of four boys, two being twins and as the wife of Walter Kerr, drama critic.

Members present were: Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. A. P. Andrews, Mrs. W. D. Bates, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. H. E. Dixon, Jrs. Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Mrs. W. L. Howard, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. Arthur M. Kite, Mrs. Walter Koch, Mrs. Barney Pate, Mrs. B. M. Phillips, Mrs. Fred Plitt, Mrs. H. G. Reece, Mrs. H. E. Rivers, Mrs. J. E. Shannon, Mrs. J. W. Womack, Mrs. B. O. Yeldell, and Mrs. J. D. Wink, Jr.

Girl Scout News

With spring around the corner, Girl Scout thoughts turn to the out of doors. Day camp folders for sessions at Pine Wood in July were distributed at neighborhood meetings last week and are available at the office. Girls who didn't receive them last week should get them this week and be ready to sign up on April 11, according to instructions in the folder. Troops at Lakeshore School started day camp promotion Friday with a showing of slides of previous year's camps. Mrs. Huckabee, day camp chairman, was there to inspire the girls of the four troops.

Girl Scout Week was climaxed by demonstrations of skills in the patio at Sears all day long Saturday, the 14th. Such varied activities as sewing, pottery, lashing, outdoor cooking, games, basketry, and the making of sugar Easter eggs. Troop 58, Mrs. D. E. DeMasterson, leader, showed their sewing baskets and the articles they had made as part of the seamstress badge. Girls from Troop 61, Miss Dorothy Jenkins, leader, worked with clay, actually doing some of the requirement for the pottery badge, which the girls are working on at troop meetings.

The lemme stick game proved fascinating to onlookers, as girls of Troop 44, whose leader is Mrs. Louis Breard, Jr., played the rhythmic game. At noon - time tantalizing odors drifted by, caused by campfire stew being cooked by several girls from Troop 26, Mrs. A. B. Gregory, leader. These girls quickly set up an outdoor kitchen, complete with the bucket of water that is the first requirement for building an outdoor fire. The girls peeled onions, soaped the pot, and using a buddy burner for fuel, cooked their dinner, served and ate it. The high wind called for use of greater - than - usual safety precautions.

Two groups did lashing, Troop 33 making a table under the direction of leaders, Mrs. Frank Halpin and Mrs. C. E. Vaughan, and girls from Troop 53, Mrs. W. A. Roche and Mrs. E. C. Cowger, leaders, practiced square lashing.

Three girls of Troop 1, displayed their skill in making sugar Easter eggs, a skill taught them by Mrs. E. S. Parrish. Several girls of Troop 24, Mrs. Edmund Middleton, leader, worked on baskets for an hour.

Possibly the most attention-getting demonstration was girls of Troop 83 cooking pancakes on tin can stoves. Wearing the aprons they had made themselves, they took turns cooking on two tin can stoves, using buddy burners for fuel. The girls cooked and ate and cooked and ate, enjoying both. Again, the high wind made it difficult to work, but everything turned out well. Mrs. George Herrell and Mrs. W. E. McGough were the leaders in charge.

We hope that with the four birthday programs, the television program, the demonstrations, newspaper publicity, and troop activities, no one in our community could fail to know that March 8-14 was Girl Scout Week.

Pierian Club Holds Regular Monthly Meet

Attractive arrangements of King Alfreds, spirea and pussy-willow were used by Mrs. J. W. Barham and Mrs. J. S. Carter to decorate the Oak Ridge Community Center, when they were hostesses to the Pierian Club on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Norman McDuffie introduced the guest speaker, Miss Lillian Edwards, Regional Health Educator with the State Department of Health. Miss Edwards is stationed in Monroe and works with the 28 northern parishes.

The topic of the program was "Child Growth and Development." Miss Edwards in opening her talk quoted Truman "Our children are our most valuable resources." She said physical growth in children is much more than an increase in pounds and inches.

Mrs. J. W. Barham gave a report on the Community Council meeting for March and how each project is progressing.

"A Christian View of Communist China" written by Dr. G. A. Garside was presented to the group by Mrs. E. M. Barham.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served to Mrs. E. M. Barham, Mrs. J. W. Barham, Mrs. J. S. Barr, Mrs. J. S. Carter, Mrs. A. B. Carroll, Mrs. W. R. Kennedy, Mrs. W. N. McDuffie, Mrs. Elmer McLendon, Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. Roy Windsor, Mrs. M. T. Limerick, Mrs. A. H. Valentine, and guests, Miss Edwards and Mrs. A. D. Brown.

Mrs. Patterson Hostess To Altrusa Club Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Altrusa Club, service club for executive and professional women, was held in the home of Mrs. Beatrice Patterson, with Mrs. Addie Lou Juneman and Miss Pauline Kelly as co-hostesses.

Members were invited into the dinning room, which was artistically decorated with a myrid of spring flowers. Refreshments were served buffet with Mrs. Juneman and Mrs. Patterson alternating at the coffee service.

Mrs. Helen Luckett, president, then called the business meeting to order with the roll call, and the collect was given by Mrs. Gordie Phillips. Mrs. Faye Heard, recording secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and recommendations from the board. Communications from International Headquarters were read, and several letters of thanks from local organization.

Mrs. Luckett asked all chairmen of standing committees for their reports, and after these were heard, Mrs. Adrienne Carr, Program co-ordinator, informed the club that all written reports of club activities required by International for the year had been sent in. Mrs. Luckett presented to the club, the certificate of merit, which was awarded Altrusans by the Salvation Army, for work done at Xmas time for the Salvation Army.

It was announced that the District Governor, Mrs. Irene Jones of Huntsville, Alabama would be the guest of the club on April 16th, and the committee in charge of this program was asked to meet and make plans for the occassion.

The nominating committee, with Mrs. Maude Bentrup as chairman, gave a slate of officers to be elected for the year 1959-60. Also, it was announced that all new members would be initiate at the next meeting of the club.

Delegates Are Elected To Attend Meeting

Delegates and alternates to attend Spring Convention in April in Alexandria were elected at the combined business and program meeting of the Pilot Club Tuesday evening when it met at the Frances Hotel for dinner. St. Patrick's Day was observed in table decorations and favors and the music further carried out the theme.

The door attendance prize was awarded to Mrs. Zera Edwards. Mrs. Zola Smith presided and asked for reports from all chairmen and officers. A letter from the District Governor, Mrs. Ena Wrenn, was read, and she requested that a large number attend the convention. Mrs. Ruby Hatten, who serves as a board member of the cancer control, announced that Pilots would participate in the annual drive to be held in April.

Mrs. Ellen Thompson and Mrs. Zola Smith represented the club at a meeting of Ouachita Parish Public Library and were invited to help in the Open House for the new building on April 12th. Delegates elected to the convention were Mrs. Leta Tisdale, Mrs. Zola Chatham, Mrs. LeVerne Riddle; alternates, Mrs. Zola Smith, Mrs. Anna Mae Breece, Mrs. Ellen Thompson. Mrs. Hazel Garington presented Mrs. P. A. Poag who gave a medley of Irish tunes then Miss Eleona Brinsmade led the club in singing a group of Irish songs.

Present were: Mrs. Fleta Latham, Mrs. Ruby Hatten, Mrs. Lois Mockabee, Miss Helen Benoit, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Hattye Strauss, Mrs. Zera Edwards, Miss Katie McGee, Mrs. Mary Harker, Mrs. Lucille Coats, Mrs. Alyne Newsom, Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Mrs. Zola Smith, Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mrs. Hazel Garington, Mrs. Anna Mae Breece, Mrs. Lucille Barrett, Mrs. Melba Oliver, Mrs. P. A. Poag, and Mrs. Julia Moore.

Mrs. D. Stuart Presides At Fairbanks PTA

The Fairbanks P. T. A. was honored with Mr. Robert McKee and his Gra-Y members of the Fairbanks school presenting the induction ceremony for the club. Mr. McKee stated that the purpose of the Gra-Y was to teach boys to be strong in body, mind and spirit, to live in a Christian way in their homes, school, churches and neighborhood.

David Stuart, president, called the meeting to order and Ronnie Spence, the chaplain gave the devotion. Vice - president, Lloyd Cole, explained what the emblem of the Gra-Y stood for. The red triangle is an emblem of the Young Men's Christian Association, the three sides stand for physical, mental and spiritual growth. The chain circle within the triangle represents a Gra-Y and each link is a boy representing his part in the club. Within the chain circle is the cross symbolizing that the Gra-Y is based on the life and teachings of Jesus.

Minutes were read of the previous meeting. Various committees gave their reports. Mrs. Jack Williams reported on the council meeting held at Swartz while Mrs. Brimberry reported on the fifth district meeting at Ransom

The summer round-up was held last week with eight boys and girls attending. Mrs. Billy Joe Rowe presented the following officers for the incoming year from the nominating committee: President, Mrs. James L. Saterfield; vice-president, Mrs. W. V. Rogers; secretary, Mrs. Fred Peters; and treasurer, Mrs. Clyde Lloyd. These were approved and elected by the unit without any opposition. Room award was won by the 5th and 6th grades, Miss Ada McWilliams, teacher.

When Buying Glass Keep Over-All Color Plan For The Room In Mind

The limited living space which is often found in houses and apartments today has created great interest in wall units and free standing room dividers. However, with these space-saving, functional units has come the problem of how to decoratively fit them into the scheme of the room plan. Books, of course, are always acceptable, but if they are used without any relief, the room can take on a public library look. Sparking these units with decorative pieces of glassware can create a decorative and colorful focus for the entire room.

When you are buying pieces of glass for your shelving units, it is well to keep your over-all color plan for the room in mind. If you need bold accents, the shelf wall is a perfect background. The dimensions of your shelves are important. The pieces you select should be in scale, with the taller pieces being placed in the deeper spaces and the shorter objects in lower areas. If you plan to use a dramatic, highly - colored bubble decanter, for instance, plan to put it in a completely uncluttered area, so that the color and importance of the piece are highlighted. Avoid repetition and monotony by varying horizontal and vertical forms.

The decorative glass is being made to enhance and coordinate with all types of furniture. There are reproductons in milk glass, vaseline glass and clear crystal that will enhance any Early American room. There are bold colors and dramatic shapings that will blend with modern contemporary as well as pieces with simple shapes and decoration for use in traditional rooms.

Because accessories unify a room, as well as reflect your own interests and personality, quality is more important than quantity. The handwrought glass combines the superior workmanship with the latest in stylings and colorings. These are the type of pieces which will last for years and will become even more beautiful with time.

Fashionettes

United Press International

A new hat size has been introduced for women with 22-plus heads. The size is labeled "22-B," and is designed for youthful styles found in smaller sizes. Women complained that they had to go hatless because large hats were "old" looking, said the manufacturer of the new block.

Paris milliners show silhouettes borrowed from men's hats. They include a new coachman's style, floral helmets, and fedoras.

New spring fashions call for more jewelry than ever. Short sleeves take more or wider bracelets. Wide belts and crushed sashes are adorned with pins. Suit lapels have pins half concealed beneath. Low necklines need bibs of frosted, clear, or iridescent stones, enamels and beads or pearls. Newest necklaces are frosted nuggets combined with marquis stones, often embellished by iridescent crystal drops.

Designer Victor Lebow has coined a new word in men's wear — "fashioneering." It means structural changes in tailoring. These changes include the "hinged sleeve," which eliminates binding and shoulder-pulling, and the "ragbak," a sports jacket with a Raglan back and conventional front. Lapels have an elongated sweep, jackets are shorter and have inverted, pleated side vents and a curved, cut - away look. Sleeves have narrow removable cuffs.

To save time in gravy-making, keep browned flour on hand. It can be made in advance by heating flour in a shallow pan in the oven, shaking or stirring often to get an even, light hue. Cool and store in airtight container.

Wimberlys Are Honored Guests At Supper Party

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Wimberly, who recently moved to Oak Ridge from Baton Rouge, were named honor guests when Mr. and Mrs Will Rolfe and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith were hosts at a pot luck supper held in the Methodist Annex. The Wimberlys are by no means new comers to the community but have been living in Bater Rouge while Abner was assistant football coach at Louisiana Stat University.

The annex was decked out in the Easter theme. On the side table at the end of the hall was placed an unusual branch tree with pastel colored eggs tied on with pastel ribbons and underneath the tree Easter eggs were placed. The same theme was used on the tables which were covered with pink cloths centered with baskets filled with colored eggs. Place cards were made from dyed eggs dressed to resemble animals, with names of guests on bottom.

The menu consisted of barbecued pork, cooked by Chef Will Rolfe, casseroles, salads, eggs, pickles, olives, breads, baked beans, an assortment of pies, cokes and coffee.

Sharing this happy get together with Mr. and Mrs. Wimberly, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe, and Mr. and Mrs Smith were Rev. Walter Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carey, Mr. and Mrs. James McLendon of Sterlington, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Flynn Jr. of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Fitch, Rev. and Mrs. James Poole of Newellton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mott Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pipes Jr.

NAME'S THE SAME

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Minnesota has so many lakes there just aren't enough names to go around. In fact, the Minnesota Historical Society counted 99 bodies of water called "Long Lake." Ninety-one were dubbed "Mud Lake" and 76 "Rice Lake."

To make matters worse, some of the state's 11,000 lakes have three or more names each.

March Meeting Is Held By Claiborne PTA

The Claiborne P-T.A. had its March meeting Wednesday afternoon in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, program chairman, reviewed the evaluation sheet thoroughly. The objects of the P-T.A. were also explained. Books on the Procedure Course were given to several members so that they may be filled out.

Mrs. Dot Pilant gave a report on the District meeting held at Ransom School. The Publicity Book won a superior rating and five posters won Honorable mention.

The P-T. A. officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Mrs. Harold Butler, president; Mrs. J. H. Morgan, vice president; Mrs. Dickerson, Treasurer; Mrs. Manning, secretary.

Mrs. J. H. Morgan gave a report on the council meeting held at Swartz School.

Mrs. Harold Butler and Mrs. J. H. Morgan were elected to attend the spring District Conference in New Orleans. Mrs. Aubry Wallace will represent the council. She was recently elected vice president of council. Mrs. M. L. DeFreese will also attend the conference.

Plans were discussed for the talent show to be held May 1st. Each grade will participate. Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Tall Or Short It's A Problem

By BETH BLAIR

Extremes always present a problem. If you're over or under weight — it takes careful selection to get styles that flatter. A reader writes —

Dear Miss Blair:

I am really tall — almost six feet with shoes on and I find most of the clothes in my size range have a little girl or fussy look I abhor. Why can't I find smart, simple clothes?

Clothes designed just for the tall girl do strive to make the most of a good figure and yet minimize height. Some of these will naturally be younger in feeling than others and I would suggest you try to find the shop or department catering to your more sophisticated taste. Sometimes you can simplify an otherwise good dress by changing the type buttons or a too elaborate trimming or beltline. This is a trick many women use to give a more individual look or more tasteful appeal to a fairly inexpensive dress.

Season roast lamb quickly and easily by sprinkling with dry garlic dressing mix before cooking. Add more mix to the gravy as desired.

Wax Beauty

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

"I'm not but 78."

She looks like a typical grandmother. But silver-haired Mrs. Letha Sivils, young-at-heart, has two unusual boarders — sassy green singing parrots — keeps 7 large rooms immaculate, grows all kinds of vegetables in her garden, tends to her flowers. . . and started a new career just four years ago.

And all this is done despite what would be a serious physical handicap to many persons. "I can do anything anybody else can," she says softly.

Sixty-five may be the retirement age for many, but this little lady is 13 years past that borderline year. . .and midway in an occupation which passes away her "leisure hours", brings pleasure to friends and proves that age is no barrier to enjoyment of life.

Using ordinary wax, school-type crayons and baking molds, she "messed up her electric mixer, clogged the hand-beater and resorted to using a fork," but she's got a display of some strikingly beautiful candles.

FEW SAMPLES

A few samples are in her home at 1336 Cherry Ridge Road in Bastrop. Walk into many a house in that Northeast Louisiana mill town, and you'll find other displays of these unusual candles.

"I give away more than I sell — friends tell friends. Right now, my supply is pretty low," she confided.

No wonder. These candles have caught on so well that you can find them throughout Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama and even as far off as California.

They have the quaint, old-fashioned appeal of a multi-colored quilt. . .homemade, durable, and with the feeling that a good deal of loving attention went into the makings.

"I'm by myself, don't get out in the winter, and can't just sit in there," she said earnestly.

CONFIDED

"Besides," the great grandmother confided, "I'd rather stay at home than go anywhere. . .I feel I've done my share of visiting to help out — I've gone far and near during my 23 years here in Bastrop."

"My children and their children visit often," she added. Of Mrs. Sivils' three living children, a daughter, Mrs. Myrtis Goodnight, resides next door.

Julia and Jody, two brilliant green and yellow parrots, keep house on the glassed-in porch.

"Julia doesn't like her name, she wants to be called Polly. But Jody knows his name. . .and he calls her 'Polly," Mrs. Sivils laughed.

"The first thing Jody says in the morning is 'Polly, do you want some sugar', and Polly tells him, 'Come on, I'll scratch your little head'," she added.

Mrs. Sivils has taught the parrots to sing "Glory, Hallelujah," and they call her "Mama."

But let "Mama" start to leave the house, and the birds call, "Mama, come here," and then, sadly, "Mama's gone."

SUGAR BOWL

"I can't let them out, they get into everything and eat it up. I walked into the kitchen one day and found Polly with the sugar bowl top in her beak," Mrs. Sivils frowned.

"When they see Myrtis (Mrs. Sivil's daughter) they're so happy. And for a while in the morning they used to call 'Myrtis, get up', the little lady recalled.

"I didn't teach them that. But whenever people come here in shorts during the summertime, both birds whistle at them," she laughed.

As generous as her frequent smile, Mrs. Sivils "can't stand to see anything hungry," so she is feeding a young pure-white kitten that has claimed "squatter's rights" at the Sivils household.

Mrs. Sivils had two other pets until recently — A red monkey and a talking minah bird.

"The monkey tore up everything — it was too hard to keep him in the house" she explains. A friend confided that she gave the bird to a relative who was fond of it.

Walking around by the side of her house, past the many shrubs and flowers which she tends, Mrs. Sivils led the way toward a small wood-and-wire house.

LITTLE BOBO

A pet of the Goodnight family, little Bobo clung to the wiring and pushed his long-fingered paw toward Mrs. Sivils.

"When I come out here, he wants me to notice him so bad. . . if he gets out he always wants to come to my house," she explained.

Bobo sighted a dog and instantly began a "barking" sound - "he doesn't like dogs," she added.

Chuckling that "Bobo is mad today" at Mr. Goodnight, Mrs. Sivils laughingly told how Bobo had made faces at him. The monkey's anger apparently extended to the entire male population — as soon as he saw the Morning World photographer, he made another face.

Climbing up the back steps to her kitchen, Mrs. Sivils recalled how she had first got into "candle-making."

"I was visiting my son in Lake Charles, and we stopped by his nephew's new home. The nephew was moving in and also trying to get rid of a lot of candle wax.

"He asked if anyone wanted the wax and when nobody else said yes, I told him that I'd be glad to take it," she stated.

But as a child in Kosciusko, Miss., pretty little Letha Allen took painting lessions, and now her artistic urge had another chance — 64 years later, after a long, happy marriage, widowhood and loss of her left arm.

"I couldn't use a brush to paint now . . .these candles are the easiest things in the world to make, though," she explained.

She took a scoop of wax, melted it in a kettle, broke off a tiny piece of pink crayon from a large boxful, stirred the bit of crayon into the wax until the entire misute was a delicate shade.

Next step was to pour the soft wax into one of the several bronze molds which she keeps hanging shiny and bright on the walls of her colorful farm-type kitchen.

CANDLE FALLS

"In the wintertime it doesn't take long for the wax to get cold and harden. Then I just turn the mold over and the candle falls out," she indicated.

"It's wonderful what you can do with it," she stated.

She has a brown, wooly lamb, a fish, a "hillside scene" and another scene inside a conch shell. . .all made of wax, besides the surprising decorations she achieves by adding dime-store figurines.

On candle bases which are round, square, oblong, star-shaped and scalloped, she had added additional little wax handmade stars, rosebuds and bases for ceramics.

On one candle, a set of horses prance. Ballerinas bow on another, and a bird in a tiny wire cage is supported on still another.

She makes candles for all occasions, from birthdays to Christmas. Several candle bases are topped by Santa Claus and others have little girls and Christmas trees, made from brilliant ornaments.

My son brings me my supply of wax from Lake Charles. People start wanting the candles about three weeks before Christmas, and then buy them for all occasions — birthdays, Easter, Mothers' Day.

In spring and summertime, Mrs. Sivils "loves to get out and work in the garden."

She raises all kinds of vegetables, from tomatoes and okra to onions — plus peas and peanuts "because the birds love them."

Besides that, she keeps her home in "inspection - ready" shape.

The baby of the family, she has a sister aged 83 living in Hamburg, Ark., and a brother, Edward Allen, 80, in Mississippi, and she talks proudly of her seven grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

It's hard to believe that this lady ever had a day in which she was not up and active. But she's a walking inspiration to those who feel they are "down on their luck."

"I've been in a wheelchair. . . then I was on crutches for a long time. It like to have killed me that I couldn't get about. But if I'd have given up, I wouldn't have lasted any time," she concluded.

Hermit Monk Keeps Vigil

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The dark figure bent against the wind and pulled a goatskin cloak around him as he walked across the desert sands.

After trudging five miles, he came to the gray, fortress-like walls of the ancinet monastery of Deir El Baramous.

The lone figure, a hermit monk named Abdel Messih ("Slave of Christ") stood before the closed door and pulled a bell rope. In a few minutes, a hooded monk looked over the top of the wall and lowered a basket. Abdel Messih placed in the basket a few mats and crosses he had woven from palm leaves during the week. The basket went up and shortly came back down carrying a few bits of hard bread.

Abdel Messih took the bread and went back out into the desert of Wadi Natrun to his limestone cave, his contact with human beings ended for another week.

LONELY DAYS

During his lonely days, he sleeps and weaves his handwork. Through the nights, he stands outside his cave and prays by the hour for the salvation of the world.

Abdel Messih is a monk of the Coptic Church, the ancient Egyptian Christian community that regards St. Mark as its founder in the first century.

It is one of the primitive Eastern churches — among them the 15-century-old Ethiopian, the ancient Syrian Orthodox, the Assyrian and the Apostolic Armenian—which have survived as outposts of Christianity in the Middle East through the centuries of Islamic domination. They are among those Eastern churches Pope John referred to in his call for unity linked to his proposed Ecumenical Conference.

These Eastern Christians are descendants of powerful Christian communities once supreme in the Middle East and North Africa. After the coming of Islam in the seventh century, they were virtually wiped out. Only in little-noticed corners of the region have they managed to survive.

Before Islam, the most powerful Christian ruler in this region was the Ecumenical Orthodox Patriarch of Constantinople. Today, the Ecumenical Patriarch still lives in Constantinople but the city bears the Turkish name of Istanbul. The beautiful domed cathedral, Aya Sophia, long since was turned into a mosque and now is a national museum.

TOWERING MAN

The ecumenical Patriarch Athenagorous, a towering man with a long white beard, now has headquarters in an obscure compound in a slum section on the edge of the Golden Horn.

Today, there is not a single indigenous Christian community in Africa west of Egypt. Christianity was kept alive in Egypt by the tenacity of the Copts, who now number a little more than a million of Egypt's 22 million population.

The Copts are the only people in the world who use the language of the ancient pharaohs. Coptic is written in the alphabet of pre-Christian Egypt. In their monasteries, Coptic monks use hieroglyphic characters for decorative initial letters in illuminated manuscripts. They are proud of their descent from ancient Egypt and use names like "Ramis," "Isis," and "Amenophis" from pharaonic times.

The Copts split from the main body of the church in the fifth century because of doctrinal differences. Throughout their history, they have had intermittent periods of persecution. The early church here suffered from savage Roman persecutions, and the Copts date their calendar from the "Era Of The Martyrs"—the Roman persecution.

Under Islam, the Copts have suffered outright persecution only on rare occasions. But they are acutely conscious of being reduced to minority stauts.

The Coptic Patriarch is nominally head of the Ethiopian church — an ancient institution whose members consider themselves descendants of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Isolated from the main body of Christendom for centuries, the Ethiopian church has mixed in its practices much of Judaism and African Paganism.

TWO MAGICS

A favorite Ethiopian method of exercising demons is through mass baptisms each year on Jan. 6. Supposed to commemorate the baptism, of Christ in the Jordan, this is one of the most elaborate of Ethiopian rituals. A huge tent is pitched beside a stream, and priests conduct services throughout the night. Following Jewish tradition, the Ark Of The Covenand is kept inside the tent. The next morning throngs gather to be sprinkled by water from the stream, and many jump in to be sure they are washed free of evil spirits.

There are approximately four to five million Christians in Ethiopia, mostly in the central highlands. The lowlands on all sides around them are populated by Pagans and Moslems.

At about the same time the Copts broke with the mainstream of the church, another group with similar beliefs split off in Syria and became known as the Syrian Jacobite (orthodox) Church. Now reduced to a tiny community thinly spread through Iraq and Syria, this group claims to be the lineal descendant of the church founded in Antioch by the Apostles in New Testament times.

ANCIENT GROUP

In northern Iraq and Syria is another ancient Christian group calling themselves Assyrians. These are remnants of a powerful community which broke from the mother church in 431 a.d. over the so-called Nestorian heresy. Driven from the orthodox Byzantine Empire, the Nestorians found hospitality in Persia and began a great eastward movement of Christianity. But they barely survived the violence of the Mongol invasions of Genghis Khan. Since then they have been decimated by succeeding persecutions ntil reduced to the tiny Assyrian community around Mosul, Iraq, and the Jezira sector of northern Syria.

The Assyrians still speak, and use in their liturgy, the ancient Syria language spoken in the area at the time of Christ.

Claiming to be the oldest national church of all is the Apostolic Armenian Church, whose membership is scattered throughout the Middle East. The rise of communism has split this ancient church. Its traditional mother church is in Etchmiadzin, Soviet Armenia, and there its highest ecclesiastical authority, the Catholicos of Etchmiadzin, has his headquarters.

Anti-Communist Armenians now tend to regard the Catholicos of Sis, established in Antelyas, Lebanon, as their sporitual head instead of the Catholicos of Etchmiadzin. A majority of them, however, still regard Etchmiadzin as their sporitual home.

The best-known Armenian leader actually is a catholic. He is cardinal Gregoire Agagianian, of the Armenian Catholic church, who was prominently mentioned as a possible choice for pope. The armenian Catholics are a "Uniate" church; they retain the original language, liturgy and traditions of their fellow Armenians. The only difference is that they recognize the Papacy in Rome.

Loch Ness Monster Was Hoax

MILAN, Italy (AP) A man who claims to have invented the Loch Ness monster admitted sadly that the beast is bogus.

Francesco Gasparini says he made up the yarn whiling away some idle hours in London back in 1933 when he was correspondent in Britain for an Italian newspaper.

Newspaper files of a quarter century ago seem to bear him out. It was about that time that the monster first reared its ugly head into the world press, although Scotland had had legends about the critter for centuries.

Gasparini says he merely stretched a two line item into a big fish story. He blamed other reporters and even some scientists for letting the yarn get out of hand.

His explanation as published in the Milan magazine Visto says:

"I invented the monster myself.

"Back about the beginning of August, 1933, I was running short of factual news of any interest for the Italian readers of my paper when I recalled having read something about fisherman catching a strange fish in Loch Ness.

"It was only a two-line item in the Glasgow Herald.

"But that strange fish became a monster as I wrote the story for my paper."

He said he had hoped to knock the story down in a week or two, but the creature of his imagination turned out to be a Frankenstein.

"Other papers," he said, "began to print eyewitness accounts of the monster being sighted. Scientists were quoted. An official investigation was proposed in the House of Commons."

That silenced him, Gasparini said.

"But I have decided now to settle the whole thing by telling the truth about it," he said. "And this time—it is the truth."

Vernal Madness Looms Again On Nation's College Campuses

By HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Staff Writer

Who left a dead horse in the vestibule of the Sigma Chi house? How did the alligators get into the campus lake? Whence the rickety outhouse surrounding the seated statue of a venerable trustee?

Yes, it's that time of year again on American college campuses.

Vernal madness, say the psychiatrists and talk learnedly about Bacchanalian rites and fertility cycles.

PRANKSTERS

The pranksters that bloom in the spring have nothing to do with the thing called education — beyond carrying on an ancient tradition of making life merry for themselves and miserable for the faculty.

It's been going on since Athenian undergrads tried to give Socrates a hot sandal in the marketplace. Boys will be boys, girls will be girls, and when the voice of the turtle is heard again in the land, the turtle is just as apt to turn up in the dean's bed.

There's really nothing much anyone can do about it.

The appalling sight of an intense, introverted honors student, a quoter of Proust and dabbler in Einstein, laboring mightily under cloak of night to hoist a jaguar to the top of the music building defies academic analysis.

In a critique of pure unreason, Associated Press bureaus across the country sampled the best pranks, past and present, of a select group of colleges to determine if modern campus comedians were living up to the zany standards set by their elders.

The results showed that in most cases they weren't, but they were certainly giving it the old college try.

LOST STRIPES

Recently at Annapolis, for instance, a flock of student brigade officers lost their stripes when Susie Johnson, a pert high school senior, trampled daintly on 113 years of tradition by marching into Bancroft Hall to dine with the midshipmen, disguised as one of the boys.

But for all the furor, this was still minor league stuff compared with the antics of sophomore J. A. Cygon, a mechanical and electrical genius who was tossed out of the Naval Academy in 1933 for what the records termed "conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline, re electric wiring, clock telephone, etc."

No official document could ever adequately describe the ingenious havoc that Cygon wrought. Tapping into the electric circuits, he rigged up a control switch in his room to stop the clocks when he was late for formation, ring bells to end classes prematurely, halt elevators between floors and perform similar feats of electrical derring-do. With Cygon at the switch, Annapolis ran amok like a scene in a Groucho Marx movie until he inadvertently trapped the officer of the day between floors in an elevator and brought about the investigation that hastened his departure.

TEMPTATION

The temptation to tamper with campus equipment and scenery is one that few pranksters can resist. Statues go astray or suddenly don dainty undergarments. Skeletons from the bio lab dance over the head of a droning lecturer. Vegetables sprout on a recently seeded lawn. Stripteasers appear with spurious invitations to perform on a class election platform. A color slide of a gorgeous nude turns up inexplicably in the middle of an illustrated talk on "Etruscan Art Forms."

Last month the 125-pound bronze bust of James Kent, an obscure 19th century jurist, strayed from New York University's Hall of Fame to the lawn of a Lutheran Church three miles away.

The speed and ingenuity with which gagsters can execute an elaborate prank constantly baffles the authorities. Former Football Coach Earl Merritt of Pomona College gulped a fast cup of coffee one morning, pecked his wife and hurried out the door—right into a brick wall. Busy little hands had mortared up his apartment entrance during the night.

At Stanford they still whisper in awe of the ghost of Hoover Tower, the incredible apparition that climbed the 218-foot high west wall leaving black paper footprints 6 feet long on the night of May 24, 1949. One year later the ghost walked again, this time down the tower, as indicated by the direction of new prints. The mountain climbing club denied all.

PAUL MARTIN LOOKS 'EM OVER

EASTER GATHERING

Some of northeast Louisiana's best known athletes, who developed high school rivalries and are continuing their careers in college, renew acquaintances here this week in Northeast's first annual Easter Baseball Tournament that includes Louisiana State U., Mississippi State, and Northwestern State in addition to Coach George Luffey's Northeast State Indians.

Area athletes, totaling 29, are slated to see action in the three-day round robin tournament opening Thursday and running through Saturday.

LSU is loaded with Bastrop talent with four ex-Rams on the Tiger roster that shows two Monroe products and a Vidalia athlete. Northwestern has one each from Farmerville, West Monroe, and Monroe, and Northeast will offer an all-northeast Louisiana edition with five from Monroe, three from Rayville, two from Pioneer, and one each from Farmerville, Fairbanks, Bastrop, Winnsboro, Oak Grove, Crowville, Harrisonburg, West Monroe and Jena.

The Loftin twins, Bob and Bill, head the LSU Bastrop delegation that includes infielder Frank Naff and outfielder Ronnie Johnston. Bill Loftin is a catcher, Bob is a pitcher and also plays first base. Outfielder Mickey Yerger and pitcher Jim Altick, ex-Neville stars here, are with LSU along with Vidalia's pitcher Fred Falkenheiner.

Northwestern has shortstop Billy Jack Booth of Farmerville, outfielder George Smith of West Monroe, and pitcher Larry Reeves of Monroe.

In addition to the brothers' act for LSU, another set of brothers will be operating from opposite dugouts—Larry Reeves of Northwestern and Terry Reeves of Northeast. And two rival coaches, Raymond Didier of LSU and Luffey of Northeast were once teammates as well as teacher - pupil. Luffey was a freshman at Southwestern Louisiana Institute when he played on the same squad with graduating Didier who came back to SLI after a semester as a high school coach to take over as head baseball coach of the Lafayette Bulldogs and tutor Luffey in the latter's remaining SLI years.

The Mississippi State Maroons have no Louisiana talent on their baseball squad, but many area followers of the Mississippi club are following them with interest.

Coach Luffey yesterday said all original tournament plans are unchanged for Thursday and Friday, but that Saturday's games—Northwestern vs. Northeast and Mississippi State vs. LSU — will be played as a double header on the Northeast diamond beginning at 1:30 p.m. instead of single games at the same time at Northeast and at Legion Memorial Stadium. The Saturday curtain - droppers will both be played as seven-inning contests.

Otherwise, games will be played morning and afternoon as single contests at Legion stadium and at Northeast Thursday, Friday, and Saturday morning in the 12 - game event.

First and second place awards, plus all - tourney team trophies, will be presented immediately after the LSU-Mississippi State game Saturday. Trophies are being donated by Eddie Hemphill. Visiting teams already have reservations at three Monroe hotels.

TEENERS PREPARE

Teener League baseball in Monroe is looking forward to its biggest year with all season plans set, except for naming the manager for one club.

Buddy Berry, president of this league that is sponsored nationally by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in much the same way the American Legion conducts its junior baseball program, has registrations underway at the Monroe Community Center for eligible 13 - through - 15 - year-olds, has four clubs lined up again for an 18 - game schedule opening May 23, and only needs the completion of the managerial ranks and completion of player registrations to get started with the initial tryouts April 18.

"Bucky" McElroy, former Neville High football star who made a splash nationally with a great Mississippi Southern eleven a few years ago and played professionally in the States and Canada, reappears on the home scene this summer as a Teener League club manager. Bucky will skipper the Monroe Candy and Specialty team that didn't win a game last year, but is predicting a better future this summer. Paul Lasuzzo will pilot Missouri Pacific Recreation Department, and John Roach is in charge of the Sterlington Lions. Louisiana - Arkansas Equipment hasn't named its manager so far.

MORALE BOOSTER

We get the word: "Keep your eyes on Columbia. That upset last year of the Mangham Dragons seems to have put new life and spirit into the boys."

Anyway, fifty - one candidates turned out to greet Coach James Turner when Columbia High opened spring football practice a few days ago. The squad represents one of the biggest ever to report for the Caldwell parish school that knocked defending champion Mangham down in the district title Class B race that ultimately went to Holly Ridge.

Too, athletes of Grayson and Columbia did themselves proud in the recent Caldwell Parish Science Fair in which athletes posted an average better than that of other high school contenders in the non-athletic competition.

Redskin Thinclads Win

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Northeast's unbeaten thinclads, conquering a slow track and chilling weather, swept to first place in ten events and shared the top spot in two others in piling up 80½ points to beat Louisiana Tech and Northwestern in a tri-angular track meet here Saturday afternoon. Tech was second with 60¾ points and the Demons trailed with 36¾.

Bastrop High School grabbed first place in every event but two to triumph over Ouachita and West Monroe in the prep division with 122½ points.

The win for Coach Lou Hartzog's Northeast harriers was their fourth of the campaign. The Indians beat Tech in a dual meet, took top honors in the Fort Worth meet and won another tri-angular meet here for their earlier decisions.

As usual, the fleetfooted Styron twins, Don and Dave, gave the Tribesmen their biggest boost and caught the fancy of the fine turnout of hardy fans. Dave broke the wire first in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and tied for first in the high jump and pole vault. Dave also finished second in the broad jump and led off the winning mile relay and 440-yard relay.

Dave was the meet's top individual scorer with 23½ points and Don had 15.

Tech's heralded Pat Garrett gave Dave Styron a run for his money in the century dash, but the Northeast speedster caught him at the three-quarters mark and finished three strides in front in 9.7 seconds. Garrett was timed in 10.1 seconds.

Northeast's ace long-distance runner, Jack Williams, gave the host club a win in the mile event but was hard-pressed by Tech's Russell Lewis. Williams held a 30-yard advantage with half a lap to go and Lewis closed the gap to five yards before Williams broke the tape in 4:33.7. Williams injured an ankle in the race and was forced to sit out the two-mile run.

Bob Hayes gave Tech one of its two first place finishes with a 9:54 time in the two-mile race. The Bulldog steadily increased his margin after the first mile and wound up a quarter of a lap in front of Northeast's Buddy Eiland. Bill Frye of the Indians took third.

Dave Styron, after taking the 220-yard dash in 22.2, high-jumped six feet and pole vaulted twelve feet to complete four-way ties in the two field events. Bobby Gunn of Northwestern, and Bob Goree and Dave Tillinghast of Tech matched Styron's mark in the pole vault. Three Techmen, Wayne Melton, Pete New and Tillinghast, posted identical jumps in the lower cross bar competition.

Roger Beumer, Northeast's sprint handyman, was third in the 100, second in the 220 and ran on the 440 and 880 relays.

Dick Hayes barely edged out Tech's Dayton Baker in the 440-yard dash to win by half a step in 50.5. Don Martin gave Tech its only other first place with a victory in the 880. Bob Jaenicke of the hosts took second.

The Styrons, Jim Mouser and Hayes combined to give the Northeast entry a first in the mile relay. Their time of 3:22.4 was several seconds over the usual clocking of the Sugar Bowl winners.

Northwestern dominated the field events, winning three and tying for another. Dale Hoffpauir tossed the javelin 187 feet 6 inches and Bert Heckel had the best mark in the discus and shot put.

Coach "Wig" Riley's Bastrop trackmen ran away from the field in the high school competition. Coleman of Ouachita won the high jump and javelin throw, but from that point on in it was Bastrop all the way.

Ouachita was second to the Morehouse Parish school with 48 points, followed by West Monroe with 35½.

Horner Moves Out Front In Gulf Tourney

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Veteran professional Scudday Horner of Montgomery, Ala., hustled up the ladder with a 6-under-par 65 Saturday and took the third round lead in the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament.

The 44-year-old Horner's par-busting card gave him a total of 204, one stroke better than Mason Rudolph, 24, of Clarksdale, Tenn., a newcomer competing against some of the nation's finest home professionals.

Rudolph, a former member of the U.S. Walker Cup team, had putting worries and posted a one-under-par 70.

Horner, host professional at the Montgomery Country Club for the last 12 years, won the Gulf Coast title in 1948, when it was a 54-hole event.

Trailing the top two with the final holes Sunday were Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., at 210, and Johnny Cook of Minnetonka Beach, Minn., at 211.

The leaders:

Detroit Gets Larry Doby For Francona

Doby, 34-year-old Negro who became the first man of his race to play in the American League, broke in with the Indians in 1947. This is the fourth time since October of 1955 he has been involved in a player transaction.

The trade, first one completed by the Tigers since Rick Ferrell became general manager in January when John McHale left to take a similar job with Milwaukee, brings to Detroit an aging, but still powerful slugger who always has liked to hit in Briggs Stadium. There, the inviting right field fence is just 325-feet from home plate.

And it sends to Cleveland a 25-year-old fellow who announced earlier in the week "I want to be traded."

Doby played only about half the time last season with the fifth-place Indians and saw considerable service as a pinch hitter. Still he hit 13 home runs, drove in 45 runs and batted .283.

Francona has been with three American League clubs in three seasons. A combination outfielder-first baseman, he broke in with Baltimore in 1956 and batted .258 in 139 games.

He has not been a regular since. Last year Francona split his time between Chicago and Detroit, batting .258 with the Sox and .246 with the Tigers.

Baltimore shipped Francona to Chicago in a seven-player deal in December of 1957. The Tigers got him, along with relief pitcher Bill Fischer, last June 15 in exchange for first baseman Ray Boone and pitcher Bob Shaw.

Vertex Beats Amerigo At Gulfstream

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Vertex won a brilliant stretch duel with Amerigo Saturday in the $121,800 Gulfstream Park Handicap after heavily favored Bardstown was scratched from the race.

Vertex, 3-2 favorite under 125 pounds, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:01 3-5 in a pouring rain and won by a neck. Air Pilot was another neck away in third place and Nouredding finished fourth.

Vertex, under Jockey Sammy Boulmetis, surrendered the lead only briefly around the three-quarter mark where Amerigo, under Bill Hartack, pushed his nose in front.

Tribe Baseball Tilt Cancelled

Yesterday's scheduled baseball game between Northeast and Oklahoma Baptist University was cancelled because of wet grounds.

Northeast's next game will be next Thursday against LSU in the opening contest of Northeast's Easter Baseball Tournament.

Hawks Beat Minneapolis, Lose Martin

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks blasted Minneapolis Saturday night 124-90, thanks to a 40-point game by Cliff Hagan but lost the services of their playmaker little Slater (Dugie) Martin through a leg injury.

Martin probably will be out of the entire Western Division playoff series.

St. Louis, defending champions of the National Basketball Assn., holds a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven series with the second game coming up at Minneapolis Sunday.

But the loss of Martin, the unselfish, hustling Texas tornado, is a severe blow to their chances.

Dr. Stan London, Hawks' team physician, said the bone was put back in place and X-rays taken at Jewish Hospital showed no break.

Martin, the shortest and oldest player in the NBA at 5-10 and 33, has played on more title teams than any player in NBA history and is considered the glue which holds the Hawks together.

St. Louis started slowly but had the game in hand with a 16-point lead when Martin was injured midway in the second quarter.

Martin, lying on the floor, pointed out Ed Fleming of the Lakers and shouted, "he pushed me." At this, Hawk owner Ben Kerner dashed onto the court and angrily pointed a finger at Fleming.

However, the dispute quickly subsided with no players taking part and no technical foul was called.

Hagan's 20-point third quarter proved a saving factor for the Hawks because the Lakers rallied in this period, once moving within nine points at 75-66. Then Hagan went on another spree and the quarter ended 87-68.

PCC Champions Cop Finals, 71-70

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — California won its first National Collegiate basketball championship Saturday night, beating West Virginia 71-70 as baby-faced Darral Imhoff reeled from goat to hero in the last 50 seconds of a frenzied showdown before 18,498 at Freedom Hall.

It was the first title for a Pacific Coast Conference champion since Stanford won in 1942.

Imhoff, a 6-10 towhead who looks like the kid next door except he's probably twice as tall, seemed to have committed the boner of boners when, with 50 seconds left and Cal leading 69-66, he was called for goal-tending on a lay-in shot by West Virginia's great Jerry West.

The officials allowed the field goal and, only one point behind, West Virginia promptly tied up Imhoff and had a big chance to gain possession of the ball on the jump.

That's when Imhoff started making up for his two lapses. He got the tip and, with 17 seconds to play, his tip-in basket clinched the victory for the Golden Bears of Pete Newell.

The fielder made it 71-68 in Cal's favor and Willie Akers' lay-in for West Virginia five seconds before the buzzer was wasted.

West Virginia's consolation was a 28-point performance by West, enabling him to tie the five-game tournament record of 160 points set in 1956 by Hal Lear of Temple.

Cincinnati nailed third place, whipping Louisville 93-85 in the consolation opener as All-America Oscar Robertson scored 39 points for an all-time major college two-season record of 1,962.

Winding up his second varstiy year with the Bearcats, Oscar's two-year total smashed the mark of 1,947 set in 1953 and 1954 by Furman's Frank Selvy.

With the championship, the cool, poised Bears from the West Coast closed out their greatest season with a 25-4 record and a 16-game winning streak, the nation's longest now among major schools.

But they'll never have a closer call than they had with this determined West Virginia bunch, which never quit—even when trailing by 13 points at 57-44 with 12½ minutes remaining.

West, a tremendous player again against the many-handed California defense, moved into the pivot, replacing slower Bob Clousson at that point, and in the next nine minutes the Mountaineers outscored the Bears 18-8 and trailed only 65-62.

Cal's Bob Dalton, with Denny Fitzpatrick the key man in Cal's victory, flipped in a jump shot with 3:10 left and Bill McClintock clicked on a rebound 20 seconds later to offset a pair of free throws by West Virginia's Ronnie Retton.

That put West Virginia's Southern Conference champions down 69-64, but Bucky Bolyard hit two free throws with a minute remaining to set the stage for the goal-tending on Imhoff. The big Cal pivotman was called three times for goal-tending in all, the first two coming in the opening six minutes of play.

Fitzpatrick led the California scorers with 20 points, while Dalton had 15 and Imhoff and Jack Grout 10 each. Akers and Clousson each had 10 for West Virginia in support of West.

California, which reached the national round of four here by beating Utah and St. Mary's in regional play after nailing its third straight PCC crown, looked as if it would be swept off the court in the first nine minutes of play.

Its touted defense, rated the best in the nation, had so many leaks that the slick Mountaineers whizzed through for 11 quick field goals and a 23-13 lead. At that point Coach Newell pulled Imhoff, Al Buch and McClintock to the bench and inserted the 6-8 Dick Doughty, 6-5 Jack Grout and back court man Bernie Simpson.

The team went into a three-quarter press and in six minutes it paid off for a 16-3 burst that put Cal into a 29-26 lead.

Leading 39-33 at the half, the Bears came out full of confidence and in 2½ minutes their lead was up to 13 points at 47-34. West Virginia, a great second-half team all season, nibbled away during the next few minutes but never got closer than nine and officials were shining up the trophy in anticipation of handing it to Cal.

Then, all of a sudden, the Mountaineers came running. Late surges had done it 14 times this season—but this time it wasn't quite enough.

Nats Outlast Boston To Square Series

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Syracuse Nationals edged Boston 120-118 in a thriller Saturday night and evened their National Basketball Assn. Eastern Division playoff series at one game apiece.

The teams meet again Sunday afternoon in Boston, where the Celtics won the opener 131-109.

The Nationals' victory, before a roaring crowd of 7,815, came on a fourth-period surge led by George Yardley, obtained from Detroit five weeks ago.

Yardley dropped in a foul, a driving layup and a long one-hander to push the Nats to a 114-108 lead.

Dolph Schayes scored 34 points. With seconds to go he hit with a layup that gave the Nats a four-point bulge and proved decisive.

Boston drove for 11 straight points late in the second period, erased a seven - point Syracuse lead and held a 60-57 edge at halftime.

Syracuse bounced back quickly in the third period on two quick field goals and five foul shots by Schayes. The Nats moved to a seven - point lead before Boston caught up late in the period.

Syracuse got a big break when Ramsey fouled out with two minutes left in the third period. He had scored 19 points. Syracuse led at the time 78-74 and quickly jumped into a nine-point lead at 84-75.

The winner of the best-of-seven series will face the Western Division titleholder in professional basketball's world series.

LHSAA MEETING

Cage Playoffs To Be Investigated

ALEXANDRIA, La. (Special) — Spring football practice escaped without a scratch and the basketball playoff system and the javelin throw were saved for at least another year in the annual meeting of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association here Friday and Saturday.

However, the state playoff system may be in for a change by next year since a motion authorizing commissioner T. H. Waters to appoint a committee from all classifications to look into the possibilities of unifying the basketball championship for all classes on the same date at the same site was passed by the deligates.

A motion to eliminate spring football practice never got past committee Friday but the motion to eliminate the javelin throw reached the floor but was tabled.

A mild restriction was placed on basketball, that no games be permitted until after the first six weeks of school.

Voluntary advancement from one class to another was made more difficult. Motions forcing schools wishing to advance to notify the commissioner of their intentions not later than Feb. 15, receive a two - thirds vote of approval from the members of the higher classification, compete for the district football championship and one other major sport (track, basketball or baseball), were passed.

Banquet Held At A. L. Smith

STERLINGTON, La. (Special) — Rev. Bill Hunt, associate pastor of the West Monroe First Baptist Church, was the main speaker at the A. L. Smith Junior High basketball banquet here Friday night.

Mrs. Bill Jordan, team sponsor, and coach Jimmy Rainwater presented letters and merit awards to the members of the two teams. Sterlington Bank, Western Auto, Mrs. Jordan and Rainwater sponsored the awards.

The players presented trophies won in tournaments to school principal O. K. Bailey. Mrs. Joy Alford prepared the banquet's food.

DISQUALIFIED

Houston Loses Meet--No Baton

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — Ohio State won the university division of the West Texas Relays Saturday when Houston was disqualified in the final event—the mile relay.

The Cougars ran the first leg of the relay without a baton and thus were kicked out although they finished first in the event on a great anchor lap by Canadian Stan Levenson that left Glenn Davis in the lurch.

The Buckeyes wound up with 77 points and Houston had 70.

The mishap that gave Ohio State the championship instead of a second place finish climaxed a riotous day that saw six records smashed and one tied in the big 3-division meet.

The Houston error was something new for track in these parts. As the race started the leadoff Houston runner, Danny Frey was frantically trying to find a baton. He finally started without it and by the time he got around a baton had been found and given to the second man, Jack Smyth.

Davis, world's record holder in the quarter-mile, took the baton two yards behind Levenson but fell back and Levenson was ahead by five yards at the finish.

Baylor was third in the university class with 52½ points and Duke finished fourth with 24½.

John Macy, the long - striding pole from Houston, set a record in the open 2-mile run, doing the distance in 9:35.5. It bettered the record of 9:48 set by Walter McNew of Texas in 1958.

David Clark of North Texas State and Richard Bowers of Ohio State vaulted 13 feet 6 inches to tie the record set in 1958 by Gerry Peters of Southern Methodist.

Lee Williams of Ohio State, crack relay runner, broad jumper and hurdler, was high point man in the university division with 17½ points.

Eligible Boys Urged To Sign Up For Leagues

Eligible boys are urged to register immediately for Little, Dixie and Pelican League baseball. Boys can sign up at the Monroe Community Center, 113½ Catalpa Street.

The deadline for registration is March 31. The first tryouts will be held Saturday, April 4.

Boys 8 through 12 are eligible for the Litttle League, the Dixie League is for boys 13 and 14 and the Pelican League for boys 15 through 17.

MARTELLO, HOOPER ALSO RATE

Gulf States Players Lead All-Small College Quintet

By TRUMAN STACEY
American Press Sports Editor
Written for the Louisiana Sports Writers Assn.)

LAKE CHARLES, La. — The Gulf States conference's Big Three — Jack Moreland of Louisiana Tech, James Leach of Northwestern and Stan Kernan of McNeese — were also the standout selections for the 1958 - 59 All-Louisiana Small college five.

The fourth annual all - star squad, selected by the Louisiana Sports Writers association, also includes a pair of sparkling performers from non - GSC outfits—Gerald Martello of Centenary and James Hooper of Grambling.

Leach was named the state's outstanding small - college player just as he was named the Gulf States conference's outstanding player for the 1958-59 season.

In winning the honor, Leach was the choice of 12 of the writers and sportscasters who balloted for the squad. Kernan and Moreland were his nearest competitors, and Martello and Hooper also drew support from the voters.

There were no unanimous choices in the voting, but Moreland, Tech's rangy 6-feet-7 ace, had the most votes. Based on five points for a first team vote and three points for a second team vote, Moreland polled 95 points, tops for the team.

Big Jack, who is only a sophomore, but already has made himself a name to be ranked among the state's all-time basketball greats, is one of four repeaters from last year's first team. The repeaters are Leach, Kernan and Hooper.

Leach, smallest player on the team, was also the most potent. He poured 186 points through the nets in his last five games, closing out his career with a whopping 54 points against SLI. In all, he had 675 points for the season and ended his Northwestern career with a four - year total of 1,736.

Moreland did everything a big man should do — and did it a little better than any other performer in the state. He was his team's top scorer (528 points) and rebounder (468 in 25 games) and and ranked high among the shooting leaders, both in field goals and free tries.

Kernan, chosen the state's outstanding player last year, lacked the strong supporting cast of the past two years, and emerged as the field leader and morale-builder of a young McNeese crew, as well as its most effective offensive figure. He scored 387 points in 20 games.

Martello and Hooper were the leading performers for Louisiana's two post - season representatives. Martello paced the Gents all year, averaging 16.3 points per game, and was second in rebounds for the Gents. He was the big reason why Centenary won a post-season bid to the NCAA's small-college national tournament.

Hooper paced Grambling to a perfect 26 0 regular-season record and a berth in the National Collegiate (NAIA tourney). He led the Southwest athletic conference in scoring with 659 points and a 26.4 average per game. He was eighth in field goal shooting, sixth in free try shooting, and his 44-point spree against Mississippi Industrial was the conference's top individual performance. He was ranked 13th in the nation among small - college scoring leaders.

LSU BEATS A&M, RICE

Cannon First In Shot Put, Dash

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's fleet strongman, won the shotput and 100-yard dash Saturday as the Tigers whipped Rice and Texas A&M in a triangular track meet.

LSU totaled 74 1-3 points, Texas A&M 52 2-3, and Rice 42.

More than 5,000 partisan fans watched the defending Southeastern Conference champions defeat their Southwest Conference rivals. LSU officials said the sellout crowd was the largest ever to see a track meet in the South.

Cannon tossed the shot 53 feet, five inches, beating his nearest rival by more than two feet.

His time in the 100-yard dash was a 10th of a second slower than he ran the previous week against Florida State. The Baton Rouge junior still clocked 9.6 seconds despite a chill wind in edging Taylor Jones of Rice.

LSU won five of 10 running events and took three firsts and tied for a fourth in the six field events.

Rice's main strength came in the dash events, with victories in the 220, quarter mile relay and mile relay.

Texas A&M won only the two-mile run and the javelin but piled up its points on second and third places due to its overall strength.

Summary:

440 relay — 1, Rice (Hollingshead, Speer, Rouse, Jones). 2, LSU. 3, Texas A&M. :41.3

Mile run — 1, Seefeld, LSU. 2, Wheeler, Rice. 3, Hickman, A&M. 4:27.7

100-YARD DASH

Morrow Defeats Sime With 9.35

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Morrow exploded to a 9.35 seconds hundred-yard dash Saturday to beat Dave Sime in the fourth renewal of their battle for national sprint supremacy.

Most 100-yard dash records carry the time only to the tenth of a second, but for this special race, the timers carried the time to the hundredth of a second.

The Abilene Christian College star came out of his starting holes like a thunderbolt and shot to a two-yard lead in the firstt five yards.

Sime, the Duke University redhead who is co-holder with Morrow and five others of the world's 100-yard record at 9.3, gained in the final 50 yards and was one pace back at the finish.

Three watches caught Morrow, sprint champion of the Olympic Games, in 9.35, while Sime was timed in 9.4.

Four runners were in the race. Ollan Cassell of the University of Houston finished 3 yards back of Sime. James Segrest of Abilene Christian College was a yard behind Cassell.

Glenn Davis, the Ohio State great who was 400-meter hurdle champion of the Olympic Games, was scheduled to run but withdrew at the last minute. Davis' team competed in the West Texas Relays and Davis ran in some of the relays.

The Morrow-Sime duel started in 1956 when Sime won at the Drake Relays in 9.4. Morrow evened the count with victory in the 100 meters at the NCAA in 10.4. Last year Sime whipped Morrow at the Big Spring, Tex., relays in 9.6.

Saturday's race was the best the two ever have run against each other.

Sime also was supposed to run a special 220-yard dash against Morrow but withdrew because he said he thought it was too early in the season and the 56-degree weather was too cold.

Morrow won the special 220 in 21.0, beating Davis by three yards. Davis finished third, a yard back of Cassell, who put up a gallant fight, and was only a half-pace behind Morrow coming into the last ten yards.

Segrest was fourth in the race, finishing three yards back of Davis. Only four competed.

Sime never has beaten Morrow in the 220. In the NCAA 200 meters of 1956 Sime pulled a muscle and couldn't finish as Morrow won in 20.6.

Pettit Named To All-Pro Cage Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Record-breaking Bob Pettit of St. Louis, rookie Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis and Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and Bill Russell of Boston comprise the National Basketball Assn all-star team announced Saturday.

The team was selected by a vote of sportswriters and broadcasters in each of the eight league cities.

Pettit, who set a season's record by scoring 2,105 points, received the most votes. He was named on all but one ballot. The St. Louis star and the Celtics' Cousy and Sharman are repeaters from last year's first team. Russell was a second-team selection a year ago.

Baylor is only the third rookie in the 13-year history of the NBA to make the first all-stars. The others were Pettit and Alex Groza of Indianapolis.

Cousy was selected for the eighth consecutive season and Pettit for the fifth time in a row.

The second all-star team is made up of Paul Arizin of Philadelphia, Cliff Hagan, St. Louis, Dolph Schayes, Syracuse, Slater Martin, St. Louis and Richie Guerin, New York.

Players on the first all-stars will each receive $200. Those on the second team get $100 apiece.

CIRCUIT TO BE ORGANIZED

Amateur League Meet Here Today

Area baseball enthusiasts meet at 2:30 here today in the American Legion home in an attempt to get the proposed Northeast Louisiana-South Arkansas amateur baseball league past the talking stage.

Representatives from Monroe, Bastrop, Crossett, Oak Grove, Lake Providence, Delhi and several other area towns are expected to organize a six or eight-club league for boys 18-years-old or over.

An earlier organizational meeting at Bastrop in February failed to accomplish anything since most of the league boosters could not attend because of basketball games.

The brainchild of Bastrop businessman Leonard Pratt, the proposed league would have a 28-game schedule with games to be played on Friday nights and Sunday afternoons from May 15 to August 15.

Only local boys would be permitted to play on the various teams and no professionals would be allowed.

Tentative plans call for a board of eight directors for each team and a league president to direct the circuit.

Pratt hopes to start season ticket sales soon after the formation of the league. A season ticket, costing $2.00 for adults and 50 cents for children under 18, bought in one league town would be good for all games, home or away.

Pratt has received assurances of support from area major league scouts, several mayors and Congressman Otto E. Passman.

Prospective league players are urged to attend the meeting today, which Pratt expects to attract as many as 300 league supporters.

SIX LETTERMEN BACK

Colvin Opens 8th Year At Dubach

DUBACH, La. (Special) — With six lettermen returning, Dubach High School this month opened its eighth baseball campaign under the leadership of veteran coach Doug Colvin.

Colvin, whose teams have three times won the state Class B championsip, has compiled one of the finest coaching records in the state, registering 125 victories against only 25 losses.

Colvin, Berry and Sharp are expected to share the hurling duties along with William Green Watts returns to his catching post, with help due to come from Jackie Martin and Lavon Brown.

Duback has a record of 3-1 this season, splitting a pair with the Louisiana Tech freshmen and beating Bernice and Downsville.

TIGERS-BRAVES

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Southpaw Billy Hoeft turned in his third straight sparkling pitching job of the exhibition season Saturday as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Milwaukee Braves 6-2.

Harvey Kuenn came out of his batting slump with three hits in four turns and Ossie Alvarez added a pair of safeties. Detroit ran its exhibition record to 6-4.

Hoeft pitched the first four innings, blanking the defending National League champions on two singles. He now has allowed only one run and six hits in 12 innings of work.

PHILS-PIRATES

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Ruben Gomez and Robin Roberts pitched eight-hit ball and Harry Anderson smashed a two-run homer as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1 in an exhibition game Saturday.

The Phillies, idled the past five days by rain, hopped on pitcher Ron Kline for three runs in the first inning. Richie Ashburn doubled and scored on Eddie Bouchee's first hit of the spring, a single. Anderson then cracked his third exhibition home run to make it 3-0.

Gomez gave up three hits in three innings and Roberts five in six. Kline and Bob Porterfield pitched for Pittsburgh and gave up 14 hits between them. Gomez was the winner and Kline the loser.

Bouchee had three hits in four at bats, while Anderson added a double and single to his home run, batting in three runs to make his spring RBI total 11. Third baseman Gene Freese also had three hits and a run batted in for the Phillies.

Pittsburgh scored its lone run off Roberts in the ninth on a double by Ted Kluszewski, an out and a single off the bat of Bob Clemente.

CUBS-RED SOX

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Jerry Kindall smacked a home run in the tenth inning Saturday to give the Chicago Cubs a 9-8 victory over the Boston Red Sox. It came on the first pitch thrown by Ted Wills, fourth Red Sox pitcher.

Rookie George Altman paced the 13-hit Chicago attack with four hits and four runs batted in. His hits included a home run and two doubles. Walt Moryn hit a three-run homer for the Cubs and Marty Keough a solo homer for Boston.

Frank Sullivan, Boston's starting pitcher, suffered a pulled muscle in the lower back in the first inning. It is believed he will be out of action at least a week.

GIANTS-INDIANS

Orlando Cepeda hit a home run off Perry, 22-year-old right-hander who pitched Class B ball last year. Allen yielded only two runs in four innings and fanned five.

A double by Gene Leek, the Indians' 21-year-old bonus boy from the University of Arizona, broke a 3-3 deadlock in the sixth inning. He connected off Stu Miller.

The Indians added two more runs in the ninth on a 400-foot double by Woody Held.

REDS-DODGERS

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers capitalized on three eighth inning errors to score three runs Saturday and beat Cincinnati 4-3.

Sandy Koufax, Carl Erskine and Rene Valdes combined to pitch a six-hitter for the Dodgers. A bases-empty homer by Jim Pendleton featured the losers' attack.

Rookie catcher Norm Sherry clubbed two singles and a homer to pace the Dodgers' 11-hit assault against Joe Tuxhall and Bob Purkey.

A's-SENATORS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Norm Zauchin blasted a two-run homer in the fifth inning and it proved enough to give the Washington Senators a victory over the Kansas City Athletics Saturday 5-1.

Young Jack Kralich, a left-hander from the semi-pro ranks, and Bill Fischer limited the A's only run when Joe DeMaestri's single drove home Kent Hadley in the seventh.

Ralph Terry started for the A's and held the Senators to two hits until the fifth, when Zauchin hit his home run. Russ Meyer and Tom Gorman finished. Gorman gave up three runs in the eighth when the A's committed three errors. Gorman chipped in with two miscues.

In a "B" game between the same teams, the A's sported an oddity in a left-handed catcher, erstwhile outfielder Whitey Herzog who worked the entire contest. The Senators won this contest, too, 4-0. Jim Lemon's three-run homer off Ned Garver in the first settled the issue.

REDS-DODGERS

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Rookie Frank Howard's eighth inning homer, a three-run drive over the left field fence, enabled a makeshift collection of Los Angeles Dodgers to edge the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2 Saturday in the first game played here since last Sunday.

The Reds picked up a pair of unearned runs in the opening round on two passes and a wild throw by Johnny Podres, the starting and winning pitcher. After that they failed to get a man to second base until the ninth when they loaded the bases with two outs before Art Fowler fanned rookie Haven Schmidt for the final out.

Podres and Fowler limited the Reds to three singles, while the Dodgers bombed the offerings of Orlando Pena and Miguel Cueller for nine, including three extra-base hits.

CARDS-CHISOX

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Joe Cunningham drove in four runs Saturday, including the last three with a bases-loaded triple, to give St. Louis a 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Twice during the game the Cardinals' first baseman was hit by pitches.

Cunningham singled home a first-inning run off Early Wynn, then was hit by the veteran Chicago right-hander in the right hip in the third and knocked down by a delivery that glanced off his plastic batting helmet in the fifth.

By the time Cunningham batted against Donovan in the seventh, the Red Birds had rallied to gain a 4-4 tie and the bases were loaded with two out. The left-handed hitter drove the ball over left fielder Johnny Callison's head.

Lindy McDaniel, making his first appearance since he underwent an appendectomy Feb. 17, gave up four of Chicago's runs in the two innings he pitched.

Girls In Action At B&B Monday

Blonde, barefooted Judy Grable meets newcomer Pat Lyda in half of a double main event as girl wrestlers return to B & B Arena Monday night.

Charley Laye, who has been giving Bill Strong a pasting lately, will meet Strong in the other main event. Both mains have hour limits with two falls to win.

A special event featuring Jerry Miller, who made an impressive debut here last week against Phil Brummett, and George Curtis completes the card.

Curtis and Miller will clash over the 20 - minute limit with one fall to win.

Miller, a Rockford, Ill., native, met Brummett in last week's main event and won when the Alexandria fireman was disqualified in the last fall.

Laye has been giving Strong a pretty rough time lately. Two weeks ago the Knoxville, Tenn., veteran booted William out of the ring and did the same thing last week on his way to a victory over the youngster.

Strong says things will be different this time.

"I know all of Laye's sneaky tricks now and I'll be on the lookout Monday night," vows Bill.

JJudy Gable has appeared in the local ring on several occasions. A nice looking blonde who fights sans shoes, Judy is deadly with drop kicks and the like.

Ark. State Track Team Opens Here

JONESBORO, Ark. — Arkansas State's track and field team opens the 1959 season Tuesday at Monroe against Northeast Louisiana State College, but coach Bob Denton's cindermen aren't too optimstic about winning their first outing.

"Northeast has one of the finest college track teams in America," Denton says. "They showed their strength in the Fort Worth meet. We'll be extremely lucky if we can take five first places."

Denton has reason to moan. Gone are his three top scorers from last season. Only pole vaulter Darrell Blocker and hurdler Terry Robinson are proven point producers. Blocker holds the school vault record at 12-6½. Robinson holds both hurdle marks, set two seasons ago. He was ineligible last year due to scholastic difficulties.

Robinson's low hurdle time is 24.9, on a curve. His high hurdle mark is 15.6. Neither are too impressive, however, since Arkansas State just has never been blessed with topnotch hurdlers.

Big Frank Smith, a Miami, Fla., freshman, could make the Indians tough in the shot and discus. He holds the Miami high school record in both events. He has thrown the shot 45-8 in practice this spring. His best discus toss is 145, which is better than the school record. Muscular Jerry Arant also has looked good in the weights and could give State a 1-2 punch.

State's sprinters are capable of 10 - flat in the 100 - yard dash, but it's doubtful they'll do that good in their first meet. Dave Styron should coast home an easy winner in both the 100 and 220. John Coffey, Dub Goodson, Don Miller, Alan Stolt and Roy Nelson will probably enter the sprint races for Arkansas State.

State also lacks in good middle distance and distance runners. In fact, they don't have anyone capable of winning the 880, mile or two - mile run in a decent college meet. Al Miller, Don Hindman and Scottie Williams all do about 50² flat in the 440.

The other field events — high jump, broad jump, and javelin — are questionable. Newcomers will have to carry the load in these events, so State isn't expecting too many points from these three events.

Denton, however, has a large squad and lots of spirit, so the Indian cindermen could turn out okay before the year is over. It'll be rough getting that first victory, though.

Change Made In Northeast Tourney Slate

Northeast baseball coach George Luffey has announced a change in the schedule of the Easter Baseball Tournament here March 26-28.

Luffey said both games slated for Saturday, March 28, have been moved to the Northeast diamond and will be seven-inning affairs.

Northwestern and Northeast will play at 1:30 and the Mississippi State - LSU game will follow. All other evening games will be nine innings and morning games will be seven innings.

The tournament will be a double round - robin with each team playing a total of six games, the first to begin at 10 a.m. March 26.

Luffey announced that trophies for the two top teams and members of the all-tournament squad have been donated by Hemp's Cafeteria and are on display there.

LaSalle Lists Ten Foes On Grid Schedule

OLLA, La. (Special) — LaSalle High School of Olla recently completed spring football practice and has announced a ten - game slate for the 1959 season.

Working out in the spring drills were 33 varsity players and 24 eighth and ninth grade hopefuls. The varsity squad downed the graduating seniors, 12-7, in an intra - squad game to complete the workouts.

The schedule:
Sept. 11 Sicily Island, home.
Sept. 18 Jena, there.
Sept. 25 Winnsboro, there.
Oct. 2 Winnfield, there.
Oct. 9 Farmerville, home.
Oct. 16 Block (Jonesville), home.
Oct. 23 Mansfield, there.
Oct. 30 Ferriday, home.
Nov. 6 Coushatta, there.
Nov. 13 Many, home.

Ex-Greenie Gridder Sinks Hole-In-One

Don Zimmerman, Tulane's all-America back of 1931-32, shot a hole-in-one on Bayou DeSiard Country Club's golf course yesterday, club pro Winnie Cole reported.

Zimmerman, playing in a fivesome with H. C. Menuet, C. T. Munholland, C. C. Minard and L. D. Ritter, used a five iron for the shot on the 185-yard, par 3 ninth hole.

DeLoutre Club Meets Tuesday

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) — Union parish sportsmen, particularly in the Spencer area, are urged to attend a meeting of the DeLoutre Wildlife Club at Linville School Tuesday night.

It will be the first meeting since the club was organized several days ago. All sportsmen are urged to attend and join the unit.

Buddy Freeman, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. forestry manager, will be the principal speaker. Freeman helped plan the Union Parish Game Management Area.

The meeting will start at 7 p.m. Guests will include several members of the Ouachita Wildlife Unit.

SPRING DRILLS

37 Gridders Work In Block Practice

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — The Block Bears were hard at work this week beginning their spring practice in football in an effort to bolster positions weakened by graduating seniors. Thirty-seven gridders reported, including 11 returning lettermen.

Coach Buddy Lancaster and Odis Jackson were busy switching players from position to position in an effort to improve the weaker spots. Several top men will have to be replaced due to graduation. They include Clarence Richard, all-district fullback, Clarence Mayes, Tommy Davis, Tommy White, Herman Spinks, Scott Taylor, Adrian Walker, and Stanford Richardson, all-district and all-state guard

The returning lettermen are Grover Elliott, Lynn Dalton, Billy Brooks, Doyle Sikes, James Sikes, Sonny Spinks, Bobby King, J. S. Fairbanks and Wade Purvis.

Coach Lancaster pointed out that they are concentrating on the tackle and ends and sifting is necessary to get a well balanced team. He said that he hopes to have a well - rounded team for the football season.

Other players reporting for practice were Tad Egloff, Jerry Book, George Franks, Lane Babin, Lloyd Holland, Richard Richard, Jerry Oxley, LeRoy McEntyre, LeRay McEntyre, Johnny Farley, Ralph Nolan, Carmen Walker, Jimmy Bradford, Poole Chapman, Sammy Taunton, Sandy King, Willie D. Kirby, Joseph Wiley, Jimmy Wayne Wiley, Charles Taylor, Connly Manning, Sam Renfrow, Shelton McLain, B. D. Wiles, Shelby Coleman and Eugene Benson.

Conrad Pierce, who has been an all around utility man, will most likely go to center, with Wade Purvis at center or guard. James Sikes is still having some trouble with a knee injury from last season.

Lettermen Billy Edwards, J. S. Fairbanks and Billy Brooks along with Sonny Spinks and Tad Egloff will give the Bears a fine set of ball carriers.

OVERTIME THRILLER, 76-71

St. John's Beats Bradley To Take Third NIT Title

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP) — St. John's basketball team won an unprecedented third National Invitation Tournament title Saturday with a dramatic 76-71 uphill overtime victory over Bradley.

The Redmen from New York put on a great second half rally after falling behind by 7 points to pull to a 63-63 deadlock at the end of the regulation time.

A crowd of 14,376 in Madison Square Garden yelled itself hoarse when St. John's snapped a 65-65 deadlock in the overtime on two free throws by Gus Alfieri.

But in the final analysis, it was Tony Jackson, the gangling sophomore who was the big man for Coach Joe Lapchick's men. He hit for 21 points, and, just as important, snatched 27 rebounds off the boards.

Jackson added a couple of more free throws after Alfieri and the Redmen were four points in front of the top-seeded Peoria Braves.

Bobby Jo Mason cut the deficit to two points with just 1:26 of the overtime left. A half minute later, Jackson grabbed a rebound for the Redmen and the clock showed exactly 30 seconds to go.

He slipped the ball to Alfieri, who cut loose underneath for a layup. He was fouled on the play and added a free throw. That gave St. John's a 5-point bulge and broke the backs of the Braves.

Unseeded St. John's previously won the title in 1943 and 1944 Bradley won it in 1957.

With 10 minutes to go Bradley, fourth ranked in the nation and gunning for its ninth straight victory appeared to have the title all wrapped up.

They had been turning back repeated St. John's challenges and led by 57-47, virtually duplicating the 8-point margin they held twice in the first half.

Then suddenly St. John's caught fire. Alan Seiden, game high scorer with 22 points and Jackson connected for field goals. Mason dropped in a foul shot for Bradley and the Braves went ahead, 55-51.

But then Jackson began rolling again. He hit for two field goals and the game was tied.

Two minutes later Seiden put St. John's ahead for the first time, 57-55 with a slick jump shot from the side.

Now Bradley was on the defensive. The Braves had to do the catching. Gene Morse tied it again at 57-all, but big Lou Roethel sent the New Yorkers ahead again with a side court shot. And when Seiden made two free throws with 1:36 left, it looked as though the tide had changed and the ball game was St. John's.

But Bradley was not ready to roll over and play dead. In 12 seconds they had tied it again at 61-61. Mike Owens connected from the side and then Mason intercepted a pass for an easy layup.

There were 43 seconds to go. Al Saunders fouled Alfieri and Gus made good both his free throws. St. John's was ahead, 63-61.

Forty seconds to go.

But with 33 seconds to go, Saunders made up for fouling Alfieri and dropped in the tying basket.

Then they went into the overtime.

Mason was high man for the losers with 18 points.

New York University captured third place with a 71-57 decision over Providence in the consolation game.

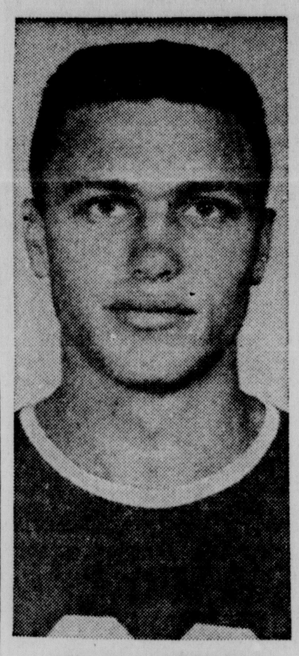
NYU staved off a spirited rally by the Friars after they had trailed by as much as 28 points in the second half.

The Friars, behind by 28 points at 52-24, suddenly regained the fire and dash that characterized their upset victories over Manhattan and St. Louis in the early rounds. With Johnny Egan leading the attack they brought the crowd to life with a string of 10 straight points.

Providence kept going and with eight minutes left, had crept to 58-48. That was the closest they came. Field goals by Al Barden and Cal Ramsey stopped the rally and NYU pulled away again.

Ramsey, who scored 23 points to lead the Violets, became the first NYU player ever to score over 500 points in one season. Fifteen of his points came in the first half as NYU ran up an early 21-9 lead and widened it to 38-15 before Providence cut it to 40-22 at the half.

Egan with 17 points, and Lenny Wilkens with 16 were high for Providence. After Ramsey, Barden was next high with 18 points for NYU.



MILTON LINDER

Indians Sign Fort Cage Ace Milton Linder

All - state Milton Linder, who helped pace Fort Necessity to the state class C basketball title, has signed a grant - in - aid with Northeast, the college athletic department announced yesterday.

Linder, who made the all-state team last year and headed the Louisiana High School Athletic Association all - state team announced today, scored 906 points in pacing Fort Necessity to 46 victories in 51 games the past season.

Northeast cage coach Lenny Fant, who signed Linder, calls the 6-3 forward an excellent ballhandler and defensive player.

Linder teamed with center A. J. Burlew, also named to the all - state team, to five Fort Necessity one of the best one - two punches in the state. The two combined to score 1,960 points during the season.

Rain Holds Up Women's Meet At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Rain washed out the third round of the Columbus Women's Open Golf Tournament Saturday.

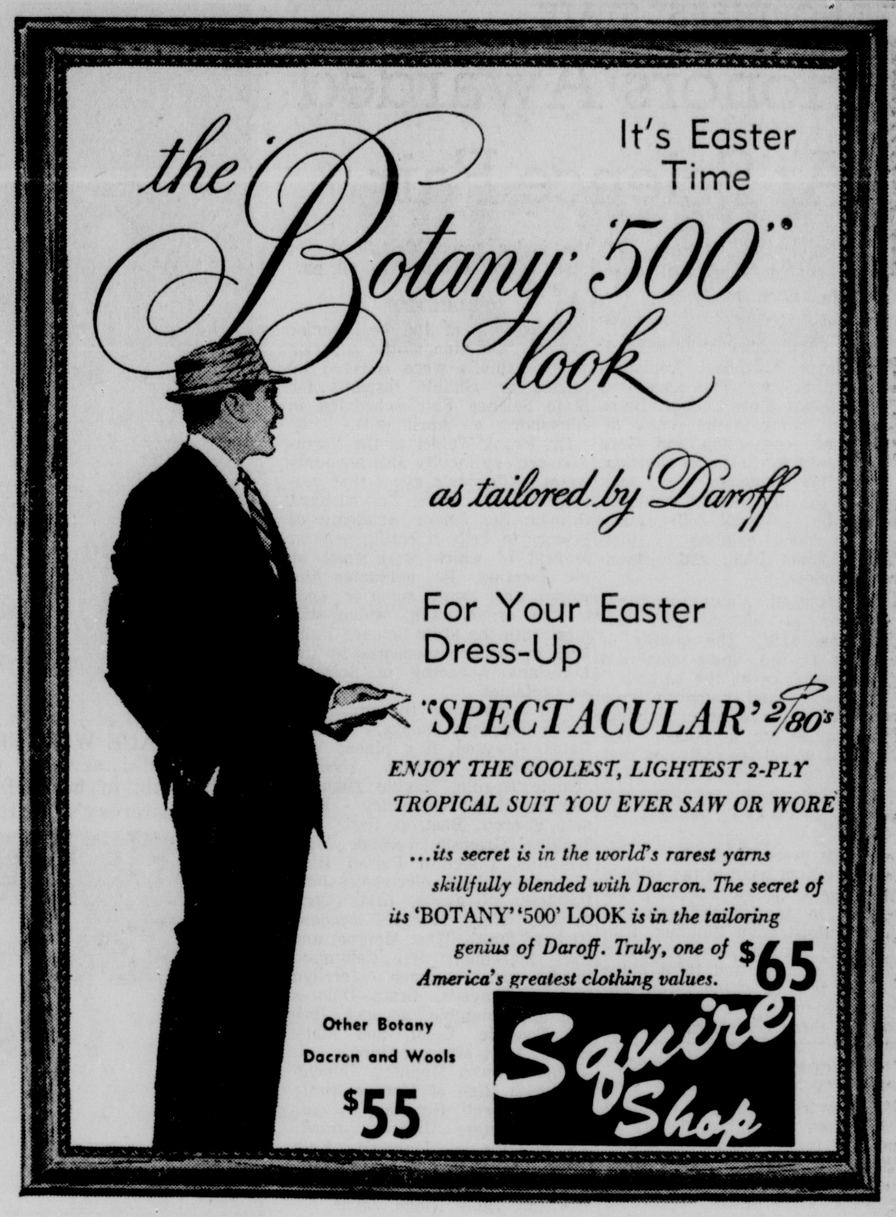
The money players will settle their contest with 36 holes of golf Sunday. The first round will begin at 8 a.m. and the second around noon.

The amateurs in the tournament, who teed off first Saturday, were permitted to continue their third round when postponement was called at 1:15 p.m.

Frances Rich of Bainbridge, Ga., shot an 89 to keep the amateur lead with a 54-hole total of 255.

Betsy Rawls, the veteran Spartanburg, S. C., professional, who jumped into a seven stroke lead in the second round, was one of the six pros waiting at the tee when play was called. She shot a 72 Friday for a total of 143 at the halfway mark.

Seven strokes back was Marlene Bauer Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla., with 150. Behind the leaders were Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and Jackie Pung of Daly City, Calif., tied for third with 152s, and bunched in a tie for fifth at 153 were Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., and Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif.



ELLIS, GOALBY SECOND

Bayer Leads By One At St. Pete

By WHITNEY MARTIN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —George Bayer of Gleneagles, Ill., sank a six-foot putt on the 18th green for a birdie, a three-under-par 69, a two-round total of 135, and a one-stroke lead at the halfway point Saturday in the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament.

Bayer had been tied for the lead at 66 with Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., and Tom Mahan Jr., of Danvers, Mass., at the end of the first round Friday. Mahan had a 71 to drop two strokes behind at 137. Lema had a 76, which put him in the 142 bracket.

Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., was alone at 138. Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., were tied at 139.

Cooper had a 70. Middlecoff a 69, and Harbert a 68.

Scores on the whole were a little higher than Friday, possibly due to a more difficult placement of the pins and the fact there was less casual water from which the ball could be lifted.

The course still was sodden from the heavy rain which forced postponement of the start one day, and there were some peculiar rounds and holes reported.

Fred Wampler of Atlantic Beach, Fla., had three more deuces to add to his three of Friday, making six twos on the eight par 3 holes of the two rounds.

Ellis had a 66 despite the fact he bogeyed the last two holes. Leo Anderson of Dunedin, Fla., and Erie, Pa., had a 32 on the incoming nine, with a ball out of bounds on the 10th hole. He birdied six straight holes and wound up with a 67 for a 142 total.

Ellis also hit a ball into the woods. The only dry land near was fairway, so he dropped the ball there and wound up with an eagle.

Bayer had two bogeys on his round and complained he wasn't getting the ball as close to the pin as he was Friday, although he missed only one green.

The leaders:

George Bayer	66-69—135
Wes Ellis Jr.	70-66—136
Bob Goalby	70-66—136
Jay Hebert	68-69—137
Tom Mahan Jr.	66-71—137

Rangers Beat Red Wings In Video Game

DETROIT (AP)—The New York Rangers pulled a step nearer fourth place and the final playoff position of the National Hockey League with a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Red Wings Saturday in a televised game.

Camille Henry and Andy Hebenton each scored twice as the Rangers snapped a five-game losing streak with five goals in the first 28 minutes.

Now three points ahead of fifth-place Toronto, the Rangers can sew up a playoff berth with a home victory against Montreal Sunday night even if Toronto wins its last two games.

The Rangers also could back into the playoffs in the meantime should Toronto lose its home game Saturday night against Chicago.

Defeat doomed the Detroiters to miss the playoffs for the first time in 21 seasons, longest such streak in NHL history. It also meant a last place finish and the worst Red Wing showing since the original Detroit team of 33 years ago.

East-West Tilt Slated Wednesday

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Twenty of the nation's top college basketball players will perform here Wednesday night in an East-West All-Star game.

Perhaps the most interested of the 10,000 or more spectators in the University of Maryland's Cole Fieldhouse will be scouts from the National Basketball Assn.

The East-West game will not be held in New York's Madison Square Garden this year for the first time since 1946, so the pro scouts will be here en masse to take notes. All the competing players are seniors and thus eligible for the NBA draft later this month.

Each 10-player squad is headed by an Associated Press All-America choice. Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, the nation's fourth leader scorer and second best rebounder, will play for the East. His counterpart for the West will be Bob Boozer of Kansas State, who finished sixth in scoring during the past season.

The West also boasts Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame, a second team All-America choice and two members of the third team—Bob Ferry of St. Louis and Joe Ruklick of Northwestern. Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State, a second team selection, is on the East squad.

Tech Golfers Defeat Gents In Rain, Wind

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Louisiana Tech's golf team defeated Centenary College here 13½-7½ today in a match in which the players were hampered by light rain and cold wind.

John Bird of Centenary was low medalist, shooting a par 71 over the Ruston Country Club course. Don Goodspeed of Tech was a close second with a 72.

The results:

John Bird, Centenary, defeated Don Goodspeed of Tech, 2-1.

Roy Nash, Tech, defeated Ed Neilson, Centenary, 3-0.

Joe Thomas, Tech, defeated Jim Hughes, Centenary, 2-1.

Jim Head, Tech, defeated Rod Yeager, Centenary, 2½-2½.

Honors Awarded At Science Fair

Charles Bates, Grayson High School student, and Bill Gore, Ouachita Jarish Junior High student of Sterlington, captured grand championship honors at yesterday's Northeast Louisiana Regional Science Fair sponsored by Northeast State College. Bates was top scorer in the senior division of competition and Gore was highest in the junior division.

Over 150 young scientists took part in the fifth annual event directed by the local college. Entries included exhibits by high school, junior high, and elementary students.

Dr. Hansell Cross, assistant professor of biology and fair chairman, said "The quality of exhibits is the finest displayed at science fairs on the campus." More study and research have gone into preparation of exhibits than ever before, he added. "The standard of entries indicates that teachers in the field are doing a splendid job and students are taking greater interest in science."

Awards were made by E. J. Foster, acting head of the science department, at an afternoon assembly in the amphitheatre of the Administration Building. Ribbons and medals were presented to first, second, and third place winners in each of the seven contest divisions of the senior group and the three contest divisions in the junior group. Certificates of merit were awarded to all participants.

SELECTED

Twenty-one of the best senior exhibits and nine of the superior junior exhibits were selected by judges as eligible displays for State Science Fair scheduled in Alexandria on April 10-11.

Dr. Frank Welder of the Northeast geology faculty also announced at yesterday's event that students are being encouraged through the Junior Academy of Science to write scientific papers, several of which were read at the meeting. He evaluates the works and sends superior ones to the organization, which will meet with the State Science Fair. Both events are sponsored by the Louisiana Academy of Science, he explained.

Fair winners in the senior division included: biology - Charles Bates, Grayson, first place; Valda Rushing, Grayson, second; Jeanne Regille, Neville High of Monroe, third; chemistry - Kenneth Everett, Bastrop, first; Era Zeagler, Grayson, second; Mike Williams, Ouachita Parish High of Monroe, third; electronics-John Patterson, Grayson, first; Cecil Aswell, West Monroe, second; Richard Smith, West Monroe, and Carl McDaniel, Jr., Columbia, third; social science - Jerrilyn Brawn, Grayson, first; Delores Bratton, Columbia, second; Jimmy Tweedle, Delhi, and Mary Heard, West Monroe, third.

Physics-Owen Manning, Ouachita Parish High of Monroe, first; Harold Crowell, Grayson, second; Harry Porter, Bastrop, third; mathematics - Manning Kolb Delhi, first;; Ronnie Smith, Delhi, second; earth science-Mickey Albritton, Holly Ridge, third.

INCOME TAX YIELD

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Federal government has collected more than 700 billion dollars in income taxes from individuals and corporations since 1913, when the 16th amendment to the Constitution was ratified, according to the Tax Foundation. That amendment gave birth to the income tax.

Arabs Stage Big Show Of Loyalty For Iraq Leader

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI)—Hordes of Arabs screaming "to hell with Nasser" swarmed around Premier Abdel Karim Kassem and nearly trampled him in a show of loyalty Saturday before he was rescued by an armored column.

The hero - worshipping throng, assembled for a national Labor Labor Day address by the young general who took control of the country eight months ago, went wild when he appeared.

With a tremendous surge the crowd pushed forward, defying the efforts of club-swinging guards to beat them back.

A column of four armored cars rushed in to rescue the beleaguered Kassem. As they cut a path through the throng while taking him out, soldiers clinging to the turrets beat off adoring Arabs who tired to climb aboard.

Kassem had been expected to deliver a blistering reply to the campaign being waged against him and Iraq's Communists by United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser. But when the crowd got out of control he canceled the speech.

Trampled in the crush was a small tree Kassem had planted to start the day's ceremonies.

The jubilant Iraqis shouted slogans calling Nasser a "hashish smoker" and demanding the UAR embassy be pulled out of Baghdad.

Communist Chinese and East German delegations visiting Baghdad were applauded enthusiastically.

He said the United Arab Republic was ready for a "battle against Communism" to the bitter end.

Reports received in Istanbul from the Turkish-Syrian border Saturday said there were clashes between Syrians and Russian technicians in the UAR towns of Deir-Ea-Zor and Rakka. The reports were not confirmed by any other sources.

Despite the growing rift, Moscow Radio said Saturday that promised financial aid to the UAR for building the Aswan Dam would not be affected.

Experiments Bring Death To Teen-Ager

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — "It seemed like we just had to keep on until we reached some kind of conclusions, something concrete—to show people."

Thus did a saddened teen-ager explain the weird chemical experiments which led to the death of a fellow student, Michael Hawks.

"Every human being, even guys our age, has problems," David Dunning told his professors.

So Hawks and Dunning, both 18, bright University of Redlands students, proceeded with their dangerous experiments — even after they were warned by school authorities to stop them.

Hawks was found unconscious in his room Tuesday. He died later that night in a hospital. Death was attributed Friday to intoxication from chloral hydrate, a hypnotic sedative which often produces strange dreams.

Hawks and Dunning used several drugs, including LSD-25 — lysergic acid diethylamide—which scientists say causes temporary insanity or irrationality.

'I TOLD YOU SO'

LeROY, N.Y. (UPI) — Village truck driver Clarence Perry was fired by the mayor when he refused to drive a load of rocks across a frozen reservoir. He got the job back when his replacement, Leonard Vaughn, tried it and barely managed to leap to safety before the truck plunged through the ice into six feet of water.

Funds Hike For A-Plane Work Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Melvin Price (D-Ill.) of the Joint Atomic Research Subcommittee, said Saturday the latest Air Force step in development of an atomic - powered bomber was good "but not good enough."

The congressman renewed his call for pumping more millions into the 150 million dollar-a-year program immediately to develop and build a prototype A - plane while work continues on developing a nuclear power plant to run it.

The Air Force Friday told Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. to proceed with the "initial design" of the bomber. Efect of the move was to all but eliminate another aircraft producer, Lockheed, from the project.

However, an Air Force spokesman said flately that there has been no change in the administration's policy of not building a prototype plane until the power plant has been developed.

Price and other congressional and military critics of the administration's policy have argued that the problems of developing a nuclear - powered bomber can never be solved without building a prototype first.

Price, who has repeatedly accused President Eisenhower of foot dragging, told United Press International he felt encouraged by the Air Force move despite the statement that it did not represent a policy change.

"At least it's a little more action than we've been having," he said. "It shows the Air Force and the Navy are getting more interested.

But, he said, the Air Force now should add 280 million dollars over the next four years to build the protoytpe plane along with the atomic engine.

"If they did that we would be flying the bomber within three or four years," Price said. "Now there's no telling when we will have it."

OF ACHIEVEMENT

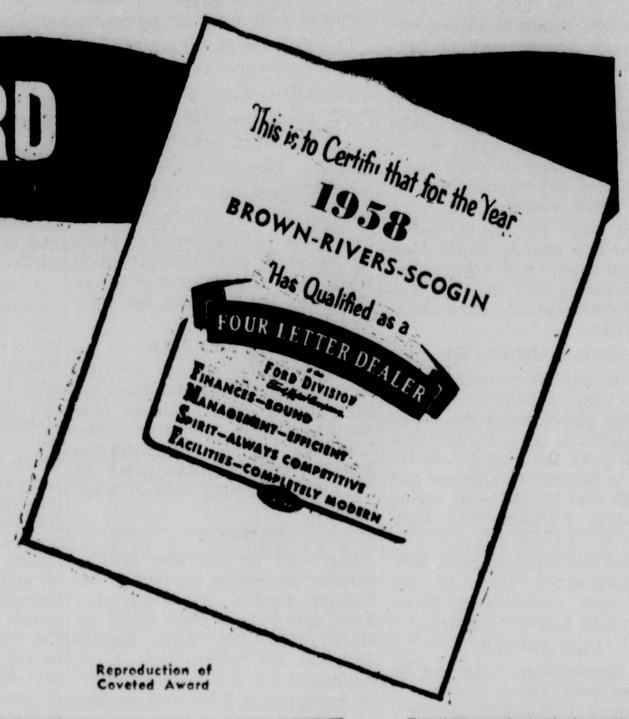
AWARDED FOR

F For Sound Financing

M For Efficient Management

S For Competitive Spirit

F For Complete Modern Facilities



Reproduction of Coveted Award

This is an award in which we take real pride, and earning it year after year is our aim, because these 11 plaques displayed in our showrooms mean that our financing, our management, our spirit and our facilities have met the highest standards of the automobile business. This consistent leadership, which was started under our old name of McCain-Richards, is based on the great principles featured in the 4-letter Award of Achievement. We are greatly indebted to the public for their loyal support in making these awards possible.

OFFICIAL R. L. POLK REPORT CONFIRMS FORD LEADERSHIP IN OUACHITA PARISH IN 1958

Earlier we reported to you—based on figures from Letter Service Bureau in Monroe—that Ford outsold all other makes in Ouachita Parish. This was confirmed in a recent report from R. L. Polk and Co., official research firm of the automotive industry.

By Actual Count!

MORE PEOPLE IN OUACHITA PARISH ARE BUYING FORDS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE IN 1959

Week to week reports from Letter Service Bureau show by actual count that Ford is outselling all other makes in Ouachita Parish by a considerable margin.

1. THE DOUBLE VALUE '59 FORD DESCRIBED BELOW.

2. DEALER QUALIFICATIONS OUTLINED IN AWARD ABOVE.

3. BROWN-RIVERS-SCOGIN SERVICE.
Service before the sale and convenient, easy-to-reach service after the sale have been recognized as being of tremendous importance as far as we are concerned. We think this is another factor which has been responsible for our big volume sales. We urge you to inspect our service facilities.

4. BROWN-RIVERS-SCOGIN VOLUME SELLING.
With us volume selling has been a way of doing business for more than ten years. It's through big volume-low profit policy—genuinely administered—that we continue to keep Ford out front.

It's Easier To Own...The Car Most People Want

THE DOUBLE VALUE '59 FORD

BUILT FOR PEOPLE

...IT'S COMMON SENSE DESIGNED

You just have to sit in one of our Fords once to know why people who try Fords buy Fords! No car in Ford's field is so easy to enter. Ford does not have the foot-cramping deep wells you'll find in its top competition. Ford has full-depth seat cushions for all of its passengers. And even big six-footers have hip, hat and knee room galore.

BUILT FOR SAVINGS

...YOU NEVER HAD IT SO THRIFTY

Not only do Fords cost you up to $102 less than any other car in the big-selling three (with the equipment most people want). You keep on saving. Ford standard V-8 and Six engines use regular gas . . . saving up to $1.00 a tankful. Fords only require oil changes each 4000 miles. Come in for the full saving story!

THE HOME SHIFT

Pecans Still Not Budding

By MILDRED SWIFT

When the pecans bud, winter is over according to our grandfathers. Well, they're not out yet so I suppose we can expect more cold weather.

The crabapples are in bloom—now you can see the variety you like best. Make a note anl purchase that one next winter. The florabunda is the showiest and makes the best cut flowers. They're lovely in churches. Be sure to condition the flowers over night so they'll hold up.

The flowering cherry is in bloom and is gorgeous. It looks like a ball of snow, though the blossom is a delicate pink when you examine it closely. The variety is yoeshino. It's hardy, goes through our winters. It's quite undemanding for attention. It grows about the size of a flowering peach but doesn't require as much spraying. In fact, the one in our garden has only been fertilized yearly, and watered when it was very young. I don't know what its life span is. Most flowering trees only live about ten or twelve years.

PRUNING JOBS

Prune flowering quince as they cease blooming. We talked about the method several weeks ago. Other plants that are blooming and will need to be pruned soon are: Popcorn spirea, flowering almond, baby's breath, spirea, forsythia, azaleas (maybe).

Pearl bush usually gets a heavy pruning when we cut the blossoms. Since arrangers usually use this as spike material long stems are cut. This type of cutting helps the plant to be bushier. I've found, from experience, that this pearl bush doesn't need as heavy pruning as many of our flowering shrubs.

MORE JOBS

A mixture of bonemeal and cottonseed meal is excellent for fertilizing your dogwoods. Go out to the edge of the spread of the branches and spread a pound of each for every year of growth is a good guide.

After your bulbs have finished blooming, work bonemeal around them.

After bearded iris have finished blooming, you can divide and reset if they are too crowded Work a handful of bonemeal in the soil where you plant each bulb. Bearded iris must be planted with the rhizome close to the top of the ground.

The Imperial Candle Tree can soon be purchased locally. This is a tropical plant and therefore must be put out after danger of frost and freezes are over. Give this tree plenty of room. It grows almost as large as a mimosa. You'll have to replant every year. It will not go through our winter.

If you have Imperial Candle Tree seed, these should already have been planted indoors. Seed planted outside get a late start and the plant seldom gets very large. Both Clematis and lilac like alkaline soil. Work a little lime in the soil.

If you have large camellia plants, they may need a slight pruning. Take out the little short branches that put out from the main trunk. They never bloom and just use nourishment.

When your Japanese Iris begin to sprout, dig, separate, and replant in soil enriched with lots of humus. This is a moisture loving plant, especially when the buds are being formed. They are late bloomers and very gorgeous.

If you want to propagate azaleas, select a branch from one of your established plants. Select the branch closest to the ground and scrape through the bark on the under side. Bend the branch down and bury the scratched portion. Then anchor it down firmly with a brick. You don't cut the limb from the large plant, just bend it over. Next spring you cut this and you have a new azalea plant to place where you want it.

MORE GARDENING

The azaleas will be in full bloom now. Let's hope the weather man will be kind and let us enjoy the blossoms. If you have not fertilized them, do so any time now. You can use 8-8-8 or a regular azalea fertilizer.

Have you noticed the lovely bluish lavender flocks in bloom around town? They thrive well on the same soil that you have in the azalea bed. In fact, their color blends well with azaleas. This flock likes an acid soil with plenty of humus. There are many varieties but this one is called Opelousas flock.

This plant completely disappears later on so often we lose our start. Since we never work our azaleas, this would be an ideal place to plant them. Just be careful not to smother them with a heavy mulch.

Caution! Watch for aphids (plant lice). Malathion will get these as well as several other insects. The little plant lice usually fasten themselves under the leaves and suck the life out of this foliage.

DRESS NEWS

With Easter close at hand, we're looking over our wardrobes to see how we can make over or add to. Don't forget the shoulder wide cape-size collars. And — they're more dramatic in white. Day dresses sport notched and tailored collars of linen or pique. Yellow gloves and hats are seen with gray, navy and black. A good way to pep up last year's basic dress.

Prints are popular in cottons as well as silks.

Cotton Acreage Shows Reduction Over Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 1959 cotton crop will be grown on only 17,333,529 acres, considerably fewer than the Agriculture Department had anticipated under the new dual cotton program.

The department said cotton acreage allotments for 1959 went up by 1,023,529 acres through selection by growers of the alternate Choice B program provided by legislation last year.

Accredited Flower Judges Hold Meeting

The annual breakfast meeting of the Louisiana Council of Nationally Accredited Flower Show Judges of Louisiana Federation of Garden Clubs was held Sunday morning in the cafeteria at Southeastern Louisiana College at Hammond, Louisiana with Mrs. Claude J. Pumilia of New Orleans, president, presiding. Mrs. Charles S. Boone of Shreveport gave the invocation and Mrs. Nelson Penton of Hammond the welcome. The response was delivered by Mrs. M. A. Bradburn of New Orleans. The registrar's report was given by Mrs. Drew LaCroix of Pineville.

Dr. E. E. Puls of Hammond, dean of the science division at Southeastern Louisiana College, lectured on "Chrysanthemum Types and Their Judging."

Mrs. Henry W. Powell of New Orleans, instructor of Flower Show Schools for National Council made two outstanding designs. Her theme was "A Vertical Motif." The first arrangement was called Skylark, the design interpreted a bird in flight. Light yellow to bronze talisman roses were used with ginger and rubber plant leaves in a Chinese urn of bronze. The background was a light bronze taffeta drape. The second design "Exaltation" was made in a tall French pewter lamp. Sago palm placed in a circular design with a flowing line of pink carnations carried the eyes upward to the top of the design. The background was a Gothic window shading from pale to darker blue, which gave one the feeling of reverence.

Mrs. Norman Rutt of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Hugh Sutherland of Greenville, Miss., and Mrs. Roy Davis of Shreveport made comments on these arrangements. The audience participated in judging the arrangements. At this meeting the newly elected officers were installed as follows: president, Mrs. N. P. Martone, Iowa; first vice president, Mrs. Charles S. Boone, Shreveport; second vice president, Mrs. Ryan Couvillion, Marksville; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. H. Briggs, Lake Charles; recording secretary, Mrs. M. A. Bradburn, New Orleans; parliamentarian, Mrs. Morgan Davies, Ponchatoula. The beautiful table decorations were made by Mrs. H. M. Hogan, president of the Baton Rouge Council and Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mrs. Morgan Davies.

EXTENSION NEWS AND VIEWS

Fertilizing Trees, Shrubs

By AUDREY DAWSON

March is the time to fertilize rose bushes, shrubs and trees. Use ½ cup per square yard of complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8. Apply the fertilizer around trees and shrubs just under the tips of branches where the small feeder roots are. Be careful and do not allow the fertilizer to touch stems or leaves of any young plant, as it may cause burning.

Things which may be started in the open this month: Sweet Alyssum, sunflower, candytuft, nasturtium, petunia, blue and red salvia, phlox drummond, four-o'clock, and verbena.

MORE GARDENING

If your iris have become too crowded they should be divided after they bloom, when the leaves turn yellow. If you divide them early it gives the plants a better chance to become established and makes flowers the following spring more sure. Fertilize with bone meal.

Cannas — divide and reset now. If you want quality bloom be sure to thin your canna beds. Spray or dust with nicotine sulphate.

EGG MONTH

Mrs. Homemaker, eggs can be your best food friends if you will get to know them better. Here's a dozen egg facts:

Egg protein comes so near to perfection that scientists use it as a standard to measure the value of protein in other foods.

Eggs are easily and completely digested.

Eggs are vital in daily meals of adults of any age because of their food value, convenience, digestibility and economy.

Eggs are important in reducing diets.

In addition to eggs as the main dish, they can also add a "plus" value to milk or fruit beverages.

In a nationwide survey conducted in 1958, eggs were ranked by homemakers as a "necessary food" by 94 per cent.

COUNCIL MEETING

Home Demonstration Council members remember the important meeting Friday, March 27th. We need your help in making plans for National Home Demonstration Week, the Parish Dress Revue and plans for delegates for state meeting.

STATE OFFICER

Congratulations to our new Associate Home Demonstration Agent, Glenda Willet. Glenda was elected as State Treasurer of the Louisiana Home Demonstration Agents Association last week at the annual meeting held in Alexandria.

TOUR

Last call for all who are interested in making the tour to the Hodges garden in Many, La. Your reservation must be in by March 27th. Call Mrs. Marvin Shipp at FA 3-7991, Mrs. J. G. Haynes at FA 2-2773 or Mrs. Gertie Landrum at FA 2-0353. Included in the tour is a visit to Fort Jesuit. I am sure you will be interested in seeing this especially after reading the excellent article on restoration in the paper last Sunday.

A THOUGHT

You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Waging War On Petal Blight

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Azalea and camellia petal blight are now reaching up into our gardens from the low country of the south. We had hoped that our higher, drier and cooler climate might stop these two disfiguring pests, but they are beginning to appear in our gardens.

At the first sign of petal blight on your azaleas or camellias, you must begin a program of spraying or dusting. The two pests live in the mulch so necessary to azaleas and around the feet of camellias. Ask your seedsman to get for you one of the several materials with which to spray or dust the plant and the soil. Two of these chemicals which have been found effective are Actidione and Terraclor.

Follow the directions exactly, as too little will not destroy these fungi and too much may disfigure your flowers.

FLOWERITG QUINCES

Back in 1948, your columnist wrote for House Beautiful magazine a feature article with color plates of the new kinds of flowering quince. With all the new camellias and azaleas coming onto the market, we have let these gorgeous, tough and easy - to-grow plants go begging in the catalogues. Today, there are some twenty or thirty fine flowering quinces offerred to us for our spring gardens. The varieties are tall, fat, spreading — any shape you wish. There are even little low prickly ones good for a very low protective hedge. Some of these beauties were imported from England. Some were developed by the Clarke Nursery of California who sent their collector through the southern states and found many fine quinces which they took home and crossed with each other. The resulting seedlings turned out many beautiful new shades never before seen in quinces.

We call special attention to the flowerng quinces because they do not get petal blight but make a big show ot this time of the year. They are fairly pest free and disease free. The worst trouble they seem to have is with occasional scale and lace bugs.

While the flowering quinces can be pruned down to small size, they look silly this way. It is better to use them in the landscape where they can develop with very little pruning. If you need smaller plants, get the smaller varieties of quince or plant something else. Quinces make dense bushes packed with flowers for weeks. Let them grow into the informal tangles they are, naturally. The birds like them for nesting places, and quinces can make a beautiful large boundary planting that is as good as a fence if it is kept fed. Underneath trees, quinces can hold their own, too, if they get enough food.

Pope John To Officiate At Palm Sunday

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII officiates Sunday at the first of ceremonies leading to Holy Week, which culminates in the Easter observance March 29.

Easter is the most important Roman Catholic holiday because it commemorates the resurrection of Christ, the keystone of Christian faith and hope. Sunday, Palm Sunday, commemorates Christ's entry into Jerusalem.

During that day, all Roman Catholic churches will distribuet blessed plam and olive branches to pilgrims who have been pouring into Rome by train, plane and car from various parts of the world.

Pope John will go to the Basilica of St. Paul about 9:30 a.m. to preside at a special papal chapter.

The pontiff will visit St. John in Lateran on Holy Thursday and the Basilica of the Holy Cross in Jerusalem on Good Friday. Despite its name, the Holy Cross Basilica is in Rome.

Holy Week closes on Easter Sunday in St. Peter's Square, where pilgrims meet to receive Pope John's "urbi et orbi" apostolic benedcton.

Ducks Unlimited Grant $525,000 For Conservation

The governing boards of the group appropriated $525,000 to defray the building and maintenance of "duck factories" in the prairie provinces of Canada, where Ducks Unlimited has more than 500 waterfowl projects in operation.

Atlantic Storms End Pilot's Bid For Record Hop

He was trying to fly from Houston, Tex., to Rome.

A spokesman at the navy base said Mullen's plane developed engine trouble, but Mullen said, "I hit some terrible weather."

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Gardening For Younger Set

By MARY JARDINE

One of the most delightful books recently added to our Garden Center library is Sally Wright's "Gardening — A New World for Children." If you are looking for a new and exciting project to keep children occupied here's the answer! Sally Wright introduces children to gardening with such contagious enthusiasm and lively imagination that even the most indifferent youngster will be inspired by her fresh and ingenious approach.

The author believes that the kind of garden a child should have depends upon the child: "Children differ, happily, in their individual aptitudes, dispositions and delights. So too, should their gardens differ."

A dainty Mistress Mary or a seasoned Boy Scout will similarly discover an absorbing new world of projects ranging from the World of Make Believe and Bouquet Gardens to Believe - It or-Not and Love it and Leave It planting schemes. I specially liked the chapter on party gardens in which children are urged to plant such crops as Pumpkins for Hallowe'en, corn for corn roasts, midget watermelons for summer picnics and peanuts and popcorn among others. The common names of many flowers and the flower legends have great appeal to the young, i.e., Johnny-Jump-Up, Red Hot Poker, Hen and Chickens and so on. This is a delightful book, covering the basic fundamentals of yearround gardening, through which adults may guide their juniors. It is a cornucopia filled with unique, stimulating ideas suitable for an acre of ground or just a flower pot. Published by McMillan, price $2.75.

CLUB EXHIBITS

Spring flowers were exhibited by members of the Garden Gate Garden Club of Winnsboro this week at the Center. Blue ribbons in the horticulture division were awarded as follows: Mrs. W. C. Martin for Flowering Peach, Score of 97, Mrs. Vernon Baldwin, yellow pansies, score of 96, and Mrs. Brashear Earle, white flowering almond score of 97.

In the arrangement section first place blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. Brashear Earle. A black Etruscan Cup placed on a small black base was selected by Mrs. Earle for her vertical design. Spikes of iris foliage were used for the background pattern. The line was emphasized with buds and blooms of the early purple iris. Rhythm was achieved by starting with the tightly furled buds at the top and gradually increasing the size of the blooms with a fully opened flower low in the design. Looped iris leaves were placed low unifying the container and plant material.

CAMELLIAS

Mrs. W. C. Martin was awarded second place for her design featuring camellias. Using a gray rectangular bowl Mrs. Martin designed an asymetrical design with sansevieria for the primary placements. The pattern wes accented with large red camellias as a center of interest. This was most distinctive staged against a chartreuse background.

Mrs. C. R. Adams Jr. combined the lovely pink Dr. Tinsley camellias and pink flowering crabapple in her triangular design. The container was a milk glass compote with a cup - type needle point holder (concealed by foliage). The rosy pink crab-apple branches were placed in a triangular pattern and the axis of the line was accented with three of the dainty pink camellias. We staged this against a soft pink background.

The State Flower Show at Hammond was just beautiful. The staging, under the able direction of Dr. E. E. Puls, Dean of Applied Sciences, Southeastern College, was magnificient. There were such tremendous crowds it was impossible to list all the awards given to Fifth District Garden Clubs. Club presidents, please send me a list of your winners for our records. Yearbook award in Class C (100 or more members) went to the Monroe Garden Club. The Tallulah Home Gardeners were given the Conservation Award to the Federated Garden Club doing the most outstanding conservation work with Junior Gardeners. We are justly proud of the exhibits in arranging and horticulture from the Fifth District.

New Orleans Girl Among Met Winners

NEW YORK (UPI) —A Tacoma, Wash., baritone and a 20-year-old soprano from Toronto, Canada, were named winners of the Metropolitan opera auditions Friday and awarded contracts with the Metropolitan.

Roald Reitan, 30, of Tacoma, who has sung with the San Francisco Opera company, and Miss Teresa Stratas, 20, of Canada, were chosen over 13 other finalists in an opera house audition late Friday.

The auditions are sponsored by the National Council of the Metropoltan opera and the finals took place before an invited audience.

Other prizes awarded included: Ann Scott, soprano, of New Orleans, was awarded the $1,000 Euclid W. McBride Memorial scholarship.

Church Leaders Accuse Long Of Evading Issue

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)— Local church leaders who have led a drive against gambling in Louisiana charged Friday that Gov. Earl Long sidestepped the issues in his answer to their proposals for better law enforcement.

Rev. George Wilson, executive secretary of the Greater New Orleans Federation of Churches, said the governor, "used a lot of technical legal language but did not get to the heart of the matter."

Hawaii Boasts High Annual Milk Production

HONOLULU, (UPI) — Visiting farm director John A. McDonald of radio station WSM, Nashville, Tenn., was surprised to learn on his arrival here Thursday that the 12,000 milk cows in Hawaii produce an average of 9,000 pounds of milk a year, about twice that produced by cows in his home state.

McDonald, who is on a five-week information gathering world tour, also learned that Hawaii cows are drylot fed and consequently are the highest producers of any state in the union. After sampling double A grade milk in the 50th state, he agreed that it was the best he ever tasted.

The Hawaii dairy industry is expected to bring a record of $100-million in revenue this year.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI) — The Vermont Supreme Court's budget for fiscal 1960-61 was cut $350 after it was discovered the court was purchasing its stationery from a Philadelphia printing firm at a higher price than Vermont companies charged.

26 Win Awards For Achievement

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)— William Ewald, United Press International television critic, was among 26 national Headliner Club award winners announced Thursday. The awards are given annually for journalistic achievement.

This was the club's 25th anniversary competition. Awards for achievement by individuals, newspapers, magazines, and radio and television stations were made from a record list of 2,000 entres.

Ewald was cited for consistently outstanding radio and television column writing in his "Television in Review" column, which is distrbuted five times a week and printed in more than 400 newspapers.

In the photographic competition Otello Bighini, UPI photographer in Rome, won the sports action picture award.

The panel of judges voted a special award to the Minneapolis Star and Tribune for "consistently comprehensive coverage of local, national, and foreign affairs" as exemplified by its program of information on world affairs.

On the basis of about 40 radio editorial entries by stations from all sections of the United States and Canada, the judges created a new category, "consistently outstanding radio editorials by a local station." The first award went to station WWDC, Washington, D.C.

The list of winners:

Newspapers, Syndicates and Magazines: James McAllister, of the Daily Independent, Kannapolis N.C., for general excellence in feature writing and photography as a reporter-potographer in the less-than-25,000 circulation field.

Mrs. June Caldwell, of the Arizona Daily Star, Tucson, Ariz., for her column "Surprise Package" in the 25,000-to-50,000 circulation field.

Everett S. Allen, of the New Bedford, Mass., Standard-Times, for his 13-part series "Sea Battle 1958 — Key to Survival" in the 50,000-to-100,000 circulation field.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat and writers Ted Schafers and Louis M. Kohlmeier for outstanding public service in their "What's Wrecking the Railroads?" series.

The Worcester, Mass., Evening Gazette for consistently outstanding editorial page.

Guy Firddell, of the Richmond, Va., News Leader, for generally excellent feature writing by an individual, open to both newspapers and syndicates.

Crosby S. Noyes, of the Washington Star for outstanding coverage of a major foreign news story, in reporting "The de Gaulle Story".

The Chicago Daily News for outstanding coverage of a major domestic news story, in its coverage of the fire at the Our Lady of the Angeles School in Chicago.

Stan DeLaplane, of the San Francisco Chronicle and McNaught Syndicate, for feature column writing.

(This photograph was serviced to UPI Telephoto-Unifax clients).

Gene Dennis, of the Bryan, Tex., Daily Eagle, the feature picture award for his shot of a man putting a coin in a parking meter where a horse and buggy were parked.

Newsweek and editors Osborn Elliott and Kermitt Lansner won the best news feature in a magazine award for a section on the weaknesses and strengths of the Soviet and Western systems following the first Sputnik launching.

The National Press Club, Washington, D.C., won a special award for its publication "Shrdlu" depicting the 50 years the club has been in existence.

Radio and Television: CBS Radio, the network radio news broadcasting award with "The World Tonight."

CBS Television, the network TV news award, with CBS news' film report on street fighting in Lebanon.

Station WJJD, Chicago, and reporter Dick Elliott, the local radio coverage of news award, for on-the-spot reporting of the Chicago school fire last December.

Station WPTR, Albany, N.Y., the public service by a local radio station award as exemplified by its news and editorial campaign to save the Navy Supply Depot in Scotia, a suburb of Albany.

Station WWDC, Washington, D.C., for consistently outstanding radio editorials.

Seven Rulers Defy Nasser, Lose Powers

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Seven Arab rulers who dared to stand against President Gamal Abdel Nasser's dream of empire have been shorn of power in less than two years. Now Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq has been marked for destruction.

Always before, Nasser's well-oiled, highly efficient propaganda machine has handled the job, with Nasser only taking a personal hand when needed.

This time Nasser has staked his formidable reputation by personally leading the assault on Kassem.

Whether Kassem can stand up against Nasser, heretofore the undisputed idol of the Arab masses, remains to be seen. The conflict may well turn into a test of strength for Arab leadership.

It is ironic that Nasser's No. 1 target at the moment was the man who wiped out three of the United Arab Republic president's major enemies in one coup last summer in Iraq.

But Kassem then cautiously drew away from Nasser's all-embracing Arab nationalism and swung to the left. Nasser backers in Iraq were shunted aside or arrested. Arab Communists in Iraq rose in influence.

Here is what happened to the other seven:

President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon, knocked out of a second term by a summer-long rebellion. He remains in the fastness of Mt. Lebanon, rarely visiting Beirut.

King Faisal, Premier Nuri Said, and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah, pro-Western triumvirate in control of Iraq, all assassinated by Kassem's supporters.

Approximately 75 per cent of all Americans living in urban areas are now covered by health insurance, compared with 58 per cent of those living in rural areas.

AT COUNTRY CLUB

Bridge Tournament Slated April 3-5

The Fourth Annual Monroe Sectional Bridge Tournament opens Friday, April 3 for a three-day session at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, with players expected from five states.

Mrs. A. L. Harrington and Mrs. L. M. Ray, chairmen, have announced that the tournament, sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League, is open to all players.

Twin City bridge players are expected to turn out "close to 100 per cent," and all who have not formed partnerships are urged to do so.

Lousiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee and Texas players will be on hand, for what is expected to be "the best attended" tourney since the start in 1955, the co-chairmen indicated.

TEXANS

Dr. John Fisher of Dallas, 1958 Open Pair Champion, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Matthews of Fort Worth will head the Texas contingent.

Fred Berger, of Natchez, Mississippi's leading player, and Miss Ann Smith, of Leland, runner-up in the 1958 National Women's Pair, also will compete.

Tourney officials said that Sidney Lazard, member of the 1959 United States World Championship Match Team, hopes to include the three-day event in his schedule.

The events begin April 3, with the Men's Pair, one session, starting at 2 p.m.

HIGHLIGHTS

Other highlights of the tournament will be Women's Pair: One session, Friday at 2 p.m.; Team-of-Four: First session, Friday at 8 p.m.; second session, Saturday, April 4, at 1:30 p.m.; Baton Rouge Pairs: One session, Friday at 8 p.m.; Open Individual: One session, Saturday at 9 a.m.; Shreveport Pairs: One session, Saturday, 1:30 p.m.; Open Pair: First session, Saturday, 8 p.m.; final session Sunday, April 5, 2 p.m.; New Orleans Pairs: One session, Sunday, 2 p.m.

The first session of the Open Pair on Saturday will be an elimination. Those qualifying will compete in the final session. Others are invited to play in the New Orleans Pairs, which will be open to all players without paying an additional entry fee.

Friday evening, a chafing dish buffet is planned after the games, and Saturday afternoon, a cocktail party will be followed by a buffet dinner.

Hamburgers and coffee will be served Sunday afternoon.

Zoo-Born Gorilla 'Little Bit Dumb' To Psychiatrists

Anyway, that's the view of psychiatrists who for 26 months have studied Columbus' famed ape, Colo, first ever to be born in captivity.

The scientists have a partial explanation for the sub intellect of the gorilla born in the Columbus Zoo: her mother was suffering from toxemia at the time of the birh.

The fact Colo's imagination has shown almost no development since she was six months old was taken as proof that the female ap still ranks third behind man and the chimpanzee on the intelligence scale of the primates.

Groceries in the U.S. sold 81,700,000 pounds of tea in 1958, an increase of two per cent over 1957 and 20 per cent more than in 1951.

Kirk Douglas Uses Realism In Movie Fight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kirk Douglas' associates believe the actor is carrying realism too far on "Spartacus."

His Bryna Productions spent most of a week shooting a battle to the death between Douglas and ex-UCLA gridder Woody Strode. The battle, between gladiators, is staged for the amusement of Roman nobility.

Douglas refused a stuntman double and did all the fighting himself.

He also insisted that his short sword and Strode's long pitchfork be made of pure steel instead of rubber-tipped like most movie swords.

Director Stanley Kubrick says it could be the most realistic battle in movie history.

Yellowstone Park became the nation's first national park in 1872.

Cleveland Symphony Loves To Tour

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK (AP) — One fine thing about living in New York is, that every year you get more and more chances to hear the orchestra from Cleveland.

Conductor George Szell used to bring his 100 - man outfit here every few seasons, then once a season, and this year and last, three times each for Carnegie Hall concerts.

"We shall keep it up, too," he promised on his latest visit. "We like to travel."

Szell might not have settled here in the first place, it happens if he hadn't been traveling. On his way back from Australia to his native Europe he was caught here by the outbreak of the war, took a supposedly temporary apartment on Park Avenue, and has kept it as New York home or headquarters for the 20 years since.

Why does an orchestra travel? What's wrong with Cleveland?

The Clevelanders have invaded Europe beyond the Iron Curtain. A year from now they will play their way to the West Coast. This winter they have appeared in 30 northeastern United States cities.

Sitting in the big armchair which this husky, broad-shouldered conductor requires, he gave several reasons:

"There's absolutely nothing wrong with Cleveland," said Szell, whose home is there. "On the contrary. We travel because it is stimulating for the players, and because they enjoy the contacts with new and different audiences."

OTHER REASONS

"There are financial reasons, too," he went on, talking exactly the way he conducts, with precision, directly to the point, emphasizing his remarks with the brusque, four - square gestures with which on the podium he shushes the horns or brings in the strings.

"The longer the men play, the more the orchestra can pay. It adds to the society's annual income. It encourages record sales. It increases our prestige and influence.

"But perhaps most importantly, we take to the cities we visit music of a higher quality than they are accustomed to and give them the very best type of program. And it is our experience, unquestionably, that the more discerning and sophisticated the audience, the more enthusiastic the applause.

"There are excellent halls, too, in many cities. Besides our own remodeled Severance Hall, and of course your Carnegie, we find especially good acoustics in Northampton and Springfield, Mass., Hartford, Conn., Baltimore, Md., and Syracuse and Troy, N. Y."

"What sort of programs do these lucky cities hear?

"We never play down, as I'm sure I don't need to say. At home we regularly offer contemporary works, and Cleveland audiences would complain if we didn't. But on tour we usually avoid the radical or experimental numbers for which some listeners are not trained. Once in a while, however, we get a special request, particularly from a college town. Ithaca, for instance, wants to hear Webern. We prepare four programs for our trips, and let the local public have its choice, except that we never play the same things two nights in succession."

PRECISION CONDUCTOR: A tireless wanderer, Conductor George Szell is a familiar figure on many podiums. Under his direction, the magnificent Cleveland Symphony Orchestra carries its music throughout the United States, as well as to foreign lands.

Who decides about the New York program? Szell's eyebrows hiked up expressively, and he tapped his chest with both forefingrs:

"I do."

Why so little new on them this year then? In three programs here he played only one work not heard in town before; one evening was all Beethoven; the others were the standard familiar classics.

"I think," said Szell, choosing his words discreetly, "that New Yorkers are entitled to a high - level classical program once in a while. I bring New York what it doesn't get any more. I bring what it used to be able to count on, but can no more, from the conducting and the programs of Toscanini and Bruno Walter."

BUDAPEST BORN

Now in his 13th year in Cleveland, Szell was born in Budapest in 1897, and brought up in Vienna from the age of 3. A prodigy, he gave his first public concert at 11, and was only 16 when, with the regular conductor taken ill, he led the Vienna Symphony. At 17 he was conductor, pianist and also composer in an appearance with the Berlin Philharmonic. Richard Strauss took an interest in him, and in the following years he conducted in Strasbourg, Darmstadt, Duesseldorf and Pargue. In the early 1930s he came to this country for the first time to guest conduct the leading orchestras, and after he settled here, was regular conductor at the Metropolitan Opera from 1942 to 1946.

Now besides his work in Cleveland, he conducts the Concertgebouw in Amsterdam in the winter, and in summer, the Salzburg Festival.

India, Land And People, A Contrast

THE LEAF AND THE FLAME. By Margaret Parton. Knopf. $3.95.

A report on one year in India, where Miss Parton spent five as New York Herald Tribune correspondent, this book draws conclusions on international matters which deserve the ear of international V.I.P.'s. The people of India like us, she says; we are brash but mean well. We should give to India as a mother gives milk to a child, expecting no great thanks but sure of mutual benefits to follow.

Without meaning in the least to disparage this author's judgments on this level, I think the most important part of her book is her personal experiences and astute observations on men and women and in general human relationships which amount to vastly more than the political.

Miss Parton married in India, where Delhi was her headquarters; and the year she writes about is the one leading to the birth of her still young son. The time, that is, is recent, but the implications extend farther. She asked an old man what had most changed in his village in the last momentous 20 years, and his answer is stirringly relevant to this quality of timelessness: "The trees are taller now."

There is the complete unpredictability of some encounters: Gandhi whom she worshiped from afar proving to be a rude old man; the nearly naked, painted holy man at the remote pool cherishing in his cave all of Aldous Huxley's books; the beauty of the Vale of Kashmir, and the appalling filth. One of her most revealing and startling comments is the fact that as an antidote to what she calls the brilliance and vitality and profusion of Indian life, she needed to keep reading plain, straightforward Jane Austen and Anthony Trollope.

Even in our own country, she asks, do men understand women, or women men? Do the rich understand the poor? Then how much more remote from our comprehensions, she laments, is the nature and spirit of the Indian! Yet in all their mystery there is a secret that she longed to penetrate; she believed it contained some life - giving character and she envied those, even the poverty - stricken and diseased, who possessed it. Her book is wonderfully full of Yankee practicalities, woman's perceptions, and general common sense. I think it matters as a book about India, I know it matters very much as a book about humankind.

Teacher's Education Is Yeastly Ferment Of Love

SPINSTER. By Sylvia Ashton - Warner. Simon & Schuster. $3.75.

"Miss Vorontosov, how old do you weigh?"

Anna Vorontosov has a number of different answers with which to satisfy the curiosity of the little Maori child who asks this question: 20, 30, 40, 50, she makes them up to suit her irrepressibly volatile mood. She teaches in a country school in New Zealand, also the home and for some years the profession of the author of this remarkable first novel, who is now married to a teacher.

Though some of Anna's pupils are white, most of them are brown - skinned Maoris, a little weak on English, backward in manners, apt to have their shirts dangling out of their pants and their noses runny. They are the infants in the school where the Head is the understanding Mr. Reardon, and a fellow teacher is Paul Vercoe, and the terrifying Inspector is Mr. W. W. J. Abercrombie whose function seems to be to harry teachers into getting reports ready on time and papers filed neatly and the children deadly quiet with folded hands.

But Anna, though now she brands herself Miss Fail and then Miss Mistake, still is frightened of the ogriesh Inspector, except periodically when she is able to convince herself that even he has no power "against the gift that God has put in my hands — teaching."

BOLSTERED BY BRANDY

Anna calls herself the spinster, and has left behind Eugene her love. She tries to forget that, as she tucks a child's black head under her chin, so once did Eugene tuck hers. There is Vercoe, a drinker, a purposeless spirit but an eager one, handsome and unreliable. He distracts her even more than the half tumbler of brandy with which she fortifies herself in the morning against her frenetic days at school in the midst of demanding, vying youngsters spontaneous to the point of explosion — bursting into dance, or song, or tears or laughter with lightning speed.

The children boil and bubble, dash madly from one task to another, talk as if their little tongues were hung in the middle: "He camed inside and pinchded me," "somebodies that tread my sore leg for nohteen," "Seven he's trying to kill us all with the axe for nutteen," and they cry out her long and unpronounceable name as best they can: "Miss Vorontofof, Miss Vontopop ,Miss Pop-off, Miss Wottot."

FERMENT OF LOVE

But the great ferment in these pages is the wild, sweet ferment of love, with which the whole book is yeasty. Even the babes sense a difference when teacher tells them to spell the word "kiss." The girl Wharaparita grows so fast and mature. Vercoe is such a pervasive voice and presence. And all the time the "spinster" is feverishly aware of the spinsterhood she so longs to dispense with. Winter is endurable. But spring brings sap perking up the flowers in her garden, the ultimate betrayal right at her door the very air is irresistibly suggestive, there is an insuperable conspiracy of man, child, animal, rising moon and all of nature to overcome the will of a woman — who is only splendidly eager for an excuse to surrender.

Miss Ashton - Warner's book comes to the reviewer, as to the public, with a spate of exuberant praises from early readers in and out of the publisher's office. I can only add my praise to theirs. This is a runaway story written at fever heat, wth the pounding heart surging right up to the surface in stirring scene after scene. Anna, "alive and alove" as she calls herself, is an extraordinary creation, but the whole book is even more— an outburst of magnificent aliveness.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

More On Notable Books For 1958

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

Last week I wrote about the Notable books of 1958. Today I will continue with the list and a discussion of the titles. "Naked to Mine Enemies; The Life of Cardinal Wolsey" was written by Charles W. Ferguson. In this book the author gives a skillful portrayal of personal, social and political England. "The Exploding Metropolis" published by Fortune Magazine should be read by everyone who is interested in the expansion and decay of "The Big City." "Arctic Year" by Peter Freuchen has been extremely popular with our readers. It is a calendar chronicle of every aspect of nature in the far North. A searching examination of the American economic system is "The Affluent Society" by John Galbraith. The author is a prominent economist and there is certainly much in this book to make one stop and think.

Romain Gary is the author of "Roots of Heaven" an allegorical novel about the predicament of modern man. This is a novel of ideas as well as action and one which takes careful reading to find the deeper meaning. "War and Peace in the Space Age" by James M. Gavin is a sharp appraisal of the dangers and opportunities of United States foreign policy and military planning "Complete Letters of Vincent Van Gogh" is a two volume set and is too expensive for most public libraries to purchase. It contains 75 letters, with reproductions of all the drawings in his correspondence.

"Only in America" by Harry L. Golden has been on the best seller list for several weeks. It consists of pithy, reflective commentaries on the contemporary American scene. "Inside Russia Today" by John Gunther is a most informative book about the country behind the iron curtain. It contains a broad and pertinent discussion of post-Stalin Russia and its leading personalities. "From Ape to Angel" is the title of a thoroughly engaging history of social anthropology, written by Hoffman R. Hays. "My Brother's Keeper" is an illuminating memoir of the formative years of James Joyce, written by his brother, Stanislaus Joyce. "The Undiscovered Self" by Carl Jung is a philosophical essay which carries warning about our modern way of life. It should be read by every thinking man.

"The Odyssey" by Nikos Kazantakis is a modern version of the further adventures of Odysseus translated into distinguished English verse. "A Play in Verse" by Archibald McLeish is the ancient story of Job's suffering forcefully reenacted in modern poetic drama. "The March of Archeology" by Kurt W. Marek, who writes under the pseudynom of C. W. Ceram is a handsomely illustrated survey of the modern discovery of ancient civilizations.

I would like to remind you that Tuesday closes the library at 418 Jackson street to begin the move to 1800 Stubbs. Tomorrow is the last day it will be open for circulation and reference. Please use the library in West Monroe during the three weeks period that the library is closed. Remember the grand opening of Sunday April 12.

Collision Of 2 Ships Given The Treatment

COLLISION COURSE by Alvin Moscow $4.50.

With a meticulous attention to dramatic detail, Alvin Moscow has recreated all the drama of the collision of the two great passenger liners Andrea Doria and the Stockholm with the resulting loss in life.

The format follows that of "A Night To Remember" which dramatized the sinking of the Titanic. There is a special element of excitement about the sinking of a big liner and Moscow has successfully captured this excitement with its heartbreak and miracles. Collision Course gives a full picture of exactly what happened, with specific examples of quiet heroism coupled with sheer incompetence and consistent violation of sea safety regulations to make schedules.

The book brings out clearly that only a miracle kept the Andrea Doria afloat after she listed far beyond the angle which the builders thought might cause her to capsize.

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

The scales took a run to Mississippi by way of Hollywood this week for a look at the movie "The Sound and the Fury" after the William Faulkner novel which was last week's bill of fare at a local movie house.

It has been only in recent years that Hollywood has dared to set up shop and take pictures this far south. But in so doing, the face of deep Dixie is beginning to show itself to the rest of the world.

STORY TO TELL

Somewhere between the tall Johnson grass on the ground and the genuine mockingbird singing in the top of the tall magnolia—all pitched into the Color DeLuxe—somebody must have had a story worth telling.

Scriptwriters Irving Ravetch and Harriet Frank, Jr., took the original Faulkner and dismembered it. It bled but not to death. So much of Faulkner is worked out of the heat, moss, dirt and vegetation which is Mississippi until the "on the scene" filming made up for the many cast out parts of the novel.

The result like the muddy Mississippi, meanders around run-down southern aristocracy at the bottom of which Faulkner hopes he sees a spark of vitality. Joanne Woodward —a product of the LSU Speech Department— takes the part of this "end of the line." She is a daughter of the Compson household which inclules her unmarried mother, an alcoholic uncle, an idiot uncle and the Negro household force.

Out of pocket and out of line with the meat of the story is Yul Brynner as Jason who was handed the reins of the old plantation home to keep it from falling into deeper decay. He does a convincing job of fighting material and human rot, but with a central European accent and manner. This is so completely out of character with the southern whiplash of temper and contempt — usually uttered in its natural state at a high pitch and partially through the nose —until it is pretty obvious that Hollywood does not know some things about the south.

In the acting department, Margaret Leighton and Ethel Waters as the runaway mother and the senior member of the Negro household staff respectively turn in the best performances.

As a whole, the movie shows a significant departure from the "Tobacco Road" description of a sick south as well as the bygone chivalry of a Confederate dream world. Somewhere between Faulkner and Hollywood and through the maze alcoholics, idiots and small town crooks in the screen version of "The Sound and the Fury," there is a strong element of hope.

STILL COMING

Though the music and drama season is nearing its end in the Twin Cities area, there is one remaining attraction on the list for the Monroe Community Concerts membership holders. Pianist Stanley Babin will perform at Neville Auditorium tomorrow night at 8:15.

In addition, the Twin City Symphony Orchestra will present two more concerts, one on April 9, and a final performance on May 7. According to Dr. Harry Lemert, director of the group, soloists will be announced later.

Tryouts for Little Theatre's "Detective Story" are now in progress, according to director Ivan Uttal, and dates for performance of this play will be announced before too long. This will mark a second "arena style" production at the Selman Field playhouse and should lend itself well to the large cast for the play.

TOM DOOLEY

The mountain saga of Tom Dooley must have made quite an impression on the college crowd. A tour as judge of the La. Tech stunt night last week assured the writer that the Bulldogs even as the Redskins made full use of the mournful ditty of the mountaineer murderer.

AGAINST THE ODDS

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — You apparently stand a better chance of getting killed in Rhode Island by crossing intersections with the traffic light than against it.

According to the Automobile Club of Rhode Islnd, "10 per cent of all pedestrians killed at intersections in 1957 were crossing with the signal, while 6 per cent were crossing against it. These figures prove conclusively that it is dangerous to assume that the 'go' signal on the traffic light relieves the pedestrian of the need for alertness."

'Separate Tables' Now At Paramount

The appearance of Deborah Kerr, Rita Hayworth, David Niven, Wendy Hiller, and Burt Lancaster in "Separate Tables" unites five of Hollywoods foremost stars in an exciting and bold motion picture recently nominated for seven Academy Awards and acclaimed by many as "the most honored motion picture of the year".

A poignant story of love and loneliness as typified by the residents of a small seaside hotel, "Separate Tables" received the nomination of best picture of the year. It is the work of Terence Rattigan, internationally famed playwright, and was produced by Harold Hecht and directed by Delbert Mann. The show was an international stage sucess and played in over 145 cities over the world.

Deborah Kerr, is seen as Sibyl, retarded emotionally, dominated by her mother, afraid of life and romance - starved. She finds strength and understanding in an Army Major, David Niven, who is living a life of lies because of dislike for himself. Scandal engulfs the Major and his shame affects all those around him. Miss Kerr and Niven have both received nominations for best actress and actor for their roles.

Rita Hayworth, portrays a American divorcee, whose desires have driven her down a road few women can travel. She is seeking to reclaim the man she can neither live with or without. Lancaster is the object of her silken wiles, and cannot shake off the allure of the lovely creature who has brought him only disgrace.

Wendy Hiller, is the hotel manager, who is obliged to renounce the man she adores. She has received the nomination for supporting actress and the picture also holds nominations for best black and white cinematography, best score, and best screenplay.

'SEPARATE TABLES' — Rita Hayworth and Burt Lancaster interpret the roles of two people who can't live with or without each other in "Separate Tables," a United Artists release opening today at the Paramount Theatre. The picture co-stars David Niven and Rita Hayworth and has been nominated for seven Academy Awards.

'Mating Game' Great Comedy Of Zany Group

Debbie Reynolds, Tony Randall and Paul Douglas are the stars of MGM's hilarious new comedy, "The Mating Game," which starts Friday at the Jim Theatre. It is story of a family of non-conformists who become involved in a running battle with the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue.

It is doubtful if the screen has ever introduced as zany and delightful a family as that composed by the Larkins, whose one - hundred - year - old Maryland farm includes a ramshackle house, an assemblage of whatnots and appliances which Pop Larkin trades for a living, and a menagerie of animals ranging from a sow, named Juliet, to mules, pigs, goats, ducks, owls and even skunks. And in the tradition of Noah's Ark, there are two of everything, with one exception. And that's where the trouble — and laughs — start.

It seems that Juliet is head-over-heels in love with Romeo, the prize boar owned by the Larkins' wealthy neighbor, Wendell Burnshaw. Since the Larkins, Pop (Paul Douglas), Ma (Una Merkel), Marjette (Debbie Reynolds), two boys and their twin sisters, are firm advocates of the adage, "Do unto others, and they'll do unto you," they do not hesitate to borrow Romeo in order to make Juliet happy. This is the last straw for the infuriated Burnshaw, who now goes into action to rid himself of his carefree neighbors.

He has discovered that Pop has never bothered to pay an income tax. When this fact is reported to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, outraged official Kelsey (Fred Clark) sends investigator Lorenzo Charlton (Tony Randall) to the scene of the crime to collect the evidence of Pop's flagrant tax omissions.

WESTERN EPIC — Gregory Peck and Joan Collins share the leading roles in the western, "The Bravados", which starts today at the Star Drive In Theater.

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) —When you get three such stylish gentlemen as Noel Coward, Cyril Ritchard and Cecil Beaton kicking up their heels in the same theatrical gavotte, the results are apt to be picturesque, to say the least.

This is the case with "Look After Lulu" at Henry Miller's Theater. After carefully weighing the contributions of author Coward and director Ritchard, I would say that it is designer Beaton who has a little the best of it. His sets and costumes are fantastic.

The script, frankly, is a little tired despite Coward's ministrations. It is a French sex farce written some 50 years ago by the late French master, Georges Feydeau, as "Occupe-toi d'Amelie." This type of entertainment has long been outdated, and only a sort of circusy production can make it acceptable today.

The presentation at Henry Miller's is in the right vein, thanks to the three named above, but it is a fact that after the mechanics of such farce have been repeated a few times, a point of diminishing return is reached even under the best circumstances. So the first two of the three acts are capable of keeping you amused — if you can go for this sort of thing at all — then the interest tails off.

The French like their plays, even farces, long, so mercifully Coward has excised considerable of the original although retaining all elements of the plot. The dialogue is recognizably Cowardian, and some of it is bright enough. But the necessity of frantic "business" in a play of this type doesn't really give an author too much chance to shine in the matter of extended witty exchanges.

Ritchard has used every trick of the trade with his usual skill to keep this charade in the air. That he succeeds as well as he does is a large accomplishment.

Beaton's contribution is not merely dressing players and stage. Working vaguely in the 1908 period, he has designed for humor, and some of the biggest laughs of the entertainment center around his work. The women's gowns and hats must be seen to be believed.

He has never been reticent in the matter of chi-chi, and this time he has outdone himself.

The production is fortunate to have Tammy Grimes at the head of the cast. Although this is her first go at creating a role on Broadway (she's under-studied before), she has been recognized as a comedienne of considerable merit for some time, and she doesn't disappoint.

Roddy K. McDowall, George Baker, urt Kasznar, Polly Rowles, Jack Gilford, Paul Smith, Reva Rose, Arthur Malet, David Hurst, Ellis Rabb and Eric Christmas are others who make important contributions.

Briefly, the play tells of a Parisian mistress whose lover permits her to help his friend's effort to gain an inheritance by pretending to be engaged to the friend. Complications make a fake wedding necessary, but by now the lover thinks he has been betrayed and gets even by making the wedding an official one. Everyone gets sorted out at the end.

SAME OLD HOPE

"I'm going to make one this summer—and I will still chase girls in it. The only difference is that I won't know why I'm chasing them."

Ghana Issues 4 Unusual New Stamp Designs

TO HONOR the second anniversary of its independence, Ghana has issued four new stamps of unusual design. The themes of the stamps draw largely on the cultural background of the young

The ½ pence shows a Kente cloth design and traditional symbols. The 2½ pence depicts talking drums and an elephant horn blower. The 1-3 pence illustrates a Ghana symbol of greeting. The 2½ pence pictures a map of Africa marking the position of Ghana surrounded by coconut trees.

Two of these designs were by artists from outside Ghana. The 2½ pence was conceived by Miriam Karoly of Israel and the 2 pence by Angel Medina of Uruguay.

Austria has issued a special 2.40 schilling "Europa" stamp to promote the idea of a united continent. The yellow green stamp shows a modern building standing on the European part of the globe. On its side is the symbol "E" for Europe.

Canada will issue a 5 cents blue and white stamp on April 2 to mark the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The globe of the world showing the area of the NATO countries appears in the center of the stamp and is encircled by the words "Tenth Anniversary" in both French and English. A dove of peace with olive branch is shown in the upper left corner. The word "NATO" is one each side of the stamp.

A rare Pony Express cover will be included in the collection of the late Philip G. Straus to be sold at auction March 26-27.

The item is a "free" franked cover sent to San Francisco by Pony Express in 1860 by Sen. William McKendree Gwin of California.

An interesting note about this cover is that, although it bears Sen. Gwin's frank, it was absolutely against the rules of the Central Overland California and Pike's Peak Express Co. (operators of the Pony Express) to carry any free letters.

Other sections of the auction include a valuable lot of earlier 20th Century sheets and many groups of U. S. possessions, especially Canal Zone and Philippines.

Tunisia has issued a new set of four stamps commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Neo-Destour party, one of the political parties in Tunisia. The values are 5 millimes, 10m, 20m and 30m.

APPEARING HERE — Stanley Babin, concert pianist, will appear at the Neville School auditorium Monday as the final attraction of the Community Concerts Association. The concert is open to members of the association and will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Victim Helps Ex-Convict Get Fresh Start

LONDON (UPI) —Ex-convict John Fitzgibbon began a new life Friday for the 17th time, with a helping hand from the man who put him behind bars for his last stretch.

Insurance broker Peter Thompson, 25, offered a job, money and a chance to make good to the 46-year-old habitual offender who has spent 16 of the last 20 years in jail.

Fitzgibbon robbed Thompson last November. It was his 17th offense. He was caught. Since then, Thompson has been depositing money in a bank account for Fitzgibbon. When the convict was released, Thompson was waiting with the money and with a job for him as a packer.

Wayne Differs With Goldwyn On 'Star' Pay

By JAMES BACON
AP Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sam Goldwyn recently charged that high-priced stars are pricing themselves and the movie industry right out of business—but he gets an argument from one of the highest priced of them all.

John Wayne said he doesn't feel the least bit guilty about getting $750,000 a picture plus 10 per cent of the gross.

"After 30 years in this business," says Wayne, "the pendulum finally has swung to the actors — and everybody hollers. We're only getting the money that used to go to the relatives of the studio bosses.

"At least we work for what we get. And that's more than you can say for a lot of the nephews around this town."

Wayne probably will earn millions out of two upcoming movies "Rio Bravo" and "The Horse Soldiers" but neither is a capital gains deal. That means the government gets 91 per cent.

"If I can help our country beat the Russians for control of outer space," Wayne says, "then I'm all for it. At least my money is going for something constructive.

"When I used to turn out those old Westerns you see on television every day, I was getting $75 a week and doing my own stunts. The pictures cost about $11,000 and made big profits.

"Those same profits built Beverly Hills mansions for a lot of people who would have been on relief if their uncles hadn't been movie moguls."

Gives Report On New Facilities

The report was released in Monroe and West Monroe by W. E. Whetstone, district manager.

In Louisiana, the report showed that three new exchanges were put into service during the year and the number of telephones in the state was increased by 60,000.

In the nine state area serviced by Southern Bell, operators now dial about 70 per cent of all long distance calls directly to the called city, and customers in 12 exchanges are now able to dial their own long distance station-to-station calls to more than 45 million telephones in as many as 500 cities.

Seeks Stiffer Controls For Wheat Market

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.) says wheat farmers will seed many more acres than government planting allotments permit for the 1960 crop unless Congress tightens production and marketing controls by mid-May.

Young made the statement at the opening of a Senate agriculture subcommittee hearing Friday on legislation to deal with surplus wheat output, the nation's No. 1 farm surplus headache.

Grant Given For Research On Red Bugs

Northeast State has been awarded a grant of $18,026 by the Division of Research Grants of the National Institutes of Health, President George T. Walker announced yesterday.

The grant will become effective April 1 and continue for three years. The research award is the renewal of a previous one which provided the groundwork for the project, "A Study of the Secretion of the Chigger, Trombicula splendens."

Dr. Hansell Cross, assistant professor of biology at Northeast, is the principal investigator. The grant provides for the employment of professional and student personnel to assist Cross and also for the purchase of permanent equipment and supplies.

The present project will be designed to discover basic facts and principles but these will be directed to practical applications. Dr. Cross explained that sensitivity and immunization reactions of chigger secretions will be studied and these secretions will be tested for practical health problems.

A permanent Northeast Laboratory is planned to be devoted to the isolation of many insects and related animals and the testing of these discharges as possible aids to mankind.

Dr. Cross has conducted research projects in both entomology and parasitology. He worked at the Orlando Deparment of Agriculture Laboratory in Orlando, Fla., in assisting to develop for personal protection against chiggers, mosquitoes, sandflies and other pests. Part of his research has been with the biting flies of Alaska and Canada.

White he studied toward the B.S. and M.S. degrees from Louisiana State University, he worked out the biology of the squash bug in Louisiana, Anasas Tristis. Before coming to Northeast, he obtained the Ph.D. degree at the University of Maryland, where he was research assistant in the Zoology Department and did investigation altogether with mites.

Scientific articles to which Dr. Cross has contributed appear in the Journal of Economic Entomology, Mosquito News, Soap and Sanitary Chemicals, Canadian Journal of Research, and the Journal of Parasitology.

The science instructor is affiliated with Phi Sigma Giological Society, Sigma Xi, Entomological Society of Washington, Helementhological Society of Washington, Society of Systematic Zoology, Louisiana Academy of Science, Louisiana Entomological Society, and Louisiana Teachers Association.

Two Northeast Staff Members On Shop Panels

Two members of the Northeast State College faculty Thursday will participate in a workshop entitled "Professional Growth Day," sponsored by the Morehouse Parish School Board at Bastrop High School.

Charles Tillman, director of elementary student teaching at Northeast, will take part in a panel discussion on English and Social Studies and Mrs. Mabel Slay, assistant professor of mathematics, will be on a panel emphasizing mathematics and science.

The meeting will include these two topics and a third on vocational education in panel discussions from 9:30 to 11 a.m. under the general theme of "Providing for Individual Differences"

Speakers during the day include Dr. J. W. Brouillette of Louisiana State University, who is scheduled to talk on "Impressions of the Far East" at 11:15 a.m. and Dr. Arthur Combs of the University of Florida who will sepak at 1 p.m.

Dr. Combs will address questions to a special committee made up of teachers in attendance as the concluding part of the program, beginning at 2 p.m.

Others taking part in the activities will include Howard P. McCollum, Lillian Talbot and A. E. Robinson, all of the State Department of Education.

DENOUNCES 'UNNECESSARY FRILLS

House Group Votes Slash For Interior Department

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic-controlled House Appropriations Committee voted a 4 per cent cut in President Eisenhower's money request for the Interior Department Friday after denouncing administration spending on "unnecessary frills."

Among other things, the committee rejected plans by the National Park Service to build private homes for two of its employes in Hawaii at a total cost of $66,000. It said $18,000 each was enough.

The action came amid these other appropriations developments:

—The House approved without change a 1.4 per cent reduction voted earlier this week by the House Appropriations Committee in the President's budget for the Treasury, Post Office and U.S. Tax Courts in fiscal 1960. The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would provide $4,688,327,000 for the agencies.

— The appropriations committee approved a $2,479,340,494 supplemental appropriations bill to tide most government agencies over the current fiscal year ending June 30. The total was $385,614,032 below the President's spending request.

—In approving the supplemental bill, the committee refused to provide a single penny of a 225-million dollar request for the foreign aid program's Development Loan Fund — a bad omen for the President's new aid program which will be considered later.

—The committee also rejected a request for $500,000 in stand-by funds to pay the cost of sending U.S. marshals to any area where school integration troubles might arise.

The Interior Department bill, which now goes to the House floor, would provide $472,198,800 to run that department and related agencies in the new fiscal year. The President had requested $491,101,400.

In its report, the committee turned back on the President some of his spending charges against the Democratic-steered Congress.

In criticizing the proposed Hawaiian homes, it called for a return to "simple, standard, inexpensive construction." It said it expected each agency to "take prompt action to eliminate special requirements and unnecessary frills."

The committee also criticized the administration for asking for $3,250,000 to buy 10,000 acres of park land. It said this would mean heavier maintenance costs later. It cut the amount to $500,000.

It killed a request for $1,250,000 to begin a five-year plan for buying 9,442 additional acres of Civil War battlefields. It said the government already owns more than enough Civil War battlefield land.

2 Scientists Throw Meet In Disorder

PASADENA, Calif. AP — Two scientists questioned the value of missile and space research throwing a conference of their colleagues into noisy disorder.

"Our missile program is the swan song of a dying civilization," Dr. A. R. J. Grosch shouted from the floor as a two-day meeting at California Institute of Technology ended.

The conference, on "realities of space exploration," was attended by some of the nation's leading space program figures.

"We don't need better missiles to destroy each other," Grosch said. "The ones we have now will do the job adequately.

"And there isn't any point in zooming off into outer space. We could spend the money better solving problems here at home-taking care of our overcrowded, underfed millions. If we did that, we wouldn't need to find new worlds to colonize."

Loud bursts of applause greeted Grosch's remarks. Several others jumped to their feet and started talking all at once. The meeting then ended in confusion.

Home League Of Salvation Army Seeks Members

The Home League, women's organization of the Salvation, visited nearly 300 persons hospitalized in four institutions in Ouachita Parish during the month of February, according to Mrs. Genevea Delasalle, secretary.

She invited women interested in joining the Home League to meet with the organization Thursday at the Salvation Army building on Harrison Street in Monroe. Mrs. Selasalle pointed out the organization meets weekly and serves a four - fold purpose: educational, spiritual, recreational and fellowship. She said the Home Leauge is non-demoninational and present members represent seven different denomination.

Earth's Shape Is Becoming A Real Mystery

Less than two months ago, satellite scientists said that Vanguarn I had found the earth to be pear-shaped, fatter in the south than it is in the north.

But Friday, two gravity experts suggested two other possibilities—the shape of an upside-down pear or the dimpled shape of a very old orange.

The earth's shape may be off some 140 feet in some places from the old notion of what the shape should be, said Dr. Weikko A. Heiskanen of Chio State University.

For many years it was believed that the earth's spherical shape deviated only in its bulging midriff.

But Dr. Heiskanen, measuring the gravity of many places on the land areas of the world, thinks that the earth's shape must be an irregular maze of rises and hollows, as irregular as the surfaie of an old orange.

Ocean gravity measurements indicate something different, said Dr. J. Lamar Worzel of Columbia University's Lamont Geological Observatory.

These seem to show that the earth's northern half bulges a little, giving it something of the shape of an upside-down pear.

The announcement Jan. 28 by National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists, based on an experiment with the Vanguard I satellite, showed a slight difference between the Northern and Southern hemispheres. The sea level in the Northern Hemishpere was 25 feet below what had been expected and the sea level in the southern half of the world was 25 feet above what was expected.

IKE'S BERLIN STAND

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's tough stand against the Soviet Union on Berlin apparently is based on the belief that the United States could smash the Soviets in an all-out war—if it come any time soon.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has expressed such a view repeatedly in recent weeks. So have others. They are basing their faith on American bombers, not on ground troops.

Eisenhower himself this week ruled out land war by conceding the United States and its allies are far outmatched by the Soviets on the ground. He did not rule out nuclear war.

Nuclear war would have to be carried out by the American Strategic Air Command, which could strike from bases around the U.S.S.R. American reliance on bombers will change as both this country and the Soviet Union develop missiles.

Democrats in Congress have protested that the administration is letting the Soviets gain an ever widening lead in missiles. Eisenhower replies that he knows exactly what he's doing.

On Jan. 20 McElroy said the United States has forces ready "to destroy any nation attacking our country." Again on March 2 he said this country has "definite offensive superiority over the Soviets at this time."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga), skeptical about American superiority as late as Jan. 20, began sounding optimistic.

On Jan. 28 Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said: "From the many bases that surround the Soviet Union we could devastate them. Only a madman would start a war now." He stressed the superiority of the Strategic Air Command. So did Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

But when it comes to missiles —the ultimate weapons of the future—Russell said: "No question that Soviet Russia is ahead of us."

Even if this country has destructive superiority now and if the Soviets gain it in the not-too-distant future, both situations raise painful questions.

The Western alliance is holding together against Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that the Allies get their troops out of Berlin. No one knows for sure why he chose to precipitate a crisis over Berlin now.

There could be several reasons:: to gain Western recognition for the Communist East German regime; to weaken the West's will to resist just a little bit by trying to force the West into concessions to avoid a showdown that might mean war; or, through Western fear of war, weaken the whole Western alliance.

By not ruling out the possibility of nuclear war, Eisenhower actually raised the possibility of it. In a nuclear war the Soviets even though being smashed at home, would seek to retaliate in kind, the nearest target is Western Europe.

What looks like a solid Western alliance now might fall apart if this country's European allies came up to the brink of their own devastation over the question of refusing to budge on Berlin.

Farmer Climbs Through Fence, Is Fatally Shot

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — W. W. Hickerson, 67, a farmer, accidentally killed himself with a shotgun Saturday near Era, in southwestern Cook County.

He heard dogs barking about a quarter-of-a-mile from his home and got his .12-gauge shotgun to investigate.

It went off and killed him while he was climbing through a fence on his way home. His wife found the body 30 minutes after he died.

COULD BE UNHEALTHY

Expert Seeks Way To Cut Nap Time

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A California state health official has started a campaign to keep more people out of bed.

Dr. Lester Breslow concedes that beds should be used enough to give the body adequate nightly rest. But between the sheets, he says, lurks a host of dangers for the human organism.

Nearly every part of the body, he insists, is subject to some detrimental process associated with lying in, on or about beds. And the longer people stay in bed the harder it is to get them out, he adds.

As chief of the Bureau of Chronic Disease Control for the State Health Department, Breslow deals with ailments that often keep people off their feet for long periods.

Part of his work is in rehabilitation. Too often, he says, this means helping the patient get out of bed. In many instances, Breslow asserts, the patient never should have been allowed to become bedridden.

He cites the warning of a British physician that the bed should be regarded with as much dread as the grave.

This admonition was given more than 10 years ago by Dr. A. J. Asher, of London's Central Middlesex Hospital, in an article in the British Medical Journal.

The maintenance of one position, such as the horizontal, allows the accumulation of secretions in the lungs, and this can encourage the onset of pneumonia. The slowdown in breathing during prolonged bed rest can prevent re-expansion of a collapsed or diseased lung.

One of the worst things about prolonged lying in bed is the demoralizing effects on the mind, the physician says.

"He loses the desire to get up, and even resents any efforts to extract him from his supine stupor. The end result can be a comatose, vegetable existence in which, like a useless but carefully tended plant, the patient lies permanently in tranquil torpidity."

Girl Held On Bad Check Charges Under Treatment

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Police said Saturday a 19-year-old girl identified as Mrs. Virginia Lasagna, being held with her husband on widespread bad check charges, is under treatment at a Greenwell Springs hospital for tuberculosis.

The girl and Joseph Lasagna, 20, were arrested Thursday. Officers said the two are wanted for bad check charges in eight cities including Buffalo, N. Y.

Church Opinions On Berlin Crisis

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

President Eisenhower is getting strong support from American church leaders for his handling of the Berlin crisis.

Their approval of the administration's course to date contrasts sharply with their attitude toward the Quemoy crisis a few months ago. Many Protestant churchmen felt then—and privately warned the White House and State Department—that the United States was unjustified in risking a major nuclear war over the Chinese offshore island.

Religious leaders view the Berlin situation in a different light for two reasons:

1. They are convinced the United States has not only a political commitment, but a clear moral duty, to uphold the freedom of the 2,200,000 people who live in West Berlin.

AWARE OF DANGERS

2. They believe the administration is fully aware of the grave dangers implicit in the Berlin dilemma, and that it is sincerely seeking a basis for negotiation that will lead to a peaceful and honorable settlement.

There is a subtle but distinct difference in the weight attached to these two points by various church leaders.

Statements by Catholic spokesmen tend to emphasize the necessity of a firm stand in defense of West Berlin's freedom. Diocesan newspaper, for example, gave prominent display to a recent declaration by Harry W. Flannery, president of the Catholic Assn. for international peace, that "the Allies must remain in West Berlin and take all measures necessary to maintain free access to the city."

STRESS URGENCY

Protestant and orthodox leaders who speak through the National Council of Churches agree the United States must not abandon its responsibilities in Berlin or seek peace through appeasement. But in public statements and in private representations to government leaders, they have stressed the urgency of finding a "constructive" solution rather than letting the situation drift into global nuclear war.

The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches, sent a telegram to President Eisenhower saying that national council leaders "strongly support" the President's public assurances that the United States will "make a constructive answer" to the Soviet demands.

Dahlberg's telegram, sent after consultations among leaders of 33 member denominations and made public by the council, praised the President for "saying that the United States, while not abandoning our Berlin responsibilities, will explore different propositions for a peace treaty" and will "persist in a readiness to negotiate."

SUMMARIZES

One highly-placed churchman, who is in a position to be thoroughly familiar with the thinking of Protestant and Orthodox leaders of many denominations, summarized their attitude as follows:

"We cannot sell out the people of West Berlin. That would be immoral and it would not buy peace, since it would merely set the stage for successive Communist demands.

"On the other hand, we cannot simply plant our feet, say no, and point ominously to our stockpile of H-bombs. A global nuclear war would be such a total catastrophe for the human race that we must search, with all the vigor and imagination at our command, for an honorable way to avoid it.

"This means we must be ready—as the President says we are—to negotiate, to seek in good faith a solution that will not involve abandonment of our responsibilities in Berlin. We should not sit back and wait for somebody else to come up with propositions, but should take the initiative in trying to devise an acceptable settlement.

"The most dangerous thing that can happen in this situation is for both sides to harden their positions, to slip into the fatal game of trading warnings and then ultimatums. The President has clearly recognized this fact in his public statements on Berlin, and we have let him know we are backing him up strongly."

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Does God always answer prayer? I have had little results from my prayers, and it seems to disprove the idea that He really does answer. A. B.

ANSWER: God does not answer every prayer that is addressed to Him, nor has He ever promised to do so. Many people, not knowing the conditions for effective prayer have become bitter and skeptical. They have even blamed God for failure when He was not committed to any action in response to their request. You may write a letter to someone, seal it in an envelope, and deposit it in a mail box, but unless you affix a stamp, it will not go to its destination. Just so, your message sent to God will not arrive unless several conditions are met. One of them is that you must pray in Christ's name. Jesus said, "If ye ask anything in my name, I will do it." Here is the secret. Your prayer must ascend in the name of Jesus, and only those who have received Him as Savior and Lord can utilize His Name in that way.

If you are without Christ, there is only one prayer you can pray expecting an answer. It is the same one the publican once prayed saying, "Lord be merciful to me a sinner." Once you have obtained mercy through Christ, you can go to God just as a child goes to a parent. Then He will answer your prayer.

Three Churches In Area Slate Dedications

Dedication services for the Choudrant Methodist Church will be held today at 11 a.m. in the newly constructed sanctuary. The service will be conducted by Rev. Luman Douglas, District Superintendent of the Ruston District of the Methodist Church.

Bishop Paul E. Martin was scheduled to deliver the dedication message at the new Downsville Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m next Sunday.

Serving as masters of ceremonies for the dedication of the new Church of God in Oak Grove last Sunday were Earl Moore and Ace Brown. The message of dedication for the new brick building was delivered by the church pastor, Rev. J. J. Coody.

DURING PAST YEAR

Louisiana Gains In Oil Reserves

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—An ailing industry economy knocked part of the gamble out of oil explorations in 1958.

Less money was spent on wildcat operations.

A curtailed drilling program emphasized the less risky development of existing fields. The direct result was that 1958 reserves discovered by wildcat operations were the lowest since 1946.

Success in developing and extending oil fields, however, permitted the industry to boost the nation's crude reserves to a record level despite the sharp slump in discoveries in new areas.

Natural gas presented a similar situation. Reserves rose to another record level but the rate of increase was the lowest since 1954. Additions from extensions of existing fields were healthy but reserves from new fields were 38 per cent below 1957.

Depressed market demand caused production of both crude and gas to drop last year. Crude output was the lowest since 1955. The gas decline was minor and the year's output was the second highest in history.

Committees from the American Petroleum Institute and the American Gas Assn. do not include in their reserves estimates the oil and gas believed to be in the underground reservoirs of unproved portions of partly developed fields. The proved reserves include only the oil and gas believed recoverable through known production procedures.

Crude reserves at the end of 1958 were estimated at 30,535,917,000 barrels. The increase of 235,512,000 barrels was small and most of it resulted from the 186,314,000 barrel slump in production.

Crude oil additions from new fields were less than 315 million barrels, compared to over 416 million in 1957. Extensions of old fields, however, added 2,293 million barrels, compared to 2,008 million a year earlier.

New gas fields added 5.6 trillion cubic feet of gas, compared to 8.9 trillion in 1957. Extensions and revisions added over 13 trillion, compared to 11 trillion a year earlier.

Crude reserves in Texas dropped to 14,322 million barrels but the state still holds 46 per cent of the nation's reserves. Texas reserves have declined 459 million barrels in two years. Louisiana, however, has shown an impressive increase of 368 million barrels.

There was no change among leading crude producing states, but Utah jumped from 21st to 13th place by boosting its 1958 output to 24,635,000 barrels compared to 4,608,000 a year earlier.

The only change among the leaders in gas reserves saw Colorado and Mississippi swap positions. Mississippi took over eighth place by adding 408 billion cubic feet on extensions and revisions of oil fields.

The top 10 in gas reserves: Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma, California, Wyoming, Mississippi, Colorado, and West Virginia

Oil Refinery Unions Talk With Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamster union chief James R. Hoffa met Saturday with representatives of half a dozen independent Esso Standard Oil Co. workers unions.

It was Hoffa's biggest bid so far to get the long established refinery worker groups into the teamsters organization. Hoffa already counts his teamsters membership at over 1,600,000.

In Florida recently, Hoffa said the teamsters would welcome talks with every union in the country not affiliated with the AFL-CIO about coming under the teamsters' banner.

The teamsters were ousted from the AFL-CIO a year and a half ago on corruption charges growing out of disclosures at hearings of the Senate Rackets Committee. More such disclosures are continuing to be developed in committee hearings.

In welcoming independent unions, Hoffa maintained that teamsters union power would help such unions in achieving wage boosts and other economic aims.

There was no immediate report on what was accomplished at Hoffa's meeting Saturday with officials of the Independent Industrial Workers Assn., representing some 6,000 Standard Oil Co. employes.

Hoffa was host to the independent union representatives at a luncheon.

Those present included representatives of union groups at Esso refineries at Bayway and Bayonne, N.J., Everett, Mass., and Baton Rouge, La.; a Pittsburgh standard oil grease plant and a Charleston, S.C., asphalt plant.

Marvin Holley Jr., president of the white section of the Baton Rouge independent group said the meeting was to talk over "the problems we have in common."

Negotiations on a contract for the Baton Rouge union will be resumed by the independent group and Esso Monday. The union members have been working there without a contract since last July.

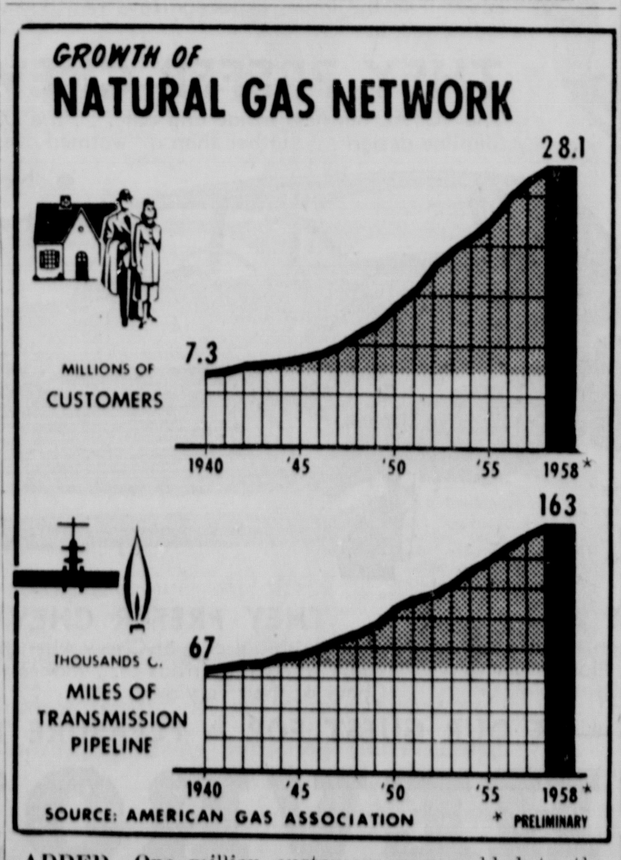
School Teachers In Mississippi Seek Pay Raises

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's public school teachers—Negro and white—have agreed to ask the 1960 Legislature for an 18 million-dollar pay raise.

In addition, the Mississippi Negro Teachers Assn. is urging the Legislature to restore the compulsory school attendance law which the 1956 Legislature repealed as part of a program to prevent school desegregation.

Both the Negro group and the all-white Mississippi Education Assn. favored a pay raise. But they differed on annual raises.

The Negro group wants the present $80-a-year raise extended to 15 years and the white group wants to boost it to $100 for seven years. The present time limit is five years.



ADDED—One million customers were added to the nation's fast-growing natural gas network during 1958 when transmission facilities were increased by 5,400 miles. Natural gas customers have more than doubled since 1949 when 12.5 million were served. Customers using all types of gas, including LP "bottled gas," now total 40 million.

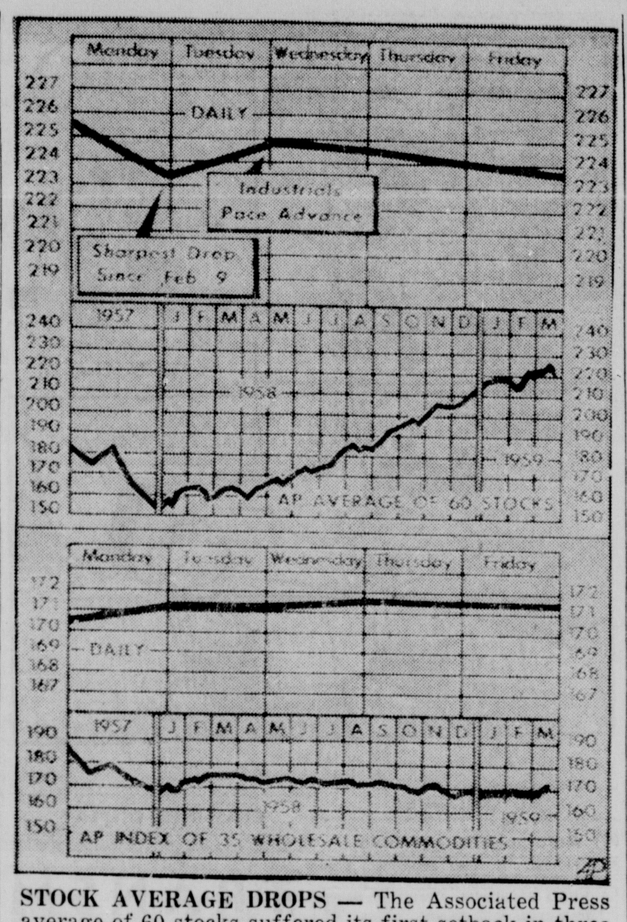
Support Loans On '56 Wheat Are Extended

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department has extended price support loans on 1956-crop farm-stored wheat now under extended reseal for another year beginning March 31.

The 2,814,433 bushels of the 1956 crop now are under extended reseal may be continued under loan for another 12 months when the state Agricultural Stabilization and Coservation committees decide the program should be made available in their state.

The department said it appeared that some 1956-crop wheat could be stored safely on the farm for another year. This would help relieve the storage situation, especially in the northern Great Plains.

In a related action, the department said the reseal program for 1958 crops has been extended to include farm-stored flaxseed now under price support or purchase agreement. Much of the 1958-crop flaxseed farm-stored and under price support is in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota.



STOCK AVERAGE DROPS — The Associated Press average of 60 stocks suffered its first setback in three weeks when it closed Friday at 223.8 from 225.5 a week ago. For the second straight week the commodity index advanced, finishing at 171.4 from 170.5 in the preceding period. The nonferrous metal group was prominent on the rise. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

IN MISSISSIPPI AREA

Oil Shows Noted In Wildcat Test

Oil shows were noted in cuttings at 14,505-23 feet.

The Mooringsport sand at 12,458-82 feet tested 217 barrels of oil daily. A Paluxy sand at 12,178-87 feet flowed 437 barrels of oil daily and a third sand at 12,12-41 feet flowed 397 barrels a day.

At Martinville in Simpson County, Central Oil Co. is deepending the unit 22-16, sec. 22-2N-5E, from 14,000 to 15,000 feet.

In Smith County's Raleigh field, California Co. is deepening the Central No. 8-5, sec. 33-2N-7⅜, from 13,701 to 15,200 feet.

In Jones County Southeast of Ellisville, Larco Drilling Co.'s wildcat Stringer No. 1, sec. 15-6N-12W, reached contract depth at 14,521 feet and will be deepened to 16,700 feet by Pan American Petroleum Co.

Sun Oil Co. abandoned the Board of Supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-5N-6E in the recently found Morton field of Scott County. The well was dry in the Eutaw zone at 6,497 feet.

In Pike County's Summit Oil Field, Arkansas Fuel Oil Corp. is below 4,800 feet in the Mckay No. 1, sec. 21-4N-7E, and Jett, Gammill and Smith is below 5,400 feet in the Covington No. 1, sec. 27-4N-7E.

Near the Dexter gas field of Marion County, Biglane and Laub set production casing in the wildcat Thomas No. 1, sec. 3-1N-13E. An oil sand at 9,506-14 feet is being tested for commercial worth.

In Lincoln County's Little Creek field, Shell Oil Co. completed the Alexander et al No. c-1, sec. 34-5N-8E, at 376 barrels of 38 gravity oil daily from a sand at 10,779-803 feet.

In Lamar County's Baxterville field, Gulf Oil Corp. completed the Bass No. 37, sec. 33-2N-16W, at 202 barrels of 15 gravity oil daily from a sand at 8,798-829 feet.

Adams County: Callon and Callon abandoned the Atenas No. 1, sec. 13-6n-2w, in LaGrange field, dry at 6,509 feet.

Forrest County: Humble Oil and Refining Co. abandoned the wildcat Harrison No.1, sec 3-5N-4W, dry at 14,000 feet.

Franklin County: Rimrock Tidelands abandoned the wildcat USA-Bunkley No. 1, sec. 11-5n-2E, dry at 11,450 feet.

Pike County: Pioneer Oil and Gas Co. abandoned the Bacot Heirs No. 2, sec. 4-4N-8E, in the Little Creek field, dry at 11,004 feet.

Two Cars Crash Headon, Three Persons Killed

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Two cars collided headon six miles south of here early Saturday killing three persons.

The Highway Patrol said the dead were:

Mrs. Arthur G. Winborn, 30, of Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Mary Ethel Savage, in her late 60s, also of Little Rock; and Walter McGee, 54, a Negro from Grand Cane, La.

Four persons were injured, three critically.

The Highway Patrol said McGee, driving along on U.S. Highway 59, tried to pass a pickup truck and collided headon with the Arkansas car.

Federal Agents Crack Down On Liquor Runners

ABERDEEN, Miss. (UPI) —Federal officials said Saturday 22 persons had been arrested in a three-day crackdown on liquor runners and that more arrests were expected soon.

Alcohol tax unit agents said moonshine whisky made in the Gulf Coast area was being transported into north Mississippi and Alabama.

The crackdown was kept secret until the 22 arrests were made.

Tax agent Billy Pace said the last man arrested Friday was Douglas Catt of Gulfport, Miss. Pace said Catt's car was loaded down with 200 gallons of whisky when he was stopped near Shannon.

Others arrested were Clarence Welch, Tremont; Frank Price, Starkville; Charles Eaton, Booneville; Jack Ethridge, Shannon; Estelle Winstead and Hubert Holcutt, Lexington; Roosevelt Anderson, Mrs. Dorothy Pettus, Willie Winstead, Vernon Rodgers and John Pettus, all of Holmes County, Miss., and Cordie Duncan, G L. Duncan and Ernest Clark, all of Detroit, Ala.

Grain Futures Trading Points Up In Past Week

By GIL MAYO
AP Business News Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Trading in grain futures appeared to have pointed up again this week the reality that so long as there are huge surpluses the government price supports are ceilings over the market instead of floors under it.

The broad gains of a week ago which went to new highs for the season in some contracts exhausted all the push they could muster at those levels as supplies of wheat and corn particularly became more abundant.

The advances sent the market to levels about equal to government loan figures at some points and while they did not seem to have encouraged a general move toward redemptions of stocks from the loan they did attract considerably more liberal movement of grains from elevators and producers into commercial channels.

That squelched the bullishness in both corn and wheat. Oats and rye, however, added moderate gains in a steady, slow climb.

Wheat futures were ¼ cent higher to 1½ lower than a week ago, May $2.04¼-⅜; corn ⅛-⅞ lower, May $1.18⅜-½; oats ⅝-1⅛ higher, May 66¼; rye ¼-1½ higher, May $1.39½; soybeans ¼-1 cent higher, May $2.24½-⅝.

Business Briefs

OAK GROVE — Emry Franklin of Jackson, Miss., has reopened the Textile Fabric Shop in Oak Grove. The new manager is Allen Dunn of Jackson, Miss., who succeeds R. G. McDaniel of Oak Grove.

CROSSETT — T. C. Clarkson has been promoted to acting sales manager of the Crossett Chemical Company. In this capacity, he will assume the responsibility for all charcoal sales, while continuing the supervision of the marketing of chemical products.

Clarkson has been associated with Crossett Chemical Company since 1947. For the first five years, he served as a salesman in charcoal department. In 1952 he was made manager of chemical sales.

Rev. Alton F. Fleming, agency representative for the Life Insurance Company of Georgia in the Monroe area and pastor of the Holly Ridge Baptist church in Bastrop, has been designated a delegate to the company's Beach Hotel in Hollywood, Fla., April 19 through 22. From there he will go on to Cuba for another meeting.

James B. Register has been appointed a new special agent in the Sidney L. Marks Agency of the Prudential Insurance Company to serve this area. The announcement was made by Marks, manager of the agency in New Orleans.

John Porter, president of Century Concrete Products, has announced plans for a central Louisiana subsidiary called Cenla Concrete Products at Pineville. An eleven - acre site is being leased on the Marksville Road in Pineville.

The first phase will be a concrete ready mix plant, followed by a pre - stressed concrete slip-former operation which is mainly concerned with concrete housing components. Plans call for actual operation within 30 days.

C. L. Dillingham of Monroe has been elected president of the Louisiana Association of Dispensing Opticians at the annual meeting of the organization in Baton Rouge recently.

Other officers were from Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

C. E. Boudreaux, local representative of the National American Life Insurance company, said Saturday that as of March 16, 1959 his company showed a total of $100,235,308.00 of Life Insurance in force.

Boudreaux said the company began active operation in April of 1956.

Concidental to this record of growth, the company operated at a profit in its third full year of operation. A rare accomplishment in the industry.

Stocks Drop Slightly In Brisk Trade

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market this week backed away from historic highs on the biggest volume of 1959.

The key industrials were down enough on average to show a moderate loss for the list as a whole. Rails and utilities were off slightly.

In view of the upsurge to successive new peaks the week before, the market's decline this week was very much according to Hoyle. The month - to - month rise which got under way nearly a year ago has had its occasional "rest periods."

Enough blue chips lost ground in various sections of the list to put the average down but speculative interest among secondary stocks was at fever pitch and led to some wide gains.

Volume of 21,612,740 shares compared with 21,187,160 the week before. For the third straight week turnover has been the greatest since the week ended last Oct. 18 when 24,402,570 shares changed hands.

The market suffered its worst shakeout in more than a month on Monday as profits were taken on the previous week's advance. A vigorous recovery Tuesday did not quite recover all of Monday's losses. On the succeeding three days the average lost ground stubbornly in the midst of some pyrotechnics by special issues.

The U.S. Government bond market apparently withstood rather well this week the impact of the Treasury's new financing plans for four billion dollars. Corporate securities were markedly lower.

Trading for the week amounted to $35,557,500 par value on the Big Board, down from $37,888,700 the previous week, but sharply above $20,676,620 for the corresponding week a year ago.

Homemaker

Louisiana's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is 17-year-old Mildred McIntosh of Joseph Moore Davidson High School in St. Joseph.

She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills for gaining the highest score in the state on a written homemaking examination.

WEEK IN BUSINESS

Signs Of Spring Brightening The Economic Skies

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Unmistakable signs of spring upturn brightened the economic skies this week..

As winter's woes faded in the background, you could hear talk of a spring pickup in consumer buying that promised to outdo anything the economy had seen since the boom of early 1955.

Auto dealers jubilantly announced that new car sales in the first 10 days of March showed a 23 per cent increase over last year. Gains for some individual makes were much greater, running as high as 58 per cent for Ford.

Cheered by a strong upsurge in Easter buying, apparel merchants set their sights on new sales records for the key March-April period. Sales were up almost everywhere except in the storm-battered Northeast.

New testimony to the healthy state of consumer pocketbooks came from federal government statistics showing personal income of Americans at a record high last month.

Fatter Social Security checks accounted for about one-third of the increase. Also contributing to the record total were bigger payrolls in some industries and a continued heavy outpouring of corporate dividends. The result: A peak personal income rate of 364½ billion dollars a year.

Evidence of renewed consumer confidence was provided, too, by cupid and the stork. Birth and marriage rates turned up again in January after about a year of decline. More people are getting married and having more children —a sure sign, according to the experts, that confidence in the economy is on the rise.

There were signs this week that "soft" goods—a catagory that includes shoes and clothes — are getting a bigger share of the consumer's spending dollar.

Steel output surged to a record high for the third week in a row—but there were warnings that some of this business might be borrowed from the future. The spectre of a steel strike — and another round of steel price boosts — loomed ominously over the blast furnaces of Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

Looking at the economic recovery as a whole, there was no doubt but that consumers were providing most of the forward kick.

While consumer spending set new records right and left, spending by business and industry on new plant and equipment gave indication of nothing more than a slight rebound from last year's recession low. This year's estimated total — not quite 32 billion dollars — compares with 30½ billion in 1958 and 37 billion in 1957.

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 21,612,740 shares compared to 21,187,160 shares for the previous week and 11,315,880 in the same week last year.

Bond sales had a par value of $36,557,500 in the latest week against $37,888,700 the week before and $20,676,620 in the corresponding 1958 week.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production climbed to 1414 per cent of the 1947-49 average last month—just a shade below the record high of August 1957... Directors of the Texas Co. voted to change the company's name to "Texaco Inc."... U. S. farmers plan to plant or grow about 339 million acres of crops this year compared with 330 million in 1958... American Airlines said its 1958 profit was up almost 50 per cent from 1957.... A federal grand jury indicted Russian-born financier Alexander L. Guterma on stock fraud charges... Sheraton Corp. signed a contract to build a 3½ million-dollar hotel in Kingston, Jamaica.... Texas authorities ordered a further reduction in the state's allowable oil production for April.... Standard Oil Co. (N.J.) scored a record high in sales in the first two months this year....A Dutch-built car — the "DAF" — will invade the U.S. market soon. The company's North American sales manager says it will sell for less than $1,500.

Slight Gains Achieved By Cotton Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures prices followed a narrowly irregular course this week and closed in slightly higher ground. Active contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange finished with net gains ranging from 30 cents to $1 a bale.

The largest gains were scored by the nearer months which firmed on buying by traders who look for a tight supply of free cotton before the new crop comes to market. There was also some switching to the nearer months from more distant positions.

Offerings were furnished through profit taking and — in the case of the distant months — light hedge selling.

At 699,000 bales for the four weeks from Feb. 1-28, the government figure compared with a total of 688,000 bales in the preceding four weeks and 639,000 from Feb. 2 to March 1 last year.

This brought the total for the first 30 weeks of the current crop year to 4,907,000 bales vs. 4,803,000 at the same time last season.

Domestic use of cotton in February averaged 35,000 bales per day, compared with a daily rate of 34,000 the previous month and 32,000 in February 1958.

The January - to - February increase — the fifth in as many months — amounted to 1.7 per cent on a daily rate basis. This compared with an average gain of 1.1 per cent from January to February during the past five years.

The New York Cotton Exchange pointed out that if consumption from now through July follows the trend for this period during the past five years, total domestic use for the full season should approximate 8,400,000 bales against 7,973,000 in the previous crop year.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the exchange at 55,000 bales vs. 60,000 the preceding week and 167,000 in the year-ago week, bringing the season's total to 1,962,000 bales vs. 3,564,000 a year ago.

If this ratio of current to last year's exports continues, it was noted, the total this season would come to only 2,900,000 bales vs. 5,717,000 last season.

Cost Of Living In New Orleans Drops Slightly

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The cost of living in New Orleans declined slightly during February, Louisiana State University researchers said Saturday.

The LSU College of Commerce said retail prices were down 0.1 per cent compared to last November and 0.2 per cent under the same month last year.

The food index showed the most substantial declines, with meat, poultry and fish mainly responsible. Housing and house furnishings also were down slightly, but clothing, transportation and medical care were up.

Soviet Economic Planner Favors More Luxuries

MOSCOW (AP)—A staunch advocate of more washing machines, refrigerators and other consumer luxuries for the Soviet people is the Soviet Union's new top economic planner.

Dep. Premier Alexei Kosygin, 55, an expert on business management, takes over from Dep. Premier Joseph Kuzmin, whose background leans more to heavy industry and agriculture.

The significance behind the shake-up was not immediately clear, for Kuzmin, 49, was considered close to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. It could mean that Khrushchev is still facing some opposition to his drastic economic changes.

Diplomats suggested that Kuzmin, though downgraded in rank, may still have one of the big jobs in the Soviet Union's new seven-year plan. He takes over as chairman of the newly formed Scientific-Economic council.

Ike, Demos Split Over Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress's forthcoming battle over civil rights legislation was emerging Saturday as a re-play of the 1957 fight over a provision called "title three."

This year something new has been added—a split between President Eisenhower and Democratic civil rights backers over the provision.

The provision would authorize the government to start court action in behalf of individuals threatened with denial of any civil rights because of race, color, religion or national origin. It thus would let the attorney general bring civil suits in behalf of Negro youngsters in school integration cases.

The split dimmed chances that it would be included in any new civil rights legislation this year.

Leading Democratic civil rights backers call the provision "the very heart" of any new legislation. Most pro-civil-rights groups testifying at House hearings in the last three weeks have urged its inclusion.

The President, who recommended a somewhat similar provision in 1957, is opposing it this year. He has been encouraged by the breakdown of "massive resistance" to school integration in Virginia and is taking a "don't rock the boat" position.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers told both House and Senate subcommittees that government intervention in integration suits might stiffen Southern resistance and do more harm than good.

The first skirmish over title three this year probably will occur in the House Judiciary Committee. The committee approved the provision in 1957, with Republicans voting for it.

But it was doubtful whether the committee will approve the new version this year. Democratic backers concede they would need "substantial" GOP help.

The House voted for title three two years ago, but the Senate rejected it. The 1957 law, as finally passed, gave the attorney general authority to start court action to prevent denials of voting rights only.

More Women Prefer Chevrolet

Than Any Other Make!

Leave it to the ladies to recognize a real buy when they see one. And the ladies tell us - - -

THEY PREFER CHEVY STYLING
The TOTAL newness inside and out . . . the ORIGINAL beauty of Chevy's Slimline design . . . rather than a "warmed over-face lifted" '58 model.

- New Feel
- New Grace
- New Form
- New Space

THEY PREFER CHEVY SAFETY
The sturdy Body By Fisher (the world's finest) increased visibility up to 50% with Safety PLATE Glass, bigger brakes for safer, surer stops.

THEY PREFER CHEVY SERVICE
"Personalized" service from the day of purchase, through the life of the car. Never a worry — when you own a Chevy! Plus a 12 months or 12,000 miles guarantee.

THEY PREFER CHEVY ECONOMY
The low initial cost of Chevy when they buy, the high resale value when they trade . . . makes it so easy to own a new Chevy of their very own!

TAKE A TIP FROM THE LADIES — BE OUR GUEST FOR A PLEASURE TEST TODAY

Want Ad Locates Man Thought Dead For 16 Years

Mrs. Olena Ladwyszczenko and her children had been told that her husband was killed in a bombing in Vienna over 16 years ago.

Recently an ad in a Ukranian language paper in New York revealed him alive and seeking the family. Contact was quickly made, and the family was soon reunited.

TAIN'T FAIR TO PICK TINY AS YORE SUCCESSOR, ADAM LAZONGA!!
HE'S TH' ONLY BACHELOR IN DOGPATCH WHO HAIN'T EAGER TO LARN "HOW TO COURT A GAL, DOGPATCH STYLE"!!
THAT'S EXACTLY WHY HE ALONE IS QUALIFIED!! YOU'RE ALL TOO EAGER!!

ONLY THE PURE IN HEART CAN BE TRUSTED WITH MY METHOD!!
OH, AH IS PURE IN HEART, AWRIGHT—

—IN FACT AH IS PURE ALL OVER!!—BUT, AH DON'T WANTA KNOW HOW TO COURT GALS, DOGPATCH STYLE—NOR ANY STYLE!! AH IS TOO YOUNG TO APPREE-SHE-ATE 'EM!!
PRECISELY WHY YOU'RE THE PERFECT MAN TO SUCCEED ME!!

SAY GOODBYE TO YOUR CHILD, MRS. YOKUM.
IS HE G-GOIN' AWAY?

NO—BUT ONCE HE TAKES THOSE SIX LESSONS IN HOW TO WOO A GAL, DOGPATCH STYLE—

HIS LIFE WILL BE DEDICATED, JUST AS MINE WAS!!—

GUN OR NO GUN, I'M GOING TO FIND CONLEY! UH

LET HIM COOL OFF. TOMORROW WE CAN REPORT THE MISSING BOY, WHEN IT'S TOO LATE.

FOOLISH MEN! YOU TRIED TO HARM THAT BOY! YOU KNOW WHAT FATE AWAITS YOU NOW?
